

Police Chief Sweeps: Who's On First?

By LYNN MULVANEY
and
CHARLES BERMPOHL

The results of the civil service examinations taken by four men seeking the office of Kingston Police Chief are in—opening the way for a selection by the Board of Police Commissioners.

Three of Four Pass

The Freeman learned today that three of the four candidates passed the examination. According to Civil Service regulations, the selection must be made from the top three scorers meaning that the three men, who passed are all in the running.

CHARLES HOEHING

The four who took the exam are Detective Lt. Lemuel Howard, Deputy Chief Grover S.

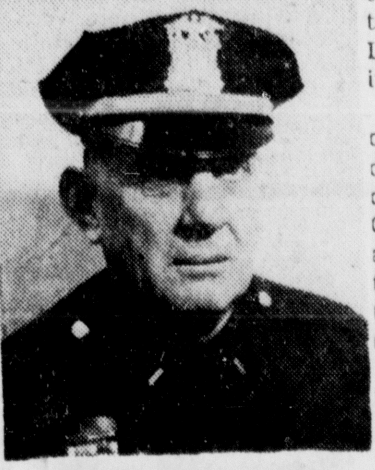

Hoffay (presently acting chief); acting Deputy Chief Charles Hoehing and Police Lt. Francis Fagan.

The vacancy at the top of the department occurred following the announced retirement Feb. 8 of Chief Robert F. Murphy. On terminal leave since then, his retirement becomes effective May 17.

In the interim Deputy Chief Hoffay is acting chief.

Hoffay took the civil service examination for chief in November of last year. All those eligible for the examination would have to be department lieutenants with more than one year in grade as a lieutenant.

Murphy, who was elevated to his post Aug. 20, 1959, has been with the department for 32 years, March 1. "Thirty-two years is a long time," Murphy said in his retirement statement. "However, I do not regret one moment of it."

A Kingston native, he came out of World War II with an outstanding record, having received the Distinguished Flying Cross for "extraordinary achievement" on many high altitude, heavy bombardment attacks over Germany and German occupied Europe.

Named a patrolman in 1936, he became a sergeant Nov. 1, 1946, gained a lieutenant Feb. 17, 1955 and was named deputy chief Dec. 26, 1957.

He served with the Air Force from 1942 to 1945. Chief Murphy has been honored by a number of civic organizations and by service leaders. In 1965 he was honored for his work with the child safety campaign in cooperation with the national Safety Council by the Loyal Order of Moose.

He also has been a member of the board of directors of the Kingston Boys Club.

Murphy recently thanked the city administration for making salary adjustments in the police department and commented on the fact that the department is at full strength today for the first time in years.

No Immediate Plans

He said he had no immediate plans for the future but will in all probability get into another field of endeavor.

He denied all reports that he might be a candidate for the nomination for county sheriff, job in law enforcement.

FRANCIS J. FAGAN

saying, "under no circumstances" would he seek another nomination for county sheriff, job in law enforcement.

Bombers Have A Field Day

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. fighter-bombers shot down two MIG-17 jets today, blasted three North Vietnamese airfields and lent a hand to U.S. Marines trying to drive diehard Communist hold-outs from the walled Citadel of Hue.

Two Air Force F4 Phantoms encountered the MIGs 30 to 40 miles northwest of Hanoi and brought them down with missiles and 20mm cannon, the Air Force said.

MIG Toll Now 110

This raised the total number of MIGs claimed downed in aerial combat in the last three years to 110, compared with 40 American warplanes lost to MIGs.

The U.S. Command said that during strikes against North Vietnam Tuesday, Air Force and Navy bombers attacked the airfield six miles southwest of Haiphong, the Bai Thuong field 70 miles south of Hanoi, and the Vinh airfield 140 miles north of the demilitarized zone.

As the battle for Hue continued into its third week, U.S. Marine jets streaked down on the former imperial capital of Vietnam to bomb, strafe and rocket an outer wall of the old Citadel behind which remnants of a North Vietnamese regiment stubbornly held out.

The jets made pass after pass, attempting to blast a path through the wall for the Leathernecks on the ground. But the North Vietnamese continued to lay down heavy barrages of fire on the Marine positions a few hundred yards away.

Interior Off Limits

The interior area held by the Communists apparently was still off limits to the U.S. fliers because it contained historic 19th century monuments and the imperial throne room.

A senior U.S. officer said the North Vietnamese holed up in the Citadel were believed running low on ammunition and other supplies. He said they apparently had managed to hold out this long by getting supplies at night from the nearby north bank of the Perfume River.

The Air Force also announced it is investigating reports of "friendly casualties" when half the bombs dropped Tuesday by

U.S. Plane Shot Down Off Hainan

WASHINGTON (AP) — An American Navy plane has been shot down off Red China's Hainan Island government sources said today.

An official announcement of the incident, which apparently took place Feb. 13, close to the Chinese island across the Tonkin Gulf from Vietnam, was expected shortly.

According to preliminary information:

Two U.S. Navy A1 propeller craft were flying from Subic Bay in the Philippines to the aircraft carrier Coral Sea.

The U.S. planes inadvertently flew, because of navigational problems, within five miles of the Hainan coast. Communist China claims its territorial waters extend 12 miles offshore.

Red Chinese air force craft attacked the two U.S. planes. One escaped to Danang, the U.S. Marine Base in South Vietnam. The pilot who got to Danang reported the other Navy plane was apparently hit and had gone into a vertical dive. He added he had seen a parachute open.

Garbage Woes Dumped Back on Lindsay Lap

By BOB MONROE

NEW YORK (AP) — The garbage crisis comes full circle today as Mayor John V. Lindsay and the sanitation union sent negotiators back to the bargaining table for new efforts at reaching a permanent contract settlement.

Rocky, Solons Fail

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and legislative leaders were unable Tuesday to break the deadlock over his mandated end to New York City's nine-day garbage strike and turned to Lindsay for help—as he had turned to the state six days earlier.

Lindsay insisted, however, in a telegram to the leaders sent from Buffalo, that New York sanitationmen remain on the job and that the legislators withhold approval of the governor's planned state takeover of city sanitation facilities.

After two days of fruitless effort to win Senate Republican support for the plan by which Rockefeller ended the critical strike, the leaders decided late Tuesday to ask Lindsay to take another whack at forging his own settlement with the sanitationmen.

Calendar Kept Clear

Concern over the city problem forced the Legislature to keep its calendar clear today of all but the most routine business. The Senate even put off action on a Republican majority plan that would cut state and local Medicaid costs by an estimated $322 million in the next fiscal year.

With the garbage problem dumped back into Lindsay's lap, the lawmakers managed, however, to focus some attention briefly on other matters.

They received Tuesday, for example, a recommendation by a special committee that they delay until late spring, at least, any move to repeal the Blaine Amendment.

A committee of 1967 Constitutional Convention delegates appointed by Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia backed his view that the question of repealing the state constitutional ban on state aid to church-connected schools be put off until after the Supreme Court has ruled on the issue.

Expect April Decision

Travia and others expect a decision sometime in April on the validity of the state Textbook Loan Law, which requires public school districts to provide books for parochial schools.

The legislative leaders appealed to Lindsay to make a re-entry into the garbage picture after Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges found himself far short of the Republican votes needed to put the governor's plan across.

Republicans grumbled that the governor's move represented a surrender to union blackmail and intruded on local control over a municipal problem.

Democrats continued to insist they would back the governor's plan, but only on the condition that the Republican-ruled Senate take action first.

In the telegram sent by Brydges, Travia, Assembly Minority Leader Perry B. Duryea Jr. and Senate Minority Leader Joseph Zaretzki, the leaders said:

"Everyone agrees, however, that the interests of responsible government require that a permanent solution be developed by those local officials who have the primary responsibility under the law."

Lindsay shot back a telegram in which he accepted the task and said:

"An alternative to the proposed legislation and a possible permanent solution of the labor dispute would be the return by the parties to collective bargaining in good faith, or to fact finding."

"If the legislation is deferred, the cleanup continues and the union agrees, I will direct the city negotiators to enter into direct negotiations with the union forthwith."

The mayor's response left many lawmakers hopeful that they would not have to deal with the problem for the remainder of this week — or any longer at all if the mayor works out a solution locally.

25 Years Possible ForDunn

Convicted Tuesday night on all counts of an indictment in connection with the attempted murder of a Plattekill man last March 31, Donald A. Dunn, 34, of Newburgh, faces a maximum prison sentence up to 25 years.

Dunn will be sentenced by County Judge Raymond J. Mino at 11 a. m. on Feb. 21. After the jury reached the guilty verdict, Dunn was remanded to jail without bail pending sentencing.

Judge Mino delivered his charge to the jury for more than an hour yesterday afternoon before the jurors retired to their conference room.

Deliberate Seven Hours

After deliberating about seven hours, the jury reported to the Court that it found the defendant guilty of all counts of the indictment including attempted murder, first degree; assault second degree (two counts) and conspiracy, a felony. The jury was excused at about 9:30 p. m.

Testimony at the trial charged that Elmer Strickland, 49, returned to his Plattekill home at about 9 p. m. on Friday, March 31, 1967 and as he entered a door in the darkness he was met by a shotgun blast, which authorities said was fired by Dunn from a 12-gauge shotgun. As Strickland turned to flee a second blast was fired in his direction.

Subsequent investigation by State Police BCI officers led to the apprehension of Dunn and the intended victim's wife, Lorraine, 38, about 16 hours after the shooting incident.

Mrs. Strickland was later released and her case was reportedly referred to Ulster County Family Court.

At the trial, Strickland's son, Eddie, 21, through his testimony placed his mother and Dunn and a pump gun in his mother's car at 12:15 a. m. on the night of the shooting.

The guilty verdict was reported to Judge Mino about seven hours after the case went to the jury, despite the impassioned plea of defense attorney Hubert A. Richter who stressed the importance to the jury that the defendant's constitutional rights, while in the custody of State Police, must be preserved and protected despite their convictions of his guilt or innocence of the charges.

Cites Miranda Case

In his opening statement to the jury at the start of the trial nearly a week ago, Richter, who is Kingston city judge, explained the ramifications and legalities of the Miranda case. He stressed the fact that under the Supreme Court decision in that case, a suspect in custody has the right to remain silent and this fact must be pointed out to the defendant by law enforcement officers involved in the case.

In his summation yesterday, Richter again stressed to the jurors that the defendant had never been told by state police investigators that he could remain silent even though he was shown what is known as "the Miranda card" which states that anything he says may be used as evidence against him.

Assistant District Attorney Philip W. Schunk of Highland prosecuted the case for the People.

Building And Trailar Hit By Fire

By WALTER S. CLARK JR.

A large wood frame 1½-story building formerly occupied as a recreation hall in West Saugerties was razed by flames early today, and a mobile home trailer in Glenelg Lake Park was destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon.

After the trailer fire made the family of James Templeton homeless, an appeal was made by Ulster Hose Co. for clothing all of their personal belongings in the blaze.

The building on the West Saugerties - Woodstock Road was part of the estate of the late Jacob Rogers. Fire officials said the structure was completely engulfed in flames when the fire was discovered by a woman resident of West Saugerties shortly after 1 a. m. Fire officials were notified.

40 Battle Flames

Centerville fire units in command of Chief Edward Ricks and Assistant Chief Thomas Brennan responded to the alarm, and Cedar Grove fire company was dispatched to the scene to assist. Chief Ricks, who lives more than three miles away said, "when I left my home I could see the relection of the fire — it was right up in the air."

Chief Ricks said when the first fire units arrived firemen found the building completely involved in flames. About 40 volunteers from the two districts battled the flames. The building was formerly used as a recreation hall with a dance hall, bowling alleys and other facilities.

Ricks said the cause of the blaze was not determined.

At 3:05 p. m. Tuesday, Ulster Hose Company was dispatched to Glenelg Lake Park, after fire broke out in the trailer home of the Templeton family. A fire official said one end of the interior of the trailer was involved in flames when firemen arrived.

Through mutual aid Chief William Williams, who directed 20 volunteers at the scene with Lt. James Williams, called for assistance and Ruby-Mt. Marion firemen responded with a tank truck. A pumper from the latter company was on standby status at Station 1.

Three pumps, a tanker and emergency truck from Ulster Fire District, answered the alarm and firemen used four 1½-inch hoses and a booster line to combat the flames that destroyed the trailer home. The heat inside the building was so intense it melted a child's toy horse which had not been reached by the fire.

Fire units returned to their stations at 5:45 p. m. Fire officials said the fire started while attempts were being made to thaw a frozen water pipe.

An appeal for clothing for two boys, aged 2 and 7 and an 8-year-old girl made homeless by the blaze, was made. Anyone wishing to donate clothes may call Lawrence Bigando at his home on Cascades Drive, Whittier.

Congress, in 1958, provided lifetime pensions of $25,000 a year for ex-presidents.

ABDUCTED—Diane Buckson, 15, was abducted by a white man early Tuesday while waiting for a school bus near her home. A sister, Gracie, witnessed the kidnapping and gave police a partial description. The kidnapping took place near the scene where police found the bodies of two slain women last week. Police believe there is a connection between the kidnapping and the slain women. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Will Demand Resignations At Stony Brook

NEW YORK (AP) — A member of the Joint Legislative Committee on Crime says he will demand the resignations of the president, the dean of students and other staff members at the State University's campus at Stony Brook—the target of narcotics investigations.

The legislator, State Sen. Abraham Bernstein, D-Bronx, said Tuesday that Dr. John S. Toll, president of the Long Island college; David Tilley, the dean of students; and other staff members whom he did not identify had been "neglectful" in their duty.

Bernstein said he would demand the resignations at the windup today of the legislative committee's fifth and final day of hearings here on the drug situation at Stony Brook.

McCarthy Group Pens Resolutions

The recently organized Coalition for a Democratic Alternative passed a resolution at its meeting in Woodstock last night calling for a tabling of a resolution slated for introduction at a Democratic State Committee meeting in Buffalo today.

CDA branches in the Kingston-Woodstock Saugerties and New Paltz areas were unanimous in opposing the Resnick-Gorman inspired resolution asking the State Committee's endorsement of President Johnson for renomination and reelection specifically in terms of his course of action in Vietnam.

The local CDA resolution, forwarded in a telegram to the State Committee in care of State Chairman John Burns, noted that the adoption of a resolution by the committee endorsing Johnson prior to the 1968 New York State Primary Election would be an "unseemly interference with the free expression of the registered voters as contemplated by the New York State Primary Law."

The Ulster County Committee of the Coalition for a Democratic Alternative resolution also strongly urged that the contents of the telegrammed resolution "be communicated in writing as expeditiously as possible to both Burns and Dr. Gorman."

Tuesday night's meeting in Woodstock, attended by more than 50 persons, also saw the election of officers for the regional branch of the CDA. Officers named included the following:

Theodore E. Geertsema, of Woodstock, permanent chairman; attorney William Mullaney, of Kingston, law chairman; Sylvia Elias, of Woodstock, treasurer; Mary Rathgeber, of Zena, secretary; Peter Rakov, of Woodstock, fund raising chairman; and Tobie Geertsema, of Woodstock, publicity chairman.

Said Geertsema, in a statement aimed at the regular Democratic organization in the county: "We intend to elect three delegates from the 28th Congressional District to go to the national Democratic convention in Chicago this August. We will elect them on Primary Day of this year and they will be totally and completely committed to Sen. Eugene McCarthy."

The new permanent chairman also made it clear that should

McCarthy, for any reason, release delegates committed to him, any CDA delegates attending the national convention from this district "would vote for the person McCarthy selects or suggests—but, at no time, will they ever vote for Johnson."

Building And Trailer Hit By Fire

By WALTER S. CLARK JR.

A large wood frame 1½-story building formerly occupied as a recreation hall in West Saugerties was razed by flames early today, and a mobile home trailer in Glenelg Lake Park was destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon.

After the trailer fire made the family of James Templeton homeless, an appeal was made by Ulster Hose Co. for clothing and their personal belongings in the blaze.

The building on the West Saugerties - Woodstock Road was part of the estate of the late Jacob Rogers. Fire officials said the structure was completely engulfed in flames when the fire was discovered by a woman resident of West Saugerties shortly after 1 a. m. Fire officials were notified.

40 Battle Flames

Centerville fire units in command of Chief Edward Ricks and Assistant Chief Thomas Brennan responded to the alarm, and Cedar Grove fire company was dispatched to the scene to assist Chief Ricks, who lives more than three miles away said, "when I left my home I could see the re-fection of the fire — it was right up in the air."

Chief Ricks said when the first fire units arrived firemen found the building completely involved in flames. About 40 volunteers from the two districts battled the flames. The building was formerly used as a recreation hall with a dance hall, bowling alleys and other facilities.

Ricks said the cause of the blaze was not determined.

At 3:05 p. m. Tuesday, Ulster Hose Company was dispatched to Glenelg Lake Park, after fire broke out in the trailer home of the Templeton family. A fire official said one end of the interior of the trailer was involved in flames when firemen arrived.

Through mutual aid Chief William Williams, who directed 20 volunteers at the scene with Lt. James Williams, called for assistance and Ruby Mt. Marion firemen responded with a tank truck. A pumper from the latter company was on standby status at Station 1.

Three pumpers, a tanker and emergency truck from Ulster Fire District, answered the alarm and firemen used four 1½-inch hoses and a booster line to combat the flames that destroyed the trailer home. The heat inside the building was so intense it melted a child's toy horse which had not been reached by the fire.

Fire units returned to their stations at 5:45 p. m. Fire officials said the fire started while attempts were being made to thaw a frozen water pipe.

An appeal for clothing for two boys, aged 2 and 7 and an 8-year-old girl made homeless by the blaze, was made. Anyone wishing to donate clothes may call Lawrence Bigando at his home on Cascades Drive, Whittier.

Congress, in 1958, provided lifetime pensions of $25,000 a year for ex-presidents.

ABDUCTED—Diane Buckson, 15, was abducted by a white man early Tuesday while waiting for a school bus near her home. A sister, Gracie, witnessed the kidnapping and gave police a partial description. The kidnapping took place near the scene where police found the bodies of two slain women last week. Police believe there is a connection between the kidnapping and the slain women. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Will Demand Resignations At Stony Brook

NEW YORK (AP) — A member of the Joint Legislative Committee on Crime says he will demand the resignations of the president, the dean of students and other staff members at the State University's campus at Stony Brook—the target of narcotics investigations.

The legislator, State Sen. Abraham Bernstein, D-Bronx, said Tuesday that Dr. John S. Toll, president of the Long Island college; David Tilley, the dean of students; and other staff members whom he did not identify had been "neglectful" in their duty.

Bernstein said he would demand the resignations at the windup today of the legislative committee's fifth and final day of hearings here on the drug situation at Stony Brook.

McCarthy Group Pens Resolutions

The recently organized Coalition for a Democratic Alternative passed a resolution at its meeting in Woodstock last night calling for a tabling of a resolution slated for introduction at a Democratic State Committee meeting in Buffalo today.

CDA branches in the Kingston-Woodstock Saugerties and New Paltz areas were unanimous in opposing the Resnick-Gorman inspired resolution asking the State Committee's endorsement of President Johnson for renomination and reelection specifically in terms of his course of action in Vietnam.

The local CDA resolution, forwarded in a telegram to the State Committee in care of State Chairman John Burns, noted that the adoption of a resolution by the committee endorsing Johnson prior to the 1968 New York State Primary Election would be an "unseemly interference with the free expression of the registered voters as contemplated by the New York State Primary Law."

The Ulster County Committee of the Coalition for a Democratic Alternative resolution also strongly urged that the contents of the telegrammed resolution "be communicated in writing as expeditiously as possible to both Burns and Dr. Gorman."

Tuesday night's meeting in Woodstock, attended by more than 50 persons, also saw the election of officers for the regional branch of the CDA. Officers named included the following:

Theodore E. Geertsema, of Woodstock, permanent chairman; attorney William Mul-

Said Geertsema, in a statement aimed at the regular Democratic organization in the county: "We intend to elect three delegates from the 28th Congressional District to go to the national Democratic convention in Chicago this August. We will elect them on Primary Day of this year and they will be totally and completely committed to Sen. Eugene McCarthy." The new permanent chairman also made it clear that should McCarthy, for any reason, release delegates committed to him, any CDA delegates attending the national convention from this district "would vote for the person McCarthy selects or suggests—but, at no time, will they ever vote for Johnson."

Three Apollo Shots Possible

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Recent successes in America's man-to-the moon drive may permit the space agency to squeeze in three manned Apollo flights this year, with the first launch perhaps two months sooner than scheduled.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration's announced schedule calls for astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr., Donn F. Eisele and Walter Cunningham to ride the first manned Apollo moonship into earth orbit in the "last quarter" of this year, meaning no sooner than October.

Unofficially, however, sources say the flight could occur much earlier, perhaps August. They point out that current schedules call for the spacecraft to arrive at Cape Kennedy toward the end of March. The planned launch preparation time is about four months.

The success of America's second Saturn 5 superrocket launching, now scheduled for mission.

March 21, plus some key administrative decisions to be made in the next few weeks by NASA planners will determine whether the Schirra-commanded mission is in fact moved up and whether two manned Saturn 5 flights are attempted this year.

Navy Capt. Schirra, Air Force Maj. Eisele and Cunningham, a civilian, will be orbited by a Saturn 1 rocket, a smaller booster than the Saturn 5 which will be used to launch men to the moon.

The official schedule now includes another Saturn 1 launching this spring for a second unmanned test of a lunar module, the craft that will ferry astronauts between the moon's surface and an Apollo command ship in lunar orbit.

Although a decision is not expected until March, most experts now agree that the first lunar module test last Jan. 22 was so successful that a second unmanned flight will not be necessary, permitting launch crews to concentrate on the Schirra mission.

PARTIAL VICTORY — Senate aide Robert I. Schramm claimed a partial victory Tuesday in his effort to force Chief Justice Earl Warren to clean up a litter-filled lot behind the Supreme Court's gleaming marble building on Capitol Hill. The lot is adjacent to Schramm's home and he filed a suit in the U. S. District Court. Schramm, shown standing on his lot reported that workmen cleared away a pile of beer cans Tuesday. No Conspiracy, Riot Panel View

WASHINGTON (AP) — The from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover. In the six months since President's Commission on Civil Disorders is reportedly moving toward the conclusion that last summer's urban riots were spontaneous—not the result of a conspiracy.

Unless new evidence is unearthed within the next few weeks, commission sources said that will be a major point in the panel's final report, now being written for release about March 1. Another section will make urgent recommendations on steps to prevent disorders.

"In each case we found agitation before, during and after the riots, but not any planned conspiracy," one official said. "As far as we can tell, all broke out spontaneously."

"That part of our investigation is proceeding right up to the last moment." Thus far, the commission's findings correspond with testimony it received last August third segment—prevention.

"That's why our investigation is proceeding right up to the last moment."

Thus far, the commission's findings correspond with testimony it received last August.

One investigator reported he encountered, in quiet visits to several urban areas, individual agitators "who like to claim credit for disturbances they had in their cities. But they really can't."

The 11-member panel was appointed by President Johnson last July 9 to investigate the causes of riots that scarred Detroit, Newark and other cities and to recommend preventative action.

The first two sections of the report—what happened and why—are virtually complete, sources said, and members "are down to the nitty-gritty, the real tough decisions" on the third segment—prevention.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, FEBRUARY 14, 1968

Three-Day Holidays

The New York State Assembly has voted to move to Monday five holidays when they fall on days other than Friday. The three-day weekends would be observed on Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays, Memorial Day, Independence Day and Veterans Day.

This may sound as heresy to some traditionalist groups, but not to a growing number of people who support the idea of uniform Monday holidays.

Most businessmen say the change would help their production and work schedules by avoiding the stop-start interruptions caused by midweek holidays.

The objective of the change is to provide longer leisure periods, but those opposed claim that extending weekends to three days would cause more traffic accidents than one-day midweek holidays.

Various studies show that sometimes this is true, sometimes not. Traffic fatalities during nonholiday weekends often exceed those of holiday weekends.

The National Safety Council has stated that from a traffic viewpoint highway deaths provide no argument for or against Monday holidays.

The idea of uniform Monday holidays is not a new one, but the momentum behind it is building. Currently there are four legislative proposals before Congress.

As the commercial and financial capital of the nation, New York's action could create a chain reaction that eventually could be nationwide, but in the meantime there would be great confusion. The change on a national scale would be far more beneficial than having New York go it alone. The experience with daylight saving time before it was widely adopted bears this out.

Rug Pulled Again

On Jan. 26, American U.N. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg stood before the United Nations Security Council and unequivocally stated that the Pueblo had never been in North Korean waters. He said he wanted to lay at rest any reports to the contrary. Couldn't be a denial much stronger than that, could there? It stated the U.S. position, loud and clear. One week later, on Feb. 4, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Defense Secretary Robert McNamara jointly said they could not guarantee that the ship had not strayed into North Korean territorial waters. Another credibility gap? That's for sure!

Two members of President Johnson's inner circle pulled the rug out from another of that group, which is bad enough, but worse, it left the American people with another enigma they are left to try to unravel themselves: Did the Pueblo violate North Korea's sovereignty? It is understandable that the Administration may not be sure, one way or the other at this point, but why, if such is the case, was it so vehement in the position it had Mr. Goldberg take? If it wasn't sure on Feb. 4, surely it couldn't be on Jan. 26.

It is these bumbles, piling up on top of each other, that are making patriotic Americans distrust their government, not because of the inherent distrust the average person has for politicians, but for a reason that goes far deeper. They feel the suppressions, lies and half-truths are endangering the welfare of the country. And well this could be.

While the Johnson Administration has piled up an unenviable record of credibility gaps, it must be said that they did not begin with that regime. In fact, during the administration of John F. Kennedy the late Adlai Stevenson, then our U.N. Ambassador, was given a report to deliver at the U.N. Security Council that was untrue. It dealt with the action of U.S. B26s during the Cuban Bay Of Pigs fiasco. Mr. Stevenson believed he was stating a truth, just as undoubtedly Mr. Goldberg did.

Why is Washington, of late years, withholding or sugar coating the news? There are two lines of reasoning: (1) a natural desire to cover up one's mistakes, (2) that the people can't take bad news. In either case, it's wrong, since the truth generally comes out eventually. The sum total is that our government looks stupid before the eyes of the world and public distrust grows deeper.

On his return from Saigon, Henrik Beer, secretary general of the League of Red Cross Societies, made a serious charge. In a national broadcast from Stockholm, Beer said the Americans and South Vietnamese are fighting a "9 to 5 war" after dark they calmly sit back and let the Vietcong take over. If true, it could explain the recent penetration of Saigon and other cities by the enemy.

Here is a wonderful idea for senior citizens, who find it hard to get around. Private bus companies in Nassau County plan to transport the elderly door-to-door to clubs for the elderly at nominal fees. It should provide recreation and companionship for people dependent now on volunteers, car pools and taxis, the latter for the few who can afford it.

Playing Hard-to-Get

Viet Similarity Seen With Philippine War

WASHINGTON—Of repeated is the comment that times are worse today than ever before. But are they? Even the Vietnam war, which is supposed to be unprecedented—a conflict of a kind in which the United States allegedly has never before participated—isn't really a novelty in American history.

There was, for example, the guerrilla warfare which raged in the Philippines from December 1899 until April 1902, when 70,000 American troops were engaged in putting down a Filipino uprising after the islands were ceded to the United States following the Spanish-American War.

This happened thousands of miles from this country—in fact, it was the farthest away from our own territory that any American military force had gone up to that time. Was it all worthwhile? Did any good results flow from it?

The analogy between developments with respect to the Philippines and what is occurring now in Vietnam can be vividly recalled by persons who lived in the early days of the century. Many others have been told by their parents about those agonizing years. The conflict was as unpopular then as the war in Vietnam is today. All sorts of organizations inside the United States were opposed to America's presence in the Philippines. Indeed, the United States was accused by various groups within its own borders of having yielded to imperialism.

But what has taken place since the guerrilla warfare ended in 1902—the evolution of an independent nation after many years of financial and military support by the United States—is an example of altruism unequalled throughout the world by any other power. The United States helped the Filipino people in the fields of education, agriculture, law, government, industry and public health. America contributed billions of dollars to the development of the Philippines, enabling the people to obtain materials and machinery for transportation and for industrial growth.

It took several decades for the Philippines to become independent, but, as the history books show, the islands constitute today an example of a successful conversion of a colonial people in Asia into an autonomous democracy.

When the United States attacked at Pearl Harbor in 1941 by Japan, the Philippines became a key factor in the American strategy for waging the war in the Pacific. The Japanese later occupied principal points in the islands, but they were driven out by American forces. The Philippines, as a military base, was an essential element in the ultimate victory by the United States over Japan.

Since the Philippines became an independent country on July 4, 1946, its government has cooperated with the United Nations and the free world, and joined in the formation of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization in 1954. Today Filipino troops are fighting alongside Americans in Vietnam.

America's experience with the Philippines demonstrates that an independent nation capable of self-government cannot be set up overnight. The United States could eventually reconstruct Vietnam, too. If the North and South were reunited, economic aid could be extended that would transform a primitive nation into a modern environment in which the people could enjoy the fruits of true independence.

It may be asked by the critics why it was that the duty of the United States to rescue the Filipinos from internal chaos, and now the Vietnamese from Communist aggression. The answer is that no international organization has yet been established which is willing to do the job. Until a formula of that kind becomes effective, Communist imperialism will take over the smaller countries, and will, in due time, spread its power so that American interests will be adversely affected in the Philippines and Australia, as well as in Southeast Asia. In fact, the ill effects of Communist infiltration in the Philippines have bobbed up again and again ever since World War II.

The Vietnam war is as unpopular inside the United States now as the guerrilla war in the Philippines was at the start of the century. The American people, however, sought then, as they are doing today, to help other countries to gain autonomy just as some European countries assisted the American colonies in the 1770s to win their revolution and achieve complete independence.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

Fashion is a game too subtle to be left in the hands of the players. Plumage is important. It is big business. So big, in fact, that billions and billions of dollars are spent annually on gowns, suits, sports attire, shoes, hats and lingerie. Some of it, so to speak, down the drain.

Women's fashions, I am convinced, are designed by men who despise women. No once could accidentally make the divine female form look like a chest with the drawers out. It's enough to drive many of the men back to their wives.

The ladies can wear any infamous design in any range of hues and walk out in public safe from arrest. No one laughs. No one dares. If the wearer sees pedestrians giving her a second or third look, she feels sure that she's now on the right track. Ever take a look at the human leg in wedgies?

Men, on the other hand, are confined to a uniform that consists of yard or bolt goods and comes in stripes or without stripes, and ranges from a dusty black to a beige. The uniform design is a jacket and a pair of trousers. To get away from the uniform, a man has to buy a set of golf clubs. Then he puts his chubby body into a flaming basket-weave sweater with canary yellow slacks, topped off with lavender suede shoes.

Ergo: men do not know how to dress. They all yelp "I know what I like" but they require counsel. The first time

I went to a black tie affair and saw a turtle-neck sweater, it was worn by Irving Cowan. I thought he was in the Golden Gloves. I looked around. Only I and the waiters had black ties.

Even formal wear is prescribed and confining. At a ball, all the men look like penguins with high blood pressure. All the ladies look as though they are ready for bed. You know they're not, because the curlers are missing. They must be awake.

Two weeks ago, a men's fashion wear group awarded a best dressed accolade to General William Westmoreland. That's the nadir, kiddies. Best dressed? A general in uniform? Ah, no. Why not give one to the bouncer at the Pier Six Clubhouse? Hang a sewer plate on Ed Norton for the latest in hats.

The men are going to have to band together to get better dresswear. Let's face it—we're drab. With black pin-stripe suit, how about a double-breasted vest in pale gray? Let's have a little piping on some of those packs. We need more silk ties in solid colors. How about a white wrap-around collar with no tie? Half inch white cuffs for suit jackets—detachable, of course.

What wrong with a jacket buttoned up the back? Except, of course, when the cop asks to see your license. And then there is always—no, that's too far out. Men should wear hats, but the hat trade permits them to walk bald in a blizzard. This makes a man look like a roll-on deodorant.

No one cares, I guess, how men dress. I do. I like to dress. But my shoe department is all black. There is no choice of color. The sports section consists of some Hawaiian shorts, white sneakers, and colored slacks. I trooped out of the bedroom this morning and noticed that Miss Millicent Harrison, our housekeeper, kept peeking at me from the kitchen.

I was wearing white sneakers, white slacks, a white turtle neck, and a white jacket. With the snow white hair I looked like Dr. Kildare's father—and what's wrong with that? She asked me for a couple of aspirin.

The people who should be worrying about these things are on the board of directors of the Men's Fashion Institute. The least they can do is start a trend each year. Bob Considine will go for a zebra sweat shirt. Johnny Carson can make it in a Buster Brown collar. Dean Martin likes plaid—scotch, of course—with an inverted shot glass for a hat.

George Romney might be persuaded to try on a suit with double-breasted, adorned with Dewey buttons. Lyndon—ah, who's looking for miracles?

Candidly, I glance across my closet and the suits all look alike. Now and then, when we invite friends over, I study the men and realize that they couldn't detect their closets from mine. Clothiers of America unite. You have nothing to lose but your pants...

Drew Pearson Says Rusk Plays It Cool With Congressional Quizzers

WASHINGTON—At a recent closed-door meeting with House members, Secretary of State Rusk was tight-lipped about details of the negotiations with North Korea for the return of the Pueblo. He even hedged on questions regarding our strained relations with South Korea.

Rep. Sam Stratton, D-N.Y., tried to draw him out on the latter.

"It has been my impression," he said, "that the South Koreans are among our best friends, if not the best, in Asia. In view of the hard feelings over our alleged failure to make stronger protests about North Korean infiltrations, what are we doing to improve relations with South Korea?"

Rusk thought it over for a while, then replied with a smile: "Well, you know that South Korea has been called the Ireland of the Far East." The significance of this was not clear to Rusk's audience, but Rep. Richard McCarthy, D-N.Y., an Irishman, tried to interpret what the Secretary meant.

"You know what they say about the Irish," interposed McCarthy. "They say that the Irish don't know what they want, but are willing to fight for it. Perhaps the South Koreans are equally independent and aggressive."

Rusk just nodded and grinned.

When someone asked what Rusk thought about Sen. Teddy Kennedy's speech regarding "corruption in Saigon," he drawled:

Now, you wouldn't expect Saigon to be as clean as Boston, would you?"

Hate Debate

Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Ohio, was holding a public debate on racial problems with Prof. Harry Edwards of San Jose College, organizer of the Negro boycott of the Olympics.

"Do you hate white people?" asked the Ohio Congressman.

"I'm too busy being in love with me, myself, and my people," replied the Black Power advocate.

"Now we've got your priorities," shot back Hays. "First comes him, second himself, next his people. That's the way with most of these agitators."

Champion of Consumer

The fact that Congresswoman Lenore Sullivan of St. Louis always wanted children had a lot to do with the fact that American housewives who buy on the installment plan will be paying less. At least they will know exactly what they are paying, which they don't today.

It was Mrs. Sullivan, D-Mo., who put all her restless energy which otherwise would have been devoted to children behind the passage of the Truth-in-Lending Act. She carried on after Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois, who had battled for the bill since 1960, was defeated.

For years both have argued that American consumers have a right to know the truth about the interest rates they paid on goods sold on credit. They have a right to know, for instance, that the alluring "1.5 per cent a month" interest with which many stores advertise their "revolving credit" actually comes out to 18 per cent a year. They also have a right to be protected from garnishment of wages when they fall behind with payments. Many a struggling housewife has suddenly found her husband's wages cut off without notice because a heavy installment payment has not been met.

Mrs. Sullivan got into Congress by accident. But it's no accident that she has stayed there. Her husband, a Democratic Congressman from St. Louis, died 17 years ago, and somewhat reluctantly she decided to fill his shoes.

"I'm not a gal who believes in outside careers for married women with children. It's too hard to run the family. When I was married, I wanted 12 children but got none. I guess the Lord wanted it that way. I'm giving my all for the children instead of for the children which never came."

"It was the toughest battle I've ever been in," Mrs. Sullivan said, referring to the truth-in-lending legislative battle.

livan said, referring to the truth-in-lending legislative battle.

Opposition came chiefly from retailers and department stores. The American Bankers Association was for it. At the last minute two retail giants, Spiegel and Montgomery Ward, agreed to accept the bill. This broke the ice.

After it was all over, Mrs. Sullivan was showered with victory congratulations. But the one she is proudest of came from the bill's original author, ex-Sen. Paul Douglas, who wrote: "God bless you, dear lady, for your work and bravery. It could not have been done without you. There are millions who will rise up and call you blessed."

Note: When Mrs. Sullivan was first elected to Congress in 1952, there were 17 women members of Congress. In the 16 years that have passed, the number has diminished to only 11. This, she says, is not progress.

Abe Lincoln vs. Dixiecrats

Republican Congressmen will come back from commemorating Lincoln's Birthday to find themselves very much on the spot regarding the naming of a veterans hospital in Jackson, Miss.

Dixiecrats, with whom the Republicans have a voting alliance to block LBJ's legislative program, want to name the hospital for John Rankin, one of the most rabble-rousing racists ever to pound a posium in Mississippi. But Rep. Jonathan Bingham, D-N.Y., is introducing a bill to name it for Medgar Evers, who headed the Mississippi NAACP until he was shot and killed from ambush.

The name of Evers, a Negro, has become a legend in the civil rights world, and the name Rankin is something of a legend in the anti-civil rights world.

Republican Congressmen will have to choose between them. The choice will not be easy. For it will be between Abraham Lincoln, whose birthday and principles they have just been celebrating, and the Southern Democrats whose support they need in obstructing the Johnson program.

Henry J. Taylor Says

Why Are We Always Victims of Surprise?

North Korea's hijacking of our intelligence ship Pueblo, like the Israeli bombing of our similar ship, the Liberty, during the Egyptian war, raises the question as to why, with all we do in the intelligence field, we're so constantly the victim of surprise, surprise, surprise.

The function of intelligence is to keep us from being surprised. Incredibly, Washington is spending at least $4 billion a year for intelligence. What's wrong?

Castro surprised Washington at the Bay of Pigs, the Soviet's Cuban missile installations were a surprise, the Berlin Wall was a Red attack on the Dominican Republic and the Zanzibar takeover were surprises, and the whole Vietnam war has been one endless surprise after another. Why?

On November 29, 1965, while we were being told that all was well, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara stated: "I must say I was surprised by the intensity and scale of the Viet Cong attacks." Now, more than two years later, Washington is admittedly still surprised by the same unexpected intensity and capability in the attacks on Saigon and 20 additional cities.

The Central Intelligence Agency's current budget (secret) is certainly around $1 1/2 billion a year, according to the official findings of the House Armed Services Committee. The CIA alone is larger than the State Department and spends more than twice as much money. Its Langley, Va., headquarters cost $46 million. About 10,000 people work there in intelligence. At least another

5,000 are scattered throughout the world, burrowing everywhere for intelligence. And this should make the taxpayers wonder what's happened to the CIA's official contents.

CIA Deputy Director L. K. White testified to the House Appropriations Committee in 1956 that its $46 million building headquarters would "put things under one roof" and save $600,000 a year. Well, now still another CIA building ("No. 213") has arisen behind the scenes at the Naval Gun Factory in southeast Washington at the cost of another $10 million. And surprise, surprise, the CIA now has branch offices in Denver, Detroit, Houston, Miami, Minneapolis, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, San Francisco, Seattle, etc., although the CIA is supposed to concern itself with foreign intelligence whereas the U.S.A. is the domain of the FBI. The only blessing is that CIA Director Richard Helms is a very able man, but, as Tiny Tim said, "There's never been such a squash."

In addition, the competing agencies are too many and enormous for me to expect you to believe the facts. Actually, there were recently in Berlin alone at least 40 known U.S. intelligence agencies and their branches—competing.

The CIA was founded to eliminate the dangerous compartmentalization and duplication. But the Pueblo, for example, wasn't operated by the CIA entirely. It was controlled by the Bush-Hughes National Security Agency, a separate, immense group that grows inside still another other gigantic building in Washington's suburbs.

This is a sprawling, secret adjunct of the U.S. Army and Navy and both the NSA and CIA spend much time wondering what each other is doing. Beyond this Mr. McNamara somehow built an additional large intelligence structure within his own office that reported only to him and competed behind the scenes in Vietnam and elsewhere with the NSA and CIA alike. This, of course, is one of the first things incoming Defense Secretary Clark Clifford should abandon.

We simply cannot afford, nor should we put up with the surprises, surprises, surprises that result. It is absolutely imperative to condense the fog in Washington's cuckoo-land intelligence cloud into an efficient rain. The overlapping and mutually jealous agencies are loaded with empire builders. In the field where the country's un-sung heroes daily risk their lives in espionage they are terribly snafued by the tremendous bureaucracy here at home. And many whom I know well are likewise disgusted by the special McNamara agents who materialize majestically like Sherlock Holmes' "Baker Street Irregulars" whenever odd chores beckon and Mr. McNamara thought there was a job to be done.

The hour is late and the danger great. Washington cannot endlessly postpone the streamlining and reforming of the sick intelligence elephant that threatens our security and our lives with surprise, surprise, surprise. (Copyright, 1968, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Romney Won't Step Aside

By WALTER R. MEARS Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP)—People keep asking George Romney who he's going to support for the Republican presidential nomination if he can't win it himself, and the Michigan governor keeps telling them he doesn't expect to lose.

It would take a lot to shake that expectation and convince Romney he should stand aside or become a proxy for some other GOP moderate in the race for the White House.

In current political conjecture, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, a determined non-candidate, would become the beneficiary should Romney drop from the race.

But Romney is not behaving like a man who has any intention of standing aside, no matter what the outcome of the early presidential primaries.

His standard answer to questions about the months ahead:

"I expect to win in New Hampshire, I expect to win in Wisconsin and I expect to win at Miami Beach."

This is the site of the Republican National Convention which opens Aug. 5.

If Romney makes good his claim and overcomes the New Hampshire odds, he could propel himself back toward the top ranking he enjoyed a year ago.

But Romney adds that he does not need a plurality over former Vice President Richard M. Nixon in New Hampshire to remain in contention for the nomination.

He sets no firm target, says only that he realizes he must make a strong showing. And he adds that one game doesn't decide a championship.

Romney has taken to telling campaign audiences that he entered the New Hampshire race as a 5 to 1 underdog to Nixon. By that yardstick, any respectable showing in the March 12 primary would enable Romney to claim he was making substantial headway against Nixon.

It is a process which conceivably could be repeated in later primaries.

Rockefeller, who has supported Romney from the beginning, could not gracefully drop his candidacy's role unless the Michigan governor had left the race.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, FEBRUARY 14, 1968

Three-Day Holidays

The New York State Assembly has voted to move to Monday five holidays when they fall on days other than Friday. The three-day weekends would be observed on Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays, Memorial Day, Independence Day and Veterans Day.

This may sound as heresy to some traditionalist groups, but not to a growing number of people who support the idea of uniform Monday holidays.

Most businessmen say the change would help their production and work schedules by avoiding the stop-start interruptions caused by midweek holidays.

The objective of the change is to provide longer leisure periods, but those opposed claim that extending weekends to three days would cause more traffic accidents than one-day midweek holidays.

Various studies show that sometimes this is true, sometimes not. Traffic fatalities during nonholiday weekends often exceed those of holiday weekends.

The National Safety Council has stated that from a traffic viewpoint highway deaths provide no argument for or against Monday holidays.

The idea of uniform Monday holidays is not a new one, but the momentum behind it is building. Currently there are four legislative proposals before Congress.

As the commercial and financial capital of the nation, New York's action could create a chain reaction that eventually could be nationwide, but in the meantime there would be great confusion. The change on a national scale would be far more beneficial than having New York go it alone. The experience with daylight saving time before it was widely adopted bears this out.

Rug Pulled Again

On Jan. 26, American U.N. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg stood before the United Nations Security Council and unequivocally stated that the Pueblo had never been in North Korean waters. He said he wanted to lay at rest any reports to the contrary. Couldn't be a denial much stronger than that, could there? It stated the U.S. position, loud and clear. One week later, on Feb. 4, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Defense Secretary Robert McNamara jointly said they could not guarantee that the ship had not strayed into North Korean territorial waters. Another credibility gap? That's for sure!

Two members of President Johnson's inner circle pulled the rug out from another of that group, which is bad enough, but worse, it left the American people with another enigma they are left to try to unravel themselves: Did the Pueblo violate North Korea's sovereignty? It is understandable that the Administration may not be sure, one way or the other at this point, but why, if such is the case, was it so vehement in the position it had Mr. Goldberg take? If it wasn't sure on Feb. 4, surely it couldn't be on Jan. 26.

It is these bumbles, piling up on top of each other, that are making patriotic Americans distrust their government, not because of the inherent distrust the average person has for politicians, but for a reason that goes far deeper. They feel the suppressions, lies and half-truths are endangering the welfare of the country. And well this could be.

While the Johnson Administration has piled up an unenviable record of credibility gaps, it must be said that they did not begin with that regime. In fact, during the administration of John F. Kennedy the late Adlai Stevenson, then our U.N. Ambassador, was given a report to deliver at the U.N. Security Council that was untrue. It dealt with the action of U.S. B26s during the Cuban Bay Of Pigs fiasco. Mr. Stevenson believed he was stating a truth, just as undoubtedly Mr. Goldberg did.

Why is Washington, of late years, withholding or sugar coating the news? There are two lines of reasoning: (1) a natural desire to cover up one's mistakes, (2) that the people can't take bad news. In either case, it's wrong, since the truth generally comes out eventually. The sum total is that our government looks stupid before the eyes of the world and public distrust grows deeper.

On his return from Saigon, Henrik Beer, secretary general of the League of Red Cross Societies, made a serious charge. In a national broadcast from Stockholm, Beer said the Americans and South Vietnamese are fighting a "9 to 5 war" after dark they calmly sit back and let the Vietcong take over. If true, it could explain the recent penetration of Saigon and other cities by the enemy.

Here is a wonderful idea for senior citizens, who find it hard to get around. Private bus companies in Nassau County plan to transport the elderly door-to-door to clubs for the elderly at nominal fees. It should provide recreation and companionship for people dependent now on volunteers, car pools and taxis, the latter for the few who can afford it.

Playing Hard-to-Get

Viet Similarity Seen With Philippine War

WASHINGTON—Of repeated is the comment that times are worse today than ever before. But are they? Even the Vietnam war, which is supposed to be unprecedented—a conflict of a kind in which the United States allegedly has never before participated—isn't really a novelty in American history.

There was, for example, the guerrilla warfare which raged in the Philippines from December 1899 until April 1902, when 70,000 American troops were engaged in putting down a Filipino uprising after the islands were ceded to the United States following the Spanish-American War.

This happened thousands of miles from this country—in fact, it was the farthest away from our own territory that any American military force had gone up to that time. Was it all worthwhile? Did any good results flow from it?

The analogy between developments with respect to the Philippines and what is occurring now in Vietnam can be vividly recalled by persons who lived in the early days of the century. Many others have been told by their parents about those agonizing years. The conflict was as unpopular then as the war in Vietnam is today. All sorts of organizations inside the United States were opposed to America's presence in the Philippines. Indeed, the United States was accused by various groups within its own borders of having yielded to imperialism.

But what has taken place since the guerrilla warfare ended in 1902—the evolution of an independent nation after many years of financial and military support by the United States—is an example of altruism unequalled throughout the world by any other power. The United States helped the Filipino people in the fields of education, agriculture, law, government, industry and public health. America contributed billions of dollars to the development of the Philippines, enabling the people to obtain materials and machinery for transportation and for industrial growth.

It took several decades for the Philippines to become independent, but, as the history books show, the islands constitute today an example of a successful conversion of a colonial people in Asia into an autonomous democracy.

When the United States was attacked at Pearl Harbor in 1941 by Japan, the Philippines became a key factor in the American strategy for waging the war in the Pacific. The Japanese later occupied principal points in the islands, but they were driven out by American forces. The Philippines, as a military base, was an essential element in the ultimate victory by the United States over Japan.

Since the Philippines became an independent country on July 4, 1946, its government has cooperated with the United Nations and the free world, and joined in the formation of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization in 1954. Today Filipino troops are fighting alongside Americans in Vietnam.

America's experience with the Philippines demonstrates that an independent nation capable of self-government cannot be set up overnight. The United States could eventually reconstruct Vietnam, too. If the North and South were reunited, economic aid could be extended that would transform a primitive nation into a modern environment in which the people could enjoy the fruits of true independence.

It may be asked by the critics just why it was the duty of the United States to rescue the Filipinos from internal chaos, and now the Vietnamese from Communist aggression. The answer is that no international organization has yet been established which is willing to do the job. Until a formula of that kind becomes effective, Communist imperialism will take over the smaller countries, and will, in due time, spread its power so that American interests will be adversely affected in the Philippines and Australia, as well as in Southeast Asia. In fact, the ill effects of Communist infiltration in the Philippines have bobbed up again and again ever since World War II.

The Vietnam war is as unpopular inside the United States now as the guerrilla war in the Philippines was at the start of the century. The American people, however, sought then, as they are doing today, to help other countries to gain autonomy just as some European countries assisted the American colonies in the 1770s to win their revolution and achieve complete independence.

Henry J. Taylor Says

Why Are We Always Victims of Surprise?

North Korea's hijacking of our intelligence ship Pueblo, like the Israeli bombing of our similar ship, the Liberty, during the Egyptian war, raises the question as to why, with all we do in the intelligence field, we're so constantly the victim of surprise, surprise, surprise.

The function of intelligence is to keep us from being surprised. Incredibly, Washington is spending at least $4 billion a year for intelligence. What's wrong?

Castro surprised Washington at the Bay of Pigs, the Soviet's Cuban missile installations were a surprise, the Berlin Wall was, a Red attack on the Dominican Republic and the Zanzibar take-over were surprises, and the whole Vietnam war has been one endless surprise after another. Why?

On November 29, 1965, while we were being told that all was well, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara stated: "I must say I was surprised by the intensity and scale of the Viet Cong attacks." Now, more than two years later, Washington is admittedly still surprised by the same unexpected intensity and capability in the attacks on Saigon and 20 additional cities.

The Central Intelligence Agency's current budget (secret) is certainly around $1½ billion a year, according to the official findings of the House Armed Services Committee. The CIA alone is larger than the State Department and spends more than twice as much money. Its Langley, Va., headquarters cost $46 million. About 10,000 people work there in intelligence. At least another

5,000 are scattered throughout the world, burrowing everywhere for intelligence. And this should make the taxpayers wonder what's happened to the CIA's official contentions.

CIA Deputy Director L. K. White testified to the House Appropriations Committee in 1956 that its $46 million building headquarters would "put things under one roof" and save $600,000 a year. Well, now still another CIA building ("No. 213") has arisen behind the scenes at the Naval Gun Factory in southeast Washington at the cost of another $10 million. And surprise, surprise, the CIA now has branch offices in Denver, Detroit, Houston, Miami, Minneapolis, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, San Francisco, Seattle, etc., although the CIA is supposed to concern itself with foreign intelligence whereas the U.S.A. is the domain of the FBI. The only blessing is that CIA Director Richard Helms is a very able man, but, as Tiny Tim said, "There's never been such a squash."

In addition, the competing agencies are too many and enormous for me to expect you to believe the facts. Actually, there were recently in Berlin alone at least 40 known U.S. intelligence agencies and their branches—competing.

The CIA was founded to eliminate the dangerous compartmentalization and duplication. But the Pueblo, for example, wasn't operated by the CIA entirely. It was controlled by the hush-hush National Security Agency, a separate, immense group that grows inside still another gigantic building in Washington's suburbs.

This is a sprawling, secret adjunct of the U.S. Army and Navy and both the NSA and CIA spend much time wondering what each other is doing. Beyond this Mr. McNamara somehow built an additional large intelligence structure within his own office that reported only to him and competed behind the scenes in Vietnam and elsewhere with the NSA and CIA alike. This, of course, is one of the first things incoming Defense Secretary Clark Clifford should abandon.

We simply cannot afford, nor should we put up with the surprises, surprises, surprises that result. It is absolutely imperative to condense the fog in Washington's cuckoo-land intelligence cloud into an efficient rain. The overlapping and mutually jealous agencies are loaded with empire builders. In the field where the country's unliving heroes daily risk their lives in espionage they are terribly enfeebled by the tremendous bureaucracy here at home. And many whom I know well are likewise disgusted by the special McNamara agents who materialize majestically like Sherlock Holmes' "Baker Street Irregulars" whenever odd chores beckon and Mr. McNamara thought there was a job to be done.

The hour is late and the danger great. Washington cannot endlessly postpone the streamlining and reforming of the sick intelligence elephant that threatens our security and our lives with surprise, surprise, surprise. (Copyright, 1968, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Romney Won't Step Aside

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—People keep asking George Romney who he's going to support for the Republican presidential nomination if he can't win it himself, and the Michigan governor keeps telling them he doesn't expect to lose.

It would take a lot to shake that expectation and convince Romney he should stand aside or become a proxy for some other GOP moderate in the race for the White House.

In current political conjecture, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, a determined non-candidate, would become the beneficiary should Romney drop from the race.

But Romney is not beav-ing like a man who has any intention of standing aside, no matter what the outcome of the early presidential primaries.

His standard answer to questions about the months ahead:

"I expect to win in New Hampshire, I expect to win in Wisconsin and I expect to win at Miami Beach."

This is the site of the Republican National Convention which opens Aug. 5.

If Romney makes good his claim and overcomes the New Hampshire odds, he could propel himself back toward the top ranking he enjoyed a year ago.

But Romney adds that he does not need a plurality over former Vice President Richard M. Nixon in New Hampshire to remain in contention for the nomination.

He sets no firm target, says only that he realizes he must make a strong showing. And he adds that one game doesn't decide a championship.

Romney has taken to telling campaign audiences that he entered the New Hampshire race as a 5 to 1 underdog to Nixon. By that yardstick, any respectable showing in the March 12 primary would enable Romney to claim he was making substantial headway against Nixon.

It is a process which conceivably could be repeated in later primaries.

Rockefeller, who has supported Romney from the beginning, could not gracefully drop his non-candidate's role unless the Michigan governor had left the race.

Fulbright Launches Inquiry Into Nuclear Arms Rumor

By THOMAS B. ROSS
Chicago Sun-Times Special

WASHINGTON — Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) has launched a formal inquiry into reports that tactical nuclear weapons are being prepared for possible use in Vietnam.

The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said yesterday he had sent a "letter of inquiry" to Secretary of State Dean Rusk, requesting an official and detailed response to the reports.

Earlier, George Christian, White House Press Secretary, denied that the joint chiefs of staff had asked President Johnson for permission to use tactical nuclear weapons, if necessary.

"I think all of you know," Christian said, "that decisions of this nature rest with the President. The President has considered no decision of this nature."

"I might add that irresponsible discussion and speculation are a disservice to the country and I don't intend to say anything more about the subject."

The fact that Fulbright dispatched his letter to Rusk after the White House denial indicated he was not completely satisfied with it, possibly because Christian's carefully worded remarks could be read as referring Vietnam was in April, 1954, just prior to the French defeat at Dien Bien Phu.

Mr. Johnson, then Democratic leader of the Senate only to the report about the joint chiefs.

Christian did not seem to address himself to the question of whether the President, as Commander-in-chief, might have been weighing the matter independently or might have given instructions on his own.

Christian also did not touch on another report that tactical nuclear weapons have been stocked in Vietnam, pending a possible decision to use them later, as a last-ditch defense for the Marines at Khe Sanh.

Rumors about the weapons have been circulating here for several days and reliable sources said British Prime Minister Harold Wilson raised the matter with the President in his visit here.

Fulbright reportedly raised the nuclear weapons issue with Defense Sec. Robert S. McNamara at the Wilson dinner but it was not known how McNamara responded.

Acted on His Own
Fulbright made it clear that he was acting on his own in his letter to Rusk and that the Foreign Relations Committee had not yet reached any decision on whether to conduct a full-scale investigation.

The last time the U. S.

Government is known to have studied the possibility of using tactical nuclear weapons in and chairman of the preparedness subcommittee, reportedly was influential in persuading former President

Dwight D. Eisenhower not to use such weapons.

There was also official consideration of the use of atomic weapons after the Chinese intervention in the Korean War in the fall of 1950.

At that time, British Prime Minister Clement Attlee flew here on an urgent mission to plead successfully with former President Harry S. Truman for restraint.

The Chicago Sun-Times learned that Fulbright's committee had discussed the nuclear issue at length behind closed doors.

However, it was emphasized that the committee was dealing with an "anonymous report" received by telephone, apparently from the Pentagon, and did not have any substantiating evidence before it.

The anonymous informant reported that Prof. Richard Garwin, a Columbia University specialist in tactical nuclear weapons, and three other atomic experts had been sent to Vietnam on a top secret mission.

It was suggested they might have been there to devise a defense for Khe Sanh.

One of the committee members reportedly raised the possibility that President Johnson, in demanding assurances on Khe Sanh's defense from the joint chiefs, had been advised that tactical nuclear weapons were available if necessary.

Another senator attempted to cut off all discussion but a third insisted the issue was so critical that it was imperative to look into it exhaustively.

Finally, it was informally recommended that Fulbright follow up the report.

Venezuela Is Bright Spot In Latin American Picture

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) —

The economic news out of Latin America is not cheerful. But there is one spot with a very bright potential — the new steel-aluminum-power complex on the banks of the Orinoco river in eastern Venezuela.

The bad news is much more sweeping than the usual gloom about slow going on economic reforms sought in Latin lands as an accompaniment to the Alliance for Progress.

The real story is that Latin America is losing its world position as an exporter. Having lived for decades off its sales of raw materials and basic commodities to the United States, Europe and elsewhere, it finds itself not sharing in the great export boom of the late 1960s.

The highly industrialized nations of the world, trafficking in manufactured goods, are gaining the most. Even the developing lands of Africa and Asia are boosting exports more than Latin countries.

In 1956, some 31 per cent of all U. S. imports came from Latin America. By 1966, the last year for which complete figures are available, Latin nations' share of the U. S. import market had declined to 15.8 per cent and was still dropping.

Meat, wheat, coffee, copper and tin, prime Latin exports, just are not cutting as big a swath in trade totals. Unsatisfactory price levels contribute to the problem.

Venezuela's "bright spot" at Ciudad Guayana (not to be confused with the tiny neighboring land of Guayana) is an ambitious undertaking aimed at thrusting this progressive democratic nation into the rising new trade in manufactured goods.

With ample resources in oil, hydro-electric power, iron ore, bauxite (aluminum), and other materials, Guayana is becoming the focus of the Latin world's first genuine industrial "Ruhr."

A huge $400 million steel mill has been operating in some measure since 1963. Bids for a $150 million expansion are under review. Even now it exports steel products to Mexico, Colombia, Argentina, Italy and Japan. With further planned diversification, the hope is to tap still more world markets.

U. S. Steel soon starts building a $50-million plant for making high-concentrate iron briquettes intended almost wholly for export.

In late 1967 a new aluminum smelter opened at Guayana. Here again, hopes are high for a major export industry.

Sometime in 1968, construction will be finished on the first phase of Guri dam complex, a potential 6-million-kilowatt element in the region's hydroelectric program.

The glittering goal is obvious—a great cluster of finished goods industries founded on Guayana's grow-power and metal-producing capacity, with the end products going into the trade stream toward other Latin countries and beyond.

Amid the dark news, Guayana's real promise is a straw to cling to as the economic planners try to figure how to "save" a Latin America slipping downhill even as its population soars incredibly.

But even if Ciudad Guayana proves ultimately to be a great success, very hard questions will remain:

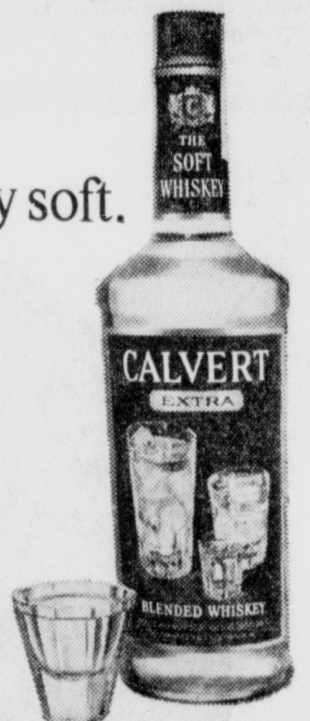

Can this hopeful example be widely copied in other troubled Latin nations? Do they have the resources, the power, the transportation and the means of drawing all these together?

And, if at least some lands have these things, how will they all gain and hold a good place in the world "trade sun" when competition around the globe intensifies almost daily.

Call-Up Depletes Reserves

WASHINGTON (AP) — The hurry-up shipment of another 10,500 combat troops to Vietnam cuts deeper into a strategic reserve of fulltime soldiers which senior military officers say has been dangerously depleted.

These officers, say privately they believe at least one division should be called up from the Army National Guard to bolster the strategic reserve of divisions available in the United States for swift deployment around the world.

Military officers in the Pentagon express belief further ground force deployments to Vietnam will be necessary and that the current buildup objective of 525,000 will be raised. This also is under study.

A Congress member who declined to be identified said the dispatch of more troops to Vietnam in addition to the 10,500 would be announced shortly. "They're already programmed," he said.

Civilian officials at the Pentagon dispute the idea U.S. military strength is being stretched perilously thin. They say there are nearly one million men—not counting reservists—in uniform in the United States who could be drawn on for overseas deployment.

But senior officers argue such numbers are misleading, since a large part of this total is in basic or other training or performing rear-area functions.

Key elements of the strategic reserve, these officers say, are the combat-ready regular Army and Marine divisions in the United States.

Bombers Have a Field Day . . .

Bombs Go Astray
The spokesman said 100,000 pounds of bombs went astray, indicating three or four of the high-level Stratofortresses made the raid. The target was Viet Cong troop concentrations 10½ miles north of the city, and the spokesman added that even the bombs that went astray landed in an area for which South Vietnamese officials had given target clearance.

It was the first report of a bombing error by the big B52s in nearly three years of operations over South Vietnam, but most of their strikes have been against enemy-controlled areas.

On the northwest frontier, the U.S. Marine combat base at Khe Sanh took its heaviest pounding in six days. North Vietnamese gunners slammed 200 rounds of artillery, rockets and mortar into Khe Sanh in a 24-hour period, killing one Marine and wounding nine others. But there were no ground attacks that could signal the start of the big push the Communists are expected to make to drive U.S. forces from South Vietnam's two northernmost provinces.

Round-Clock Assault
U.S. warplanes continued their massive round-the-clock bombardment of Communist buildup areas threatening the Khe Sanh base. Air Force, Navy and Marine pilots flew 200 tactical sorties Tuesday against North Vietnamese troop concentrations, gun positions and storage areas in the sector, and the big B52s chipped in with three raids today.

The U.S. Command reported that a four-engine C130 cargo plane shot up by Red gunners on the Khe Sanh airstrip was flown out Tuesday night after crews towed it to the end of the runway and repaired it under fire.

In other ground action, South Vietnamese rangers said they killed 58 Viet Cong in a clash with a guerrilla band near Binh Canh village, four miles southwest of Saigon. Twelve government troops were killed and 18 wounded.

In the Mekong Delta to the south, guerrillas hit the coastal town of Rach Gia with 20 mortar rounds, then put the torch to 283 houses. The shelling killed two civilians, injured 10 and destroyed another 46 houses, a government spokesman said.

With the announcement that 10,500 more U.S. soldiers are being rushed to Vietnam, many U.S. airlines said they had been asked to increase the number of planes they are supplying to the airlift of men and supplies to Vietnam. Some airlines said they began putting on extra planes to Saigon soon after the Viet Cong launched their offensive against South Vietnamese cities and towns two weeks ago.

Reporter Dies, Helped Solve Murder Case

ONEONTA, N.Y. (AP) — A reporter who helped solve the 1906 murder case depicted in Theodore Dreiser's novel, "An American Tragedy," has died here at the age of 85.

Roy Layman Butterfield was serving as the Cortland correspondent for the Syracuse Post-Standard when assigned to cover the murder investigation of Grace Brown at a lake in the central Adirondacks.

Butterfield discovered the dead girl's roommate and with Cortland police officials, found letters that led to the conviction of Chester Gillette.

Dreiser's novel, considered an American classic, later was made into a movie. Butterfield later left journalism and was an educator in Lafayette, Lyndonville, Charlotte and Rochester before he retired in 1947.

He then became a historian and was regarded as an authority on the early settlements and land holdings in New York State. A library built by the Butterfield family near their Hartwick home included about 12,000 historical documents. The property was purchased later by the New York State Historical Society.

Butterfield leaves a brother, Earl, of Cortland, and two sons, Roger, of New York City, and Layman, of Cambridge, Mass.

Upstater Killed

NEWCOMB, N.Y. (AP) — A shotgun fired point-blank into a box of dynamite has resulted in the death of the 16-year-old boy who pulled the trigger, police in this Adirondack community said.

The victim was Charles L. LaLonde of Newcomb. State Police said LaLonde, and another teen-ager had hidden the dynamite in the woods near here about a year ago.

Monday, troopers said, LaLonde fired at the box in the woods from a distance of about six feet.

Greeks Mull Two Drafts Of Constitution

ATHENS (AP) — The Greek military regime is considering submitting two drafts of the new constitution to the national referendum it has promised, a spokesman said today.

Michael Sideratos, undersecretary to the premier and official regime spokesman, said in an interview that the government "has no intention of scrapping a draft constitution submitted by a 20-member committee of legal experts."

But, he said, "I am personally dissatisfied with the draft because it does not fill Greece's contemporary needs."

"The government is working on its own version. Both the government's and the committee's versions possibly will be submitted together for public discussion in the press and abroad" before being submitted to a national referendum about Sept. 15, he said.

Sideratos said he believed the government's version of the new constitution will be "more liberal" than the committee's. The committee which worked for six months, presented a draft last Dec. 23 which reportedly does not alter King Constantine's powers as much as the regime would like.

Call-Up Depletes Reserves

WASHINGTON (AP) — The hurry-up shipment of another 10,500 combat troops to Vietnam cuts deeper into a strategic reserve of fulltime soldiers which senior military officers say has been dangerously depleted.

These officers, say privately they believe at least one division should be called up from the Army National Guard to bolster the strategic reserve of divisions available in the United States for swift deployment around the world.

Military officers in the Pentagon express belief further ground force deployments to Vietnam will be necessary and that the current buildup objective of 525,000 will be raised. This also is under study.

A Congress member who declined to be identified said the dispatch of more troops to Vietnam in addition to the 10,500 would be announced shortly. "They're already programmed," he said.

Civilian officials at the Pentagon dispute the idea U.S. military strength is being stretched perilously thin. They say there are nearly one million men—not counting reservists—in uniform in the United States who could be drawn on for overseas deployment.

But senior officers argue such numbers are misleading, since a large part of this total is in basic or other training or performing rear-area functions.

Key elements of the strategic reserve, these officers say, are the combat-ready regular Army and Marine divisions in the United States.

Bombers Have a Field Day . . .

U.S. B52 bombers on the closest raid they have ever made to Saigon landed outside the target area.

Bombs Go Astray

The spokesman said 100,000 pounds of bombs went astray, indicating three or four of the high-level Stratofortresses made the raid. The target was Viet Cong troop concentrations 10½ miles north of the city, and the spokesman added that even the bombs that went astray landed in an area for which South Vietnamese officials had given target clearance.

It was the first report of a bombing error by the big B52s in nearly three years of operations over South Vietnam, but most of their strikes have been against enemy-controlled areas.

On the northwest frontier, the U.S. Marine combat base at Khe Sanh took its heaviest pounding in six days.

North Vietnamese gunners slammed 200 rounds of artillery, rockets and mortar into Khe Sanh in a 24-hour period, killing one Marine and wounding nine others. But there were no ground attacks that could signal the start of the big push the Communists are expected to make to drive U.S. forces from South Vietnam's two northernmost provinces.

Round-Clock Assault

U.S. warplanes continued their massive round-the-clock bombardment of Communist buildup areas threatening the Khe Sanh base. Air Force, Navy and Marine pilots flew 200 tactical sorties Tuesday against North Vietnamese troop concentrations, gun positions and storage areas in the sector, and the big B52s chipped in with three raids today.

The U.S. Command reported that a four-engine C130 cargo plane shot up by Red gunners on the Khe Sanh airstrip was flown out Tuesday night after crews towed it to the end of the runway and repaired it under fire.

In other ground action, South Vietnamese rangers said they killed 58 Viet Cong in a clash with a guerrilla band near Binh Canh village, four miles southwest of Saigon. Twelve government troops were killed and 18 wounded.

In the Mekong Delta to the south, guerrillas hit the coastal town of Rach Gia with 20 mortar rounds, then put the torch to 283 houses. The shelling killed two civilians, injured 10 and destroyed another 46 houses, a government spokesman said.

With the announcement that 10,500 more U.S. soldiers are being rushed to Vietnam, many U.S. airlines said they had been asked to increase the number of planes they are supplying to the airlift of men and supplies to Vietnam. Some airlines said they began putting on extra planes to Saigon soon after the Viet Cong launched their offensive against South Vietnamese cities and towns two weeks ago.

Reporter Dies, Helped Solve Murder Case

ONEONTA, N.Y. (AP) — A reporter who helped solve the 1906 murder case depicted in Theodore Dreiser's novel, "An American Tragedy," has died here at the age of 85.

Roy Layman Butterfield was serving as the Cortland correspondent for the Syracuse Post-Standard when assigned to cover the murder investigation of Grace Brown at a lake in the central Adirondacks.

Butterfield discovered the dead girl's roommate and with Cortland police officials, found letters that led to the conviction of Chester Gillette.

Dreiser's novel, considered an American classic, later was made into a movie.

Butterfield later left journalism and was an educator in Lafayette, Lyndonville, Charlotte and Rochester before he retired in 1947.

He then became a historian and was regarded as an authority on the early settlements and land holdings in New York State. A library built by the Butterfield family near their Hartwick home included about 12,000 historical documents. The property was purchased later by the New York State Historical Society.

Butterfield leaves a brother, Earl, of Cortland, and two sons, Roger, of New York City, and Layman, of Cambridge, Mass.

Upstater Killed

NEWCOMB, N.Y. (AP) — A shotgun fired point-blank into a box of dynamite has resulted in the death of the 16-year-old boy who pulled the trigger, police in this Adirondack community said.

The victim was Charles L. LaLonde of Newcomb.

State Police said LaLonde and another teen-ager had hidden the dynamite in the woods near here about a year ago.

Doctor Lists Eight Causes of Barbershop Phobia

By HOYT HARWELL
BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The simple barbershop represents a major barrier to many people, says a Birmingham psychiatrist who labels the problem "Barbershop Phobia."

Dr. Jack D. Hain lists eight causes of the phobia and says they by no means exhaust the reasons why some people are reluctant to enter barbershops.

The 41-year-old director of psychiatric research at the Medical College of Alabama collaborated on the study with Dr. Ian Stevenson, chairman of the Department of Neurology and Psychiatry at the University of Virginia. Their findings were published recently in the American Journal of Psychiatry.

The psychiatrists listed these causes of barbershop phobia:

1. Fear of scrutiny by others. For example, they mentioned a 38-year-old man whose phobia led him on occasion to run out of barbershops before his turn came. The man recalled a poor childhood when his shabby clothes embarrassed him, and the anxiety carried over when ever he was in a large crowd.
2. Rebelliousness against social customs.

The example here was a man who postponed as long as possible his visits to the barbershop because of a strong rebelliousness against conformity. The man looked upon conventions of dress as tyrannical restrictions of his freedom, and recalled being forcibly restrained as a child while his hair was being cut.

"However," Hain says, "I don't think most hippies have any real phobia about going to a barber."

3. Impatience with delays. These people, the doctors say, cannot bear the waiting which keeps them from getting on with their busy programs. They are equally impatient in traffic jams. This problem is more common among women in beauty shops, where the stay is longer, than for men in barbershops.
4. Fear of confinement.

A 53-year-old man was particularly afraid of "not being able to get away" once he was in the chair with the towel around his neck. His phobia, the doctors reported, seemed to stem from a wartime childhood experience when his father was killed by an invading enemy and the rest of the family had great difficulty in getting away.

5. Fear of mutilation.

The study showed that the presence of sharp instruments in barbershops makes it likely that persons afraid of these would have their anxiety aroused when in the barbershop. One patient first had this anxiety while watching a gory bullfight in Mexico and was afraid of butcher as well as barbershops.

6. Anxiety-arousing experiences with chairs resembling barber chairs.

Unpleasant experiences in a dentist's chair, for instance, may make it more difficult for a person to be at ease in a barber's chair.

7. Sexual arousal.

Some people, Hain and Stevenson found, have acknowledged the occurrence of some sexual arousal during the close physical contact involved in getting a haircut.

8. Issues of seniority.

This occurs when there are changes in the proper order of barbershops were quite unpleasant.

One person said his visits to barbershops were quite unpleasant because he feared such a displacement would occur, aware of these phobias in Hain said he does not believe clients.

"OUR ELECTRIC HEAT COSTS LESS THAN OUR HEATING ESTIMATE," says Mrs. William Beehler* of Poughkeepsie

"and it's the most comfortable heating we've ever had — even during this bitterly cold period.

"With a big house and a big family electric heat is a big help. Things stay so clean, and I don't have that oily film to scrub away periodically

"Two of our boys had asthma problems but since we've been in our electrically heated home, their asthma has disappeared, I suppose because the air is cleaner and not 'baked out.'

"My husband owns the Poughkeepsie Roofing Company, so he knows a quality housing product; and he's completely sold on electric heat. In fact, he claims, based on the experience of our old house, that our electric heat is no more expensive than our old fuel was.

"The amazing thing is that all of our service for heating, cooking, water heating, clothes washing and drying, and dishwashing for a family of six; freezer, 3 TV sets and I don't know what all else costs less than the $55 a month budget we were quoted!"

What more can we say? Except, contact us for complete information and cost estimates on heating and living the total electric way in your home

Doctor Lists Eight Causes of Barbershop Phobia

By HOYT HARWELL
BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The simple barbershop represents a major barrier to many people, says a Birmingham psychiatrist who labels the problem "Barbershop Phobia."

Dr. Jack D. Hain lists eight causes of the phobia and says they by no means exhaust the reasons why some people are reluctant to enter barbershops.

The 41-year-old director of psychiatric research at the Medical College of Alabama collaborated on the study with Dr. Ian Stevenson, chairman of the Department of Neurology and Psychiatry at the University of Virginia. Their findings were published recently in the American Journal of Psychiatry.

Infirmary Lists Gifts

The following gifts and services have been acknowledged with thanks by the patients and staff of Ulster County Infirmmary.

Flowers in memory of: Joseph Badalament, Mrs. Cecelia Boughton, Charles Naccarato, Mrs. Margaret Cragin, Miss Mabel Shipman, Mrs. Jennie Dunn, Miss Lina Wolven, John Fitzgerald, Mrs. Frances Signor, Mrs. Charlotte Smith, Nicholas Turck, John J. Hart, Eugene B. Carey, Mrs. Lillian Vautrin, Mrs. Martha Tierney, Mrs. Ruth Van Valkenburgh, Mrs. Veronica McNally, Mrs. Grace Barley and Floyd Dietz. Magazines—Lewis Suro, Mrs. W. H. Davis, Lillian's Beauty Shop, Mrs. Frank Branigan, St. Mary's Rosarians, Mrs. William E. Powley, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Dougherty and William Smith.

Tray favors were made by the Ruth Guild of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

Catholic Church services were directed by the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly and the Rev. John Farley of St. Mary's Church and Father Amerault.

Protestant Church services were led by the Rev. Daniel Ogden of Port Ewen Reformed Church, The Rev. Coleman Lamb, the Rev. Alfred Banks and the Rev. Harold Schade-wald.

Clothing—Mrs. Violet Mooney, St. Mary's Rosary Society and Columbiettes.

Cash donations for ice cream from Dr. Frederick Snyder. Diabetic gifts of fruit and cookies from Lake Katrine Grange.

Pictures were donated by Mr. and Mrs. George Ruffing.

Bed-pads, johnny coats and comfort pillows were donated by the Trinity Lutheran Church Women, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Branigan and the Columbiettes of the Kingston Council Knights of Columbus 275.

Mr. W. C. Jensen assisted by Misses Bambi Jensen, Karen Nickerson and Cindy Harder of the Tri-Hi Girls of YWCA assisted with feeding patients and patients services.

Birthday cards to patients were received from the Mary and Martha Fellowship of the Grace Community Church of Lake Katrine.

Birthday gifts were donated for the patients by the B'nai B'rith.

Sewing volunteer workers were Mrs. Mary Myers, Mrs. Paul Barnum, Mrs. Vernon Kelley and Miss Mae Langham. Occupational therapy volunteer workers were Mrs. Dora Mollenhauer, Mrs. William Hornbeck and Mrs. John Wolfenstein.

The psychiatrists listed these causes of barbershop phobia: 1. Fear of scrutiny by others. For example, they mentioned a 38-year-old man whose phobia led him on occasion to run out of barbershops before his turn came. The man recalled a poor childhood when his shabby clothes embarrassed him, and the anxiety carried over when ever he was in a large crowd. 2. Rebelliousness against social customs.

The example here was a man who postponed as long as possible his visits to the barbershop because of a strong rebelliousness against conformity. The man looked upon conventions of dress as tyrannical restrictions of his freedom, and recalled being forcibly restrained as a child while his hair was being cut.

"However," Hain says, "I don't think most hippies have any real phobia about going to a barber."

3. Impatience with delays. These people, the doctors say, cannot bear the waiting which keeps them from getting on with their busy programs. They are equally impatient in traffic jams. This problem is more common among women in beauty shops, where the stay is longer, than for men in barbershops. 4. Fear of confinement.

A 53-year-old man was particularly afraid of "not being able to get away" once he was in the chair with the towel around his neck. His phobia, the doctors reported, seemed to stem from a wartime childhood experience when his father was killed by an invading enemy and the rest of the family had great difficulty in getting away. 5. Fear of mutilation.

The study showed that the presence of sharp instruments in barbershops makes it likely that persons afraid of these would have their anxiety aroused when in the barbershop. One patient first had this anxiety while watching a gory bullfight in Mexico and was afraid of butcher as well as barber-shops.

6. Anxiety-arousing experiences with chairs resembling barber chairs.

Unpleasant experiences in a dentist's chair, for instance, may make it more difficult for a person to be at ease in a barber's chair.

7. Sexual arousal. Some people, Hain and Stevenson found, have acknowledged the occurrence of some sexual arousal during the close physical contact involved in getting a haircut.

8. Issues of seniority. This occurs when there are changes in the proper order of being served in barbershops, and one person said his visits to barbershops were quite unpleasant because he feared such displacement would occur. Hain said he does not believe that barbers generally are aware of these phobias in clients.

Already Under Emergency State

Pueblo Case Could Mean Further Bid for New Powers

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has questioned whether the United States, already under a 17-year-old proclamation of national emergency, has all the powers needed for the heightened hostilities in Southeast Asia.

Proclaimed in 1950, the Vietnam war, among other defense activities, is being prosecuted under executive powers dependent on the state of emergency proclaimed by President Harry S. Truman on Dec. 16, 1950, after Red China's intervention in the Korean War. The controversial Gulf of Tonkin resolution approved by Congress on Aug. 7, 1964, is cited by Johnson as the legal source of his authority to wage war in Vietnam, but it provides none of the extraordinary presidential powers under which the war is being prosecuted.

If the Tonkin resolution were repealed as some senators have proposed, the United States might pull out of Vietnam but the emergency powers would continue.

Many of these special powers—at least 134 of them—are in effect or available for use if needed because of the Truman proclamation.

Under them the President can control the movement of aliens into and out of the country, send military help to other nations, streamline buying procedures for military items, impose stern security rules and take other measures not normally available to the executive branch.

Other laws—notably the Defense Production Act, under which basic metals are allocated to munitions producers—are the source of further extraordinary powers.

But the President told senior members of the Senate and House Armed Services and Appropriations committees a few days ago he may have to ask for additional powers "to meet contingencies" arising from North Korea's seizure of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo.

Must Be Prepared

Johnson said he hoped such requests would be considered in a nonpartisan atmosphere, but did not disclose what might be proposed. Later, White House press secretary George Christian said some thought was being given to empowering the President to call up individual reservists needed for special technical and other skills.

Christian said the President must try to be prepared for any contingencies and that while many actions can be taken under the existing authority, other powers may require congressional action.

A declaration of national emergency is basically a triggering device. It brings into effect legal powers which are tolerated in times of war or danger but are not wanted in peace time.

The powers usually are written into laws which make them effective for the duration of the emergency or for the duration plus six months. Then the laws become inoperative, although the World War II emergencies reaffirmed the 1950 declaration. At no time since World War II has a U.S. president felt peace sufficiently assured to end the state of emergency. When Truman issued his 1950 proclamation, two earlier proclamations were still in effect—the "limited emergency" proclaimed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt on Sept. 9, 1939, after war broke out in Europe, and the "unlimited national emergency" which Roosevelt declared on May 27, 1941.

Others Reaffirmed

Truman formally ended both the World War II emergencies on April 28, 1952, but expressly reaffirmed the 1950 declaration. Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy, and Johnson also reaffirmed it as each took office.

Some of the extraordinary powers in the law books are not brought into effect by the declaration of an emergency but by a state of war or a state of hostilities. And the almost totalitarian powers contained in the Civil Defense Act come into play only in event of a nuclear assault on the United States.

Truman's proclamation, Executive Order 2914, said in part:

"Whereas recent events in Korea and elsewhere constitute a grave threat to the peace of the world . . . (I) do proclaim the existence of a national emergency which requires that the military, naval, air and civil defenses of this country be strengthened as speedily as possible to the end that we may be able to repel any and all threats against our national security . . ."

Are Numerous

The powers that remain in force—or at least available, if not actually in use—because of that proclamation are more numerous than drastic.

Probing a Possible Tax Evasion Scheme

NEW YORK (AP) — The federal government is reported to be investigating more than 50 U.S. manufacturing companies in connection with a possible tax evasion scheme in the use of secret trust accounts in Liechtenstein.

A federal judge has issued a contempt order against a lawyer for Liechtenstein, the 62-square-mile principality between Switzerland and Austria. Asst. U.S. Atty. Stephen E. Kaufman, when asked Monday if the investigation is related to the transfer of U.S. dollars to Europe, said: "It relates to the balance-of-payments problem."

Federal officials indicated that the probe has dealt with "possible tax shelters abroad and possibly unreported income."

The federal grand jury investigation of possible diversion of funds to Liechtenstein was revealed through an order by U.S. District Court Judge Inzer E. Wynn holding Alfred Buehler, a lawyer-businessman of Vaduz, Liechtenstein, in contempt of court for failing to appear before the grand jury here.

Buehler is reported to have returned to Liechtenstein a year ago despite orders to reappear before the grand jury with his records.

U.S. Government representatives negotiating with U.S. lawyers reported Buehler in an effort to get him to return here. Finally, last Friday, the contempt order was issued.

Kaufman said Buehler is a director of more than 100 trusts in Liechtenstein. At least one of these trusts has received more than $2 million in "commissions" from about 50 U.S. concerns, Kaufman said, but "this country has apparently performed no services in exchange for these commissions."

The Liechtenstein trusts were described as similar to banks, but used as holding companies by U.S. businesses. The trusts were said to be similar to secret bank accounts in Switzerland, about which no information is revealed.

The U.S. government is seeking to learn the ultimate use of funds sent to Liechtenstein. Kaufman declined to identify any of the manufacturers involved.

CLINTONDALE NEWS

CLINTONDALE — Miss Susan Hurd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hurd has been placed on the Dean's List at State University College of New Paltz for having earned a "B" average or higher for all studies completed at the college.

The Ulster County Chapter of the March of Dimes has presented Donald Roosa of Main Street with a motorized wheel chair. Mr. Roosa is a veteran of World War II and suffered an attack of polio in 1952. Norman Rice and Salvatore Dolcemasco are co-chairmen of the March of Dimes drive in the Town of Plattekill.

The Rev. Purdy Halstead holds a service in the Clinton-dale Methodist Church Sunday 9:45 a. m. At 11 o'clock he and the Rev. Herbert Dietweiler, of the Plattekill Methodist Church hold a service for the Modena-Plattekill congregations at the Modena church.

Mrs. Clayton Mackey of Main Street entertained the members of the Public Health Committee of the Town of Plattekill at her home recently. A covered dish luncheon was served at noon and the business meeting followed.

Sunday school at both the Methodist and Friends churches will start Sunday 4:45 a. m.

The congregations of the Modena and Plattekill Methodist churches have voted to unite the two churches. The district superintendents from the Mid-Hudson and Mid-Hudson West were on hand for the voting. Those who attend the Modena church voted in the church and those in the Plattekill area voted at the Plattekill firehouse.

Women of the community meet each Wednesday at the Clinton-dale Friends Church to sew for the American Friends Service Committee. Last week's meeting, instead of at the church it was held at the home of Mrs. Louise Stanfield.

Clinton-dale Fire Department was called to Highland last Friday morning when fire destroyed a three story building on Main Street.

Mrs. Carol Newhart will entertain the Highland Council of Church Women United at her home on Wednesday, March 27.

The annual Tree Fruit School sponsored by the Cooperative Extension of New York State, held for years in the Clinton-dale Grange Hall was slated for Pantony's Restaurant on South Street on Tuesday and Wednesday. Sessions started at 9 a. m. and were dismissed at 3:30 p. m.

In observance of National Boy Scout Week a special service for Scouts and Scouters was held at the Friends Church Sunday morning. Members of Boy Scout Troop 171 of Clinton-dale participated in the service. Jerome Hurd, troop committee chairman and Roger Jenkins, Scoutmaster assisted in the service. The subject of the Rev. Gerald Sutch's sermon was The Scope and Vision of Scouting. A coffee hour followed the service.

Following the voting favoring the merger of the Modena and Plattekill Methodist Churches it was decided to close the Plattekill church and hold all services in the Modena church. The Rev. Herbert Dietweiler of Plattekill and the Rev. Purdy Halstead, pastor of the Clinton-dale and Modena Methodist churches will conduct the services. The name of the re-organized church will be Memorial United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Giles Russell and Mrs. Ana Harries have been named chairmen for the 1968 Heart Fund campaign in the Clinton-dale and Tuckers Corners areas. A house-to-house canvass is planned.

Among the music department pupils playing in the combined senior band at Marlboro high school Saturday were Douglas Minard and Susan Capozzi.

Michael Capozzi and Louis Dolcemascola spent the weekend at North Creek in the Adirondacks for some snowshoe rabbit hunting. They stayed at Michael's cabin near North Creek and succeeded in shooting three rabbits.

Supervisor George Sisti, Justice of the Peace Frank Berean and Councilman Charles Dolcemascola attended the meeting of the New York State Associations of Towns held in New York City last week.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Wednesday, Feb. 14, the 45th day of 1968. There are 321 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1663, Canada became a royal province of France.

On this date:
In 1859, Oregon, the 33rd state, was admitted into the Union.

In 1886, the first trainload of oranges from the infant West Coast citrus industry left Los Angeles for eastern markets.

In 1903, a federal Department of Commerce and Labor was formed.

In 1912, Arizona became the 49th state.

Already Under Emergency State

Pueblo Case Could Mean Further Bid for New Powers

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has questioned whether the United States, already under a 17-year-old proclamation of national emergency, has all the powers needed for the heightened hostilities in Southeast Asia.

Proclaimed in 1950, the Vietnamese war, among other defense activities, is being prosecuted under executive powers dependent on the state of emergency proclaimed by President Harry S. Truman on Dec. 16, 1950, after Red China's intervention in the Korean War. The controversial Gulf of Tonkin resolution approved by Congress on Aug. 7, 1964, is cited by Johnson as the legal source of his authority to wage war in Vietnam, but it provides none of the extraordinary presidential powers under which the war is being prosecuted.

If the Tonkin resolution were repealed as some senators have proposed, the United States might pull out of Vietnam but the emergency powers would continue.

Many of those special powers—at least 134 of them—are in effect or available for use if needed because of the Truman proclamation.

Under them the President can control the movement of aliens into and out of the country, send military help to other nations, streamline buying procedures for military items, impose stern security rules and take other measures not normally available to the executive branch.

Other laws—notably the Defense Production Act, under which basic metals are allocated to munitions producers—are the source of further extraordinary powers.

But the President told senior members of the Senate and House Armed Services and Appropriations committees a few days ago he may have to ask for additional powers "to meet contingencies" arising from North Korea's seizure of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo.

Must Be Prepared
Johnson said he hoped such requests would be considered in a nonpartisan atmosphere, but did not disclose what might be proposed. Later, White House press secretary George Christian said some thought was being given to empowering the President to call up individual reservists needed for special technical and other skills.

Christian said the President must try to be prepared for any still on the books and available contingencies and that while many actions can be taken under the existing authority, other powers may require congressional action.

A declaration of national emergency is basically a triggering device. It brings into effect legal powers which are tol-erated in times of war or danger but are not wanted in peace time.

The powers usually are written into laws which make them effective for the duration of the emergency or for the duration plus six months. Then the laws become inoperative, although they must be prepared for any still on the books and available contingencies and that while many actions can be taken under the existing authority, other powers may require congressional action.

At no time since World War II has a U.S. president felt peace sufficiently assured to end the state of emergency. When Truman issued his 1950 proclamation two earlier proclamations were still in effect—the "limited emergency" proclaimed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt on Sept. 9, 1939, after war broke out in Europe, and the "unlimited national emergency" which Roosevelt declared on May 27, 1941.

Others Reaffirmed
Truman formally ended both

the World War II emergencies on April 28, 1952, but expressly reaffirmed the 1950 declaration. Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy, and Johnson also reaffirmed it as each took office. Some of the extraordinary powers in the law books are not brought into effect by the declaration of an emergency but by a state of war or a state of hostilities. And the almost totalitarian powers contained in the Civil Defense Act come into play only in event of a nuclear assault on the United States.

Truman's proclamation, Executive Order 2914, said in part,

"Whereas recent events in Korea and elsewhere constitute a grave threat to the peace of the world . . . (1) do proclaim the existence of a national emergency which requires that the military, naval, air and civil defenses of this country be strengthened as speedily as possible to the end that we may be able to repel any and all threats against our national security . . ."

Are Numerous
The powers that remain in force—or at least available, if not actually in use—because of that proclamation are more numerous than drastic.

Probing a Possible Tax Evasion Scheme

NEW YORK (AP) — The federal government is reported to be investigating more than 50 U.S. manufacturing companies in connection with a possible tax evasion scheme in the use of secret trust accounts in Liechtenstein.

A federal judge has issued a contempt order against a lawyer from Liechtenstein, the 62-square-mile principality between Switzerland and Austria, Asst. U.S. Atty. Stephen E. Kaufman, when asked Monday if the investigation is related to the transfer of U.S. dollars to Europe, said: "It relates to the balance-of-payments problem."

Federal officials indicated that the probe has dealt with "possible tax shelters abroad" and possibly unreported income.

The federal grand jury investigation of possible diversion of funds to Liechtenstein was revealed through an order by U.S. District Court Judge Inzer B. Wynn holding Alfred Buehler, a lawyer-businessman of Vaduz, Liechtenstein, in contempt of court for failing to appear before the grand jury here.

Buehler is reported to have returned to Liechtenstein a year ago despite orders to reappear before the grand jury with his records.

U.S. Government representatives negotiated with U.S. lawyers representing Buehler in an effort to get him to return here. Finally, last Friday, the contempt order was issued.

Kaufman said Buehler is a director of more than 100 trusts in Liechtenstein. At least one of these trusts has received more than $2 million in "commissions" from about 50 U.S. concerns, Kaufman said, but "this country has apparently performed no services in exchange for these commissions."

The Liechtenstein trusts were described as similar to banks, but used as holding companies by U.S. businesses. The trusts were said to be similar to secret bank accounts in Switzerland, about which no information is revealed.

The U.S. government is seeking to learn the ultimate use of funds sent to Liechtenstein. Kaufman declined to identify any of the manufacturers involved.

CLINTONDALE NEWS

CLINTONDALE — Miss Susan Hurd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hurd has been placed on the Dean's List at State University College of New Paltz for having earned a "B" average or higher for all studies completed at the college.

The Ulster County Chapter of the March of Dimes has presented Donald Roosa of Main Street with a motorized wheel chair. Mr. Roosa is a veteran of World War II and suffered an attack of polio in 1952. Norman Rice and Salvatore Dolcemasco are co-chairmen of the March of Dimes drive in the Town of Plattekill.

The Rev. Purdy Halstead holds a service in the Clinton-dale Methodist Church Sunday 9:45 a. m. At 11 o'clock he and the Rev. Herbert Dietweiler, of the Plattekill Methodist Church, hold a service for the Modena-Plattekill congregations at the Modena church.

Mrs. Clayton Mackey of Main Street entertained the members of the Public Health Committee of the Town of Plattekill at her home recently. A covered dish luncheon was served at noon and the business meeting followed.

Sunday school at both the Methodist and Friends churches will start Sunday 4:45 a. m.

The congregations of the Modena and Plattekill Methodist churches have voted to unite the two churches. The district superintendents from the Mid-Hudson and Mid-Hudson West were on hand for the voting. Those who attend the Modena church voted in the church and those in the Plattekill area voted at the Plattekill firehouse.

Women of the community meet each Wednesday at the Clinton-dale Friends Church to sew for the American Friends Service Committee. Last week's meeting, instead of at the church it was held at the home of Mrs. Louise Stanfield.

Clinton-dale Fire Department was called to Highland last Friday morning when fire destroyed a three story building on Main Street.

Mrs. Carol Newhart will entertain the Highland Council of Church Women United at her home on Wednesday, March 27.

The annual Tree Fruit School sponsored by the Cooperative Extension of New York State, held for years in the Clinton-dale Grange Hall was slated for Pantony's Restaurant on South Street on Tuesday and Wednesday. Sessions started at 9 a. m. and were dismissed at 3:30 p. m.

In observance of National Boy Scout Week a special service for Scouts and Scouters was held at the Friends Church Sunday morning. Members of Boy Scout Troop 171 of Clinton-dale participated in the service. Jerome Hurd, troop committee chairman and Roger Jenkins, Scoutmaster assisted in the service. The subject of the Rev. Gerald Sutch's sermon was The Scope and Vision of Scouting. A coffee hour followed the service.

Following the voting favoring the merger of the Modena and Plattekill Methodist Churches it was decided to close the Plattekill church and hold all services in the Modena church. The Rev. Herbert Dietweiler of Plattekill and the Rev. Purdy Halstead, pastor of the Clinton-dale and Modena Methodist churches will conduct the services. The name of the re-organized church will be Memorial United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Giles Russell and Mrs. Ana Harries have been named chairmen for the 1968 Heart Fund campaign in the Clinton-dale and Tuckers Corners areas. A house-to-house canvass is planned.

Among the music department pupils playing in the combined senior band at Marlboro high school Saturday were Douglas Minard and Susan Capozzi.

Michael Capozzi and Louis Dolcemascola spent the weekend at North Creek in the Adirondacks for some snowshoe rabbit hunting. They stayed at Michael's cabin near North Creek and succeeded in shooting three rabbits.

Supervisor George Sisti, Justice of the Peace Frank Borean and Councilman Charles Dolcemascola attended the meeting of the New York State Associations of Towns held in New York City last week.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Wednesday, Feb. 14, the 45th day of 1968. There are 321 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1663, Canada became a royal province of France.

On this date: In 1859, Oregon, the 33rd state, was admitted into the Union.

In 1886, the first trainload of oranges from the infant West Coast citrus industry left Los Angeles for eastern markets. In 1903, a federal Department of Commerce and Labor was formed.

In 1912, Arizona became the 48th state.

In 1929, seven hoodlums who were rivals of the Al Capone gang in Chicago were murdered in a garage. The killings became known as the St. Valentine's Day massacre.

In 1939, the German battleship Bismarck was launched. Ten years ago—Iraq and Jordan formed a political union called the Arab Federation.

Larger Army Force Trend Down

Navy and Marine Desertions Hit New Record Levels

BY BOB HORTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy and Marine Corps posted five and six year highs in desertion convictions respectively last fiscal year and Pentagon figures also show more Air Force members were convicted for desertion than the year before.

Draw Fresh Attention

But desertion conviction figures for the Army—with far more men in uniform—continued an over-all downward trend underway since World War II. Desertions have drawn fresh attention with the recent publicized cases of U.S. servicemen seeking asylum in Sweden, assertedly in protest of the Vietnam war.

The Pentagon maintains most men do not desert because of disillusionment over Vietnam but rather because they don't like the regimentation of military life.

Supplying latest desertion figures in response to questions, the Pentagon said:

"There is no evidence to indicate that the reasons for desertions are any different for the Vietnam conflict than they were during World War I, World War II and the Korean War."

"Based on previous information and studies," the Pentagon said, "it appears that such offenders are largely socially and emotionally immature."

"A large majority of such offenders are young, being under 21."

"It can also be assumed that dissatisfaction with service life for a variety of reasons is the major cause of desertions."

In the year ending last June 30 the Navy convicted 25 deserters compared with a decade low of 4 in 1966. The Navy meted out convictions to 60 deserters in 1960, 28 in 1961, 15 in 1962, 17 in 1963, 7 in 1964 and 12 in 95.

68 Marine Convictions
Sixty-eight Marines received desertion convictions in fiscal 1967, up from 25 in 1966 but down from a peak in this decade of 100 in 1960. Other recent years: 1965, 39; 1964, 21; 1963, 59; 1962, 39; and 1961, 64.

The Air Force, reporting figures for the first nine months of calendar year 1967, listed 11 convictions in courts-martial of men facing desertion charges.

This compared with 4 in 1966, 16 in 1965, 8 in 1964, 19 in 1963, 2 in 1962 and 8 in 1961.

In fiscal 1967, the Army had 86 convicted deserters. This, calculated against its over-all strength, figured to less than 1 conviction per 1,000 men—0.07 to be exact.

During calendar years 1942 through 1947—covering World War II—the Army convicted 20,390 deserters for an average conviction rate of 3.7 per 1,000 per year.

From May 1951 to May 1953, while the Korean War was on, the Army found 3,369 men guilty in desertion courts-martial, an average annual conviction rate of 0.89 per thousand.

Woman Is Patient

Mrs. Pearl Weber of 115 Wall Street, injured when reportedly struck by a truck on Main Street Monday afternoon is a patient at Kingston Hospital. Her condition is listed as "fine."

Police reported that Mrs. Weber walked in back of a truck operated by James E. Roebuck, 36 of Box 186, Kingston RD 5, while the truck was backing into a parking space. She was knocked down and taken to Kingston Hospital for X-rays and treatment.

Cottickill

Mrs. Edward Charles returned home from a visit with her mother, Mrs. Emile Besancon in Elmhurst, L.I.

Mr. and Mrs. John McCrane of Kingston spent Sunday afternoon with her sister Mrs. Arthur De Puy and Mrs. Kathryn Winchell.

ACTRESS DIES — Mae Marsh, the "innocent little sister" of D. W. Griffith's silent film classic "The Birth of a Nation," died Tuesday at her home in Hermosa Beach, Calif., at the age of 72. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Larger Army Force Trend Down

Navy and Marine Desertions Hit New Record Levels

BY BOB HORTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy and Marine Corps posted five and six year highs in desertion convictions respectively last fiscal year and Pentagon figures also show more Air Force members were convicted for desertion than the year before.

Draw Fresh Attention

But desertion conviction figures for the Army—with far more men in uniform—continued an over-all downward trend underway since World War II. Desertions have drawn fresh attention with the recent publicized cases of U.S. servicemen seeking asylum in Sweden, assertedly in protest of the Vietnam war.

The Pentagon maintains most men do not desert because of disillusionment over Vietnam but rather because they don't like the regimentation of military life.

Supplying latest desertion figures in response to questions, the Pentagon said:

"There is no evidence to indicate that the reasons for desertions are any different for the Vietnam conflict than they were during World War I, World War II and the Korean War."

"Based on previous information and studies," the Pentagon said, "it appears that such offenders are largely socially and emotionally immature."

"A large majority of such offenders are young, being under 21."

"It can also be assumed that dissatisfaction with service life for a variety of reasons is the major cause of desertions."

In the year ending last June 30 the Navy convicted 25 deserters compared with a decade low of 4 in 1966. The Navy meted out convictions to 60 deserters in 1960, 28 in 1961, 15 in 1962, 17 in 1963, 7 in 1964 and 12 in 95.

as Marine Convictions

Sixty-eight Marines received desertion convictions in fiscal 1967, up from 25 in 1966 but down from a peak in this decade of 100 in 1960. Other recent years: 1965, 39; 1964, 21; 1963, 59; 1962, 39; and 1961, 64.

The Air Force, reporting figures for the first nine months of calendar year 1967, listed 11 convictions in courts-martial of men facing desertion charges.

This compared with 4 in 1966, 16 in 1965, 8 in 1964, 19 in 1963, 2 in 1962 and 8 in 1961.

In fiscal 1967, the Army had 86 convicted deserters. This, calculated against its over-all strength, figured to less than 1 conviction per 1,000 men—0.07 to be exact.

During calendar years 1942 through 1947—covering World War II—the Army convicted 20,390 deserters for an average conviction rate of 3.7 per 1,000 per year.

From May 1951 to May 1953, while the Korean War was on, the Army found 3,369 men guilty in desertion courts-martial, an average annual conviction rate of 0.89 per thousand.

Woman Is Patient

Mrs. Pearl Weber of 115 Wall Street, injured when reportedly struck by a truck on Main Street Monday afternoon is a patient at Kingston Hospital. Her condition is listed as "fine."

Police reported that Mrs. Weber walked in back of a truck operated by James E. Roebuck, 36 of Box 186, Kingston RD 5, while the truck was backing into a parking space. She was knocked down and taken to Kingston Hospital for X-rays and treatment.

Cottickill

Mrs. Edward Charles returned home from a visit with her mother Mrs. Emile Besancon in Elmhurst, L.I.

Mr. and Mrs. John McCrane of Kingston spent Sunday afternoon with her sister Mrs. Arthur De Puy and Mrs. Kathryn Winchell.

Beer Men First to Feel Effects of LBJ Proposal

By BRIAN SULLIVAN
NEW YORK (AP) — More than 200 of the Schlitz Brewing Co.'s top wholesalers won't see Tokyo and Hong Kong and the 100 best air conditioning salesmen for Westinghouse Electric aren't going to do Europe.

They're among the first to feel the effects of President Johnson's proposals to keep more tourist dollars at home. The companies have decided to reward their salesmen with travels in the United States, not abroad.

The administration plan—which includes a tax on all travel expenditures above $7 a day outside the Western Hemisphere—also has begun to affect some airlines and travel agencies.

An Associated Press survey has disclosed these reactions:

—An unwritten agreement among some airlines not to talk about the problem. Other airlines, however, did discuss it.

—A decision by the University of Pittsburgh to call off two overseas alumni trips, changing them to "See America First" tours.

—An announcement from the Leisure Village senior citizens community in Lakewood, N.J., that travelers from the retirement community will visit Alaska and Hawaii instead of Europe.

—This comment from a travel agents spokesman in Atlanta: "The damage has already been done."

The survey showed that some airlines have increased their foreign travel advertising budgets by as much as 50 per cent, but with the peak summer travel months ahead, most would say only that it's "too early" to tell about the effect of the President's proposals.

"They don't want to appear to be opposing the Johnson administration," an airline industry source said, "and they are afraid of possible retaliatory actions from the countries involved."

One airline survey—not yet made public—indicated that soon after the President made his proposals, there was a definite trend toward cancellation of trips by business groups, which normally travel in April and May.

Advertisements have begun to appear in newspapers across the United States containing claims by foreign airlines that they spend their profits on American-made aircraft.

'DUTCHMAN' SPARKED RESIGNATION

PARIS (AP)—A row over Le Roi Jones' play "Dutchman" caused a management upheaval peler.

The mayor of the city banned the drama as "audacious, erotic, politically violent." The ruling was followed immediately by the resignation of Antoine Bourseiller as head of the theater.

A special task force completed work Tuesday in Washington on its first recommendations for increasing foreign travel to this country.

The overall balance of payments deficit last year exceeded $3.5 billion, Robert M. McKinney, chairman of the Industry-Government Task Force on Travel, described the report as "very fine." It is to be submitted to the President this week. McKinney is publisher of the Santa Fe New Mexican.

The report is certain to call for expanded promotion abroad of U.S. tourist attractions. It reportedly includes some form of accident and medical insurance for visitors and also is expected to recommend lower fares for transportation to and within the United States and special rates for foreign tourists.

The War in Vietnam Only Issue in N.H.

By REILMAN MORIN
CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — The battle in the New Hampshire primary campaign between Richard M. Nixon and Gov. George Romney of Michigan now appears to be narrowing to a single issue—the war in Vietnam.

Hard Line State

"In the main, New Hampshire is a hard line state," said Stewart Lamprey, president of the State Senate and Nixon's fiscal agent. Nixon has been taking a hard line in respect to the war. A top Romney lieutenant, who asked not to be identified, said, "If we can draw him (Nixon) in on a meaningful basis, I am prepared to make Vietnam the issue." And he added, "What really are his solutions to Vietnam?"

He indicated that Romney's aides would argue that the importance attaching to the war in the campaign, the Romney chief said that starting immediately only one highway billboard slogan will be posted for Romney, instead of the four now seen throughout the state. He said it will read, "Romney's right. We must be told the truth about Vietnam."

Until now, the Romney billboards have touched on four separate issues.

Nixon and Romney are the principal Republican candidates in the New Hampshire election, scheduled March 12.

The war in Vietnam is the chief topic presented to Nixon in question-and-answer sessions, especially among students.

One New Hampshire observer said, "Seventy-five per cent of the interest in the election relates to the war."

Nixon remarked to students in Wisconsin recently, "I'm not naive about politics. I know it would be popular to go out and be against the war. But I couldn't live with myself if I did."

Nixon indirectly ridiculed Romney on the question of neutralizing South and North Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos, a step the governor has proposed.

Nixon began his criticism by saying, "Now any beginning student of foreign affairs knows . . ."

He went on to say that the formula would be meaningless unless all the governments directly concerned, including those of the Soviet Union and Communist China, agreed to honor it.

Cupid Plays Role for GI And Girl Friend

ELMIRA, N.Y. (AP) — Cupid's arrow traveled from Vietnam to Elmira College Tuesday to deliver a Valentine's Day gift by proxy—a dozen roses.

Army Spec. 4 Jeff Oelkers, 21, of Tonawanda, near Buffalo, was stationed in Vietnam with one U.S. dollar, except his military scrip, and a problem—how to get a Valentine's gift to his hometown girl friend, Barbara Allen, 19, an Elmira College sophomore.

Jeff wrote the Elmira Junior Chamber on Commerce asking them to buy $1 worth of flowers and give them to Barbara.

Two directors of the Jaycees, Roger McKamy and Dale Brown, decided to go it one better and donated Jeff's dollar to charity. They bought a dozen roses in Jeff's name and on Tuesday presented the flowers to Barbara.

Barbara, last year's freshman class president at the woman's college, said she would thank Jeff for his thoughtfulness right away.

Man Sentenced

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A 42-year-old man who fatally stabbed a mother of 13 children in a quarrel over the right to hang a coat behind a tavern's bar has been sentenced to serve 6 to 10 years in Attica State Prison.

Judge Charles J. Gaughan of Erie County Court imposed the sentence Tuesday on Edward Lemons, who pleaded guilty to charges of second-degree manslaughter in the Nov. 20, 1966, slaying of Mrs. Sarah Benson.

Police said the argument started in a tavern when Lemons chided the woman about being a "privileged character" for being allowed to hang her coat behind the bar.

UCCC Offers Aid For Tax Time Woes

As a community service, Ulster County Community College will offer a three-session Federal Income Tax Workshop beginning next Monday night, Feb. 19, at the College's Kingston Classroom Building, 214 West Chestnut Street.

There will be additional sessions on Monday, Feb. 26, and Monday, March 4. The hours are 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

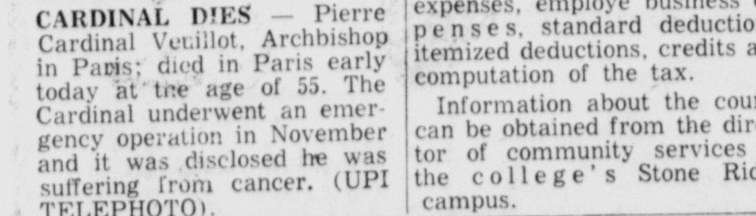

The workshop is being sponsored by the college with the assistance and cooperation of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service.

The instructors will be John Rosebrook and Daniel Sickles, of the U.S. Internal Revenue Office in Kingston.

The non-credit workshop will cover the history of taxation, filing requirements, forms, exemptions and dependents, dividends, interest, pensions and annuities, rents, sales or exchange of property, miscellaneous income, sick pay, moving expenses, employee business expenses, standard deductions, itemized deductions, credits and computation of the tax.

Information about the course can be obtained from the director of community services at the college's Stone Ridge campus.

CARDINAL DIES — Pierre Cardinal Veuillot, Archbishop in Paris, died in Paris early today at the age of 55. The Cardinal underwent an emergency operation in November and it was disclosed he was suffering from cancer. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

There will be additional sessions on Monday, Feb. 26, and Monday, March 4. The hours are 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

The workshop is being sponsored by the college with the assistance and cooperation of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service.

The instructors will be John Rosebrook and Daniel Sickles, of the U.S. Internal Revenue Office in Kingston.

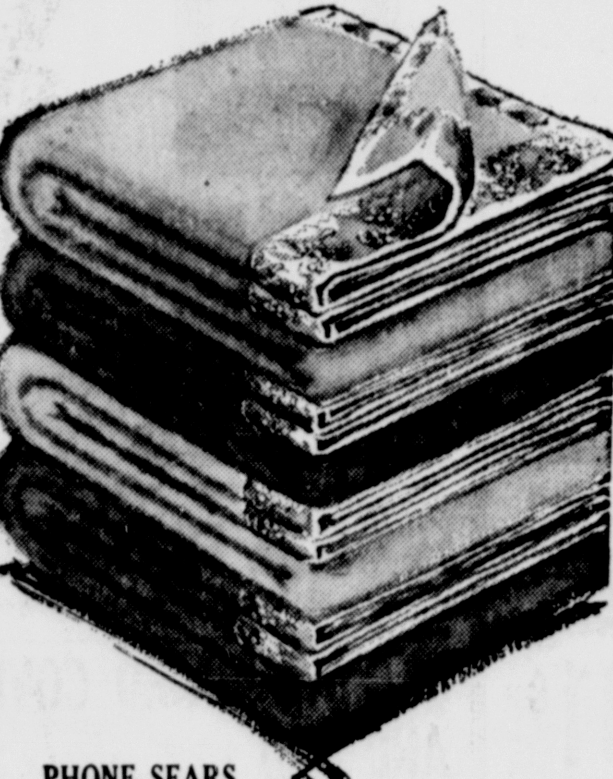

The non-credit workshop will cover the history of taxation, filing requirements, forms, exemptions and dependents, dividends, interest, pensions and annuities, rents, sales or exchange of property, miscellaneous income, sick pay, moving expenses, employee business expenses, standard deductions, itemized deductions, credits and computation of the tax.

Information about the course can be obtained from the director of community services at the college's Stone Ridge campus.

CARDINAL DIES — Pierre Cardinal Veillot, Archbishop of Paris, died in Paris early today at the age of 55. The Cardinal underwent an emergency operation in November and it was disclosed he was suffering from cancer. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Successful Investing....

by ROGER E. SPEAR

Investment Advisor & Analyst

Speculate in High-Priced Values Rather Than Risks

Q—We are in our middle 50s, with a retirement income of $350 a month. I am taking a new job and can invest all my wages. I would like to try some low-priced stock for a fast return, such as A.J. Industries. At present we hold Series E bonds; bank savings; A.T.&T.; RCA; Keller Industries and Harco. What is your advice?

J.A.—If you will allow me to say so, you are rather late stepping into low-priced stocks. Over the past year there has been great speculation in those issues, and A.J. Industries—essentially a war baby—has about quadrupled in price during this period. Your present stockholdings are satisfactory but rather slow. If you must speculate, why not forget the dollar price and buy highly valued quality stocks where the risk seems mainly in market fluctuations. I advise you strongly to forget about low-priced stocks for a fast return, since I think you have missed the boat by about a year. In their place I suggest Burroughs, one of the most promising of the office equipment and computer stocks. I also like Arizona-based Talley Industries, which is involved in solid rocket propellants and is moving into oil and disk-packs-memory devices for computers growth item.

Q—I have $30,000 in savings and would like your suggestions for something that would give me a highly yield. We are interested only in income. Could you suggest bonds?—H.M.

A—Bonds seem satisfactory in your situation, but there are some drawbacks. If money rates harden, the price of bonds will decline; you must also remember that most bonds are subject to call within a relatively short space of time. With this understanding, I suggest Aluminum Co. of America debenture 6s of 1992, nonredeemable before 1977, selling to yield 6.06 per cent; also General Telephone debenture 6 1/2s, selling on a 6.25 per cent basis and not redeemable before 1976.

Memphis Gets That Feeling

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Negotiations in the three-day-old Memphis sanitation strike broke up early today. An estimated 2,600 tons of garbage and rubbish is stacking up on the streets daily.

Talks between the city and the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees were to resume in the office of Mayor Henry Loeb. No progress was reported.

The garbage collectors and drivers are seeking city recognition of the union as their bargaining agent. They also are asking 55 cent hourly pay raises for laborers, now paid $1.80, and 90-cent boosts for the truck drivers, currently making $2.10.

City officials have branded the walkout as illegal under a 1966 Chancery Court decision forbidding municipal or county workers from striking or picketing.

Y Class Starts

Tonight marks the beginning session in the junior and senior lifesaving course in the YMCA. Girls and boys who are 12 and over will meet Wednesday from 6:30-8:30 in this eight week class. Instructors Virginia Hawkins and Peter Wells who are nationally certified teachers caution swimmers that there is a limited number of applicants that can be accepted. For further information the YMCA may be contacted.

The YMCA is a member of the Community Chest.

Pleads Guilty To Drug Charge

A 20-year-old student at New Paltz State University College, who has pleaded guilty to a drug charge resulting from a state police routine traffic check on Route 9 in Fishkill, will be sentenced on Feb. 20.

Bruce Allen Tileggi, of Croton-on-Hudson, was arrested by Troopers George Lawson and Raymond Thomas on charges of third degree criminal possession of a dangerous drug, and possession of an implement for administering it. Both are misdemeanors.

Troopers stopped a car driven by Tileggi and charged him with driving a car without a horn and having excessive smoke in the vehicle. Lawson and Thomas said they discovered the student had a glass vial of marijuana and a pipe. Fishkill Town Justice Francis T. Williams gave the accused student an unconditional discharge on the traffic violations, and deferred sentencing on the narcotics charge until Feb. 20. Tileggi was released in his own custody pending another court appearance.

Harsh Exchange At Korea Meeting

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP)—A North Korean representative said today there will be war unless the United States gets out of Korea, and the U.S. delegate replied that the North could insure peace by stopping acts of aggression.

The harsh exchange came at a meeting of the Military Armistice Commission called to discuss charges by the U.N. Command of armistice violations by the Communists. There was no discussion of the fate of the 83 crewmen of the Pueblo, a U.S. intelligence ship seized by North Korea Jan. 23. Meanwhile, U.S. special envoy Cyrus Vance extended by still another day his visit to Seoul, where he is trying to patch up U.S.-South Korean differences over U.S. priorities in Korea. The South Koreans have complained that the United States is paying more attention to the Pueblo incident than to the attempted assassination of South Korean President Chung Hee Park Jan. 21 by 31 North Korean commandos who invaded Seoul. Rear Adm. John V. Smith, senior U.S. representative on the armistice commission, cited the assassination attempt today and said there had been 74 other serious truce violations by the North in the last 44 days. "The decision whether there is peace or hostility depends upon the whim of an apparently irresponsible North Korea," he said. "Your side can have peace merely by unilaterally stopping acts of aggression. You must stop dispatching armed murderers into the Republic of Korea." North Korean Gen. Pak Chung Kook glared at Smith and replied: "We don't want war but we are not afraid of it." He said North Korea would match buildup for buildup, blow for blow "and all-out war with all-out war" if it should come to that. Pak added that it would come to war unless the United States agreed to "take your bloody hands off Korea and withdraw from South Korea."

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market showed a flurry of activity early Wednesday. Trading was active. The ticker tape lagged.

Gains outnumbered losses by some 60 issues on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 1.04 to 832.81.

Scientific Data climbed about 5 points, Teledyne more than 2, Monogram Industries about 1 1/2.

IBM tacked on 4 points, Xerox 3, Eastern Air Lines 1.

Brokers saw the action as a technical recovery after three straight sessions of sharp decline.

Polaroid slipped a point and International Nickel was down about 1 1/2.

Little change was shown among leading auto stocks. General Motors and American Motors inched higher. Steels were narrowly mixed.

Successful Investing....

by ROGER E. SPEAR
Investment Advisor & Analyst
Speculate in High-Priced
Values Rather Than Risks

Q—We are in our middle 50s, with a retirement income of $350 a month. I am taking a new job and can invest all my wages. I would like to try some low-priced stock for a fast return, such as A.J. Industries. At present we hold Series E bonds; bank savings; A.T.&T.; RCA; Keller Industries and Harco. What is your advice?—J.A.

A—If you will allow me to say so, you are rather late stepping into low-priced stocks. Over the past year there has been great speculation in those issues, and A.J. Industries—essentially a war baby—has about quadrupled in price during this period. Your present stockholdings are satisfactory but rather slow. If you must speculate, why not forget the dollar price and buy highly valued quality stocks where the risk seems mainly in market fluctuations. I advise you strongly to forget about low-priced stocks for a fast return, since I think you have missed the boat by about a year. In their place I suggest Burroughs, one of the most promising of the office equipment and computer stocks. I also like Arizona-based Talley Industries, which is involved in solid rocket propellants and is moving into oil and disk-packs. memory devices for computers growth item.

Q—I have $30,000 in savings and would like your suggestions for something that would give me a highly yield. We are interested only in income. Could you suggest bonds?—H.M.

A—Bonds seem satisfactory in your situation, but there are some drawbacks. If money rates harden, the price of bonds will decline; you must also remember that most bonds are subject to call within a relatively short space of time. With this understanding, I suggest Aluminum Co. of America debenture 6s of 1992, nonredeemable before 1977, selling to yield 6.06 per cent; also General Telephone debenture 6½s, selling on a 6.25 per cent basis and not redeemable before 1976.

Memphis Gets That Feeling

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Negotiations in the three-day-old Memphis sanitation strike broke up early today. An estimated 2,600 tons of garbage and rubbish is stacking up on the streets daily.

Talks between the city and the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees were to resume in the office of Mayor Henry Loeb. No progress was reported. The garbage collectors and drivers are seeking city recognition of the union as their bargaining agent. They also are asking 55 cent hourly pay raises for laborers, now paid $1.80, and 90-cent boosts for the truck drivers, currently making $2.10. City officials have branded the walkout as illegal under a 1966 Chancery Court decision forbidding municipal or county workers from striking or picketing.

Y Class Starts

Tonight marks the beginning session in the junior and senior lifesaving course in the YMCA. Girls and boys who are 12 and over will meet Wednesdays from 6:30-8:30 in this eight week class. Instructors Virginia Hawkins and Peter Wells who are nationally certified teachers caution swimmers that there is a limited number of applicants that can be accepted. For further information the YMCA may be contacted. The YMCA is a member of the Community Chest.

Film Study Grant

Peter Bradley, film program director of the New York State Council on the Arts, has announced that Wappingers Central School has been awarded a $300 grant in support of an English department elective in the study of film and other mass media. Open to sophomores, juniors and seniors at Ketcham Senior High School, the course is taught by Thomas L. Rowe of the Wappingers English Department.

Pleads Guilty To Drug Charge

A 20-year-old student at New Paltz State University College, who has pleaded guilty to a drug charge resulting from a state police routine traffic check on Route 9 in Fishkill, will be sentenced on Feb. 20.

Bruce Allen Tillegi, of Croton-on-Hudson, was arrested by Troopers George Lawson and Raymond Thomas on charges of third degree criminal possession of a dangerous drug, and possession of an implement for administering it. Both are misdemeanors.

Troopers stopped a car driven by Tillegi and charged him with driving a car without a horn and having excessive smoke in the vehicle. Lawson and Thomas said they discovered the student had a glass vial of marijuana and a pipe. Fishkill Town Justice Francis T. Williams gave the accused student an unconditional discharge on the traffic violations, and deferred sentencing on the narcotics charge until Feb. 20. Tillegi was released in his own custody pending another court appearance.

Harsh Exchange At Korea Meeting

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP)—A North Korean representative said today there will be war unless the United States gets out of Korea, and the U.S. delegate replied that the North could insure peace by stopping acts of aggression.

The harsh exchange came at a meeting of the Military Armistice Commission called to discuss charges by the U.N. Command of armistice violations by the Communists. There was no discussion of the fate of the 83 crewmen of the Pueblo, the U.S. intelligence ship seized by North Korea Jan. 23. Meanwhile, U.S. special envoy Cyrus Vance extended by still another day his visit to Seoul, where he is trying to patch up U.S.-South Korean differences over U.S. priorities in Korea. The South Koreans have complained that the United States is paying more attention to the Pueblo incident than to the attempted assassination of South Korean President Chung Hee Park Jan. 21 by 31 North Korean commandos who invaded Seoul. Rear Adm. John V. Smith, senior U.S. representative on the armistice commission, cited the assassination attempt today and said there had been 74 other serious truce violations by the North in the last 44 days. "The decision whether there is peace or hostility depends upon the whim of an apparently irresponsible North Korea," he said. "Your side can have peace merely by unilaterally stopping acts of aggression. You must stop dispatching armed murderers into the Republic of Korea." North Korean Gen. Pak Chung Kook glared at Smith and replied: "We don't want war but we are not afraid of it." He said North Korea would match buildup for buildup, blow for blow "and all-out war with all-out war" if it should come to that. Pak added that it would come to war unless the United States agreed to "take your bloody hands off Korea and withdraw from South Korea."

DR. MARGARET MEAD

Author Set As Speaker At Marist

Dr. Margaret Mead, well-known author and anthropologist, will speak on the topic Civil Liberties Today on Thursday, Feb. 28, at 8 p.m. at Champagnat Hall, Marist College, Poughkeepsie. Her appearance is being sponsored by the Mid-Hudson Chapter of the New York Civil Liberties Union. Dr. Mead is famous for her studies of the cultures of the Pacific Islands, Russia and the United States. She also served in several important advisory posts for the United States government during and after World War II. She is presently a curator of ethnology at the American Museum of Natural History and an adjunct professor of anthropology at Columbia University in New York City. Her writings include Coming of Age in Samoa (1928), Growing Up in New Guinea (1930), Male and Female (1949), Soviet Attitudes Toward Authority (1951), Continuities in Cultural Evolution (1964) and numerous other books and monographs. Dr. Margaret Mead has received more than a dozen significant awards during her career, beginning with the National Achievement Award in 1940. In 1949 she was named Outstanding Woman of the Year in the Field of Science by the Associated Press. She received the Distinguished Service Award presented by the American Federation of International Institutes in 1958. Most recently, in 1965, she was named one of the Outstanding Women of the Twentieth Century by the Organization of Worldwide Women Editors. Tickets for Dr. Mead's talk are available for a donation from The Three Arts, the Hello Shop and Duso Travel, all in Poughkeepsie.

POSSIBLE NEW JAIL SITE — This tract looking west from the former TB Hospital on Golden Hill has been mentioned as the possible site for a new county jail. The property including the former hospital and now infirmary annex, the nurses home, Mutual Aid Control Center and

An Unusual Sight

12-Year-Old Viet Boy Takes Pictures

SAIGON (AP) — One of the most unusual sights in a city overflowing with strange sights is the slight figure of a 12-year-old Vietnamese boy darting into the street battles, scrambling across the rubble, deliberately heading for trouble.

While other youngsters flee danger, he looks for it.

He is a professional photographer and he has a thick stack of published pictures to prove it.

Not much taller than four feet and only a smidgen over 60 pounds, bright-eyed Lo Manh Hung wears his cameras like a badge.

He has been taking pictures professionally more than two years, since his locally well-known father, Lo Vinh, was injured covering street rioting and needed help in his work.

With the father, who is 58 years old, the pair form a team boasting Saigon's oldest and youngest working photographers. The father, a cameraman for 44 years, was born in North Vietnam, studied art and literature at a French university, but turned to his hobby of photography for income when times got tough.

For years he traveled, taking pictures throughout Indochina, and didn't marry until he was 43. A few months later he and his bride fled the Communists in the North and came to Saigon.

They now have eight children. At 12, Lo Manh Hung is the oldest. The youngest is 18 months.

Lo Manh Hung and his father arise every day at 5 a.m. to be early on the job and usually don't finish until after 9 p.m.

"That's 365 days a year," the father sighs.

In less hectic times, the pair scoot about the city on a motorbike to cover official government affairs, weddings, airport arrivals, parties, fires, whatever may make news.

Lo Manh Hung helps with the film processing and printing, then turns messenger-salesman, peddling fresh prints to local newspapers and foreign news agencies.

His small, slim frame and child's face are both a hindrance and help in his work.

Police invariably stop him as he tries to pass through official gates, demanding: "Where do you think you're going?"

He explains calmly he is the son of photographer Lo Vinh, produces his credentials and cameras, and usually continues on his way.

But not always—and that, he says, is his biggest problem: convincing police he really is a working news photographer.

The advantage of his size has been seen often by the Saigon press corps. As photographers jam together, elbowing, pushing, clawing for the right picture angle of an arriving dignitary or a crowded news conference, who squirms through? Lo Manh Hung.

He snakes through a crowd on all fours, emerges in the front of the lot and clicks happily away with the best angle of all. He is so short he never blocks those behind and they let him be.

Marbletown Group To Hear Architect

The February meeting Thursday of the Marbletown Citizens Organization will present Albert E. Milliken, architect, as its guest speaker.

Milliken, whose offices are in Kingston, resides in Accord, Town of Marbletown. He attended Cornell University College of Agriculture. Serving as Lt. Col. in the United States Air Force, he was AF project officer at Thule AFB, Greenland.

Milliken will discuss Cost of School Construction, a subject of which he has much knowledge and experience. The local architect designed the Chambers School in Kingston; Grant Morse School, Saugerties; plus additions to the High School and two other schools in Saugerties. Recently, he completed a 3½ million dollar high school in Marlboro. Milliken also designed the Phase II of the Ulster County Community College in Stone Ridge.

A question, answer session will follow his talk.

Other matters of interest to be brought before the membership will include the junkyard ordinance, report of the educational committee, the recently proposed Marbletown-Rochester Recreation Center and the Route 209 By-Pass.

The Marbletown Citizens Organization holds its meetings the third Thursday of each month, 7:30 p.m., at the American Legion Hall, Route 209, Stone Ridge.

Congress Recess Does Little For That August 1 Quit

BY CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — After three weeks of work, Congress is taking the first in a series of scheduled vacations that will do little to insure the Aug. 1 adjournment its leaders claim is possible.

This recess, which began last Thursday, is in honor of President Abraham Lincoln's birthday anniversary two days ago. Republicans traditionally spend the week making speeches in honor of the first president of their party.

The Senate, which met for five seconds on Monday, meets today to resume regular business. But with a filibuster in progress against civil rights legislation, little if anything is expected to be accomplished.

The House, which met for 33 minutes Monday, plans a token session Thursday in order to adjourn until next Monday, when legislative business will be resumed.

Next week will also be a short week, because Washington's birthday falls on Thursday.

Although the leaderships of both houses talked optimistically of adjourning before the start of the political conventions Aug. 5, little has happened since to warrant that optimism.

While most presidential messages detailing proposals outlined in the State of the Union message have come to Capitol Hill faster than in past years, accompanying legislation has not always been ready. As a result, committee work is just starting.

The Senate's first order of business for the year was to decide on vacation dates. Deliberation since has been confined to civil rights.

A handful of bills have been passed in the House, including the interest disclosure measure passed last year by the Senate. Although the official vacation dates announced in the Senate showed no layoffs for as long as a week, the actual schedule is likely to be more liberal.

The next vacation, for example, is the Easter recess, which is scheduled to last from April 11 to April 17, a Wednesday. If history is any example, activity will not be resumed until April 22, a Monday.

Thant Delays His Return Trip

LONDON (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant delayed his return to New York today and flew to Paris instead, possibly to get a message from Hanoi, but British officials were not optimistic that Vietnam peace negotiations are any closer.

After meetings with a North Vietnamese representative in New Delhi and talks with Soviet and British leaders in Moscow and London, Thant decided Tuesday night to go to Paris after his baggage had been put on a New York plane. Some reports said he received word that a message from Hanoi had arrived for him at the Paris offices of North Vietnamese envoy Mai Van Bo.

These reports said the message could be a reply to proposals for peace talks made by Thant to Nguyen Hao, North Vietnam's consul-general in New Delhi.

However, there was little optimism in London that a further contact between Thant and Hanoi would be decisive for efforts to get the Americans and the Communists to a conference table.

"There are simply no signs of willingness by North Vietnam to talk peace on terms that the United States could accept," one source said.

Thant conferred in London with Foreign Secretary George Brown and Prime Minister Harold Wilson, who recently visited both Soviet leaders in Moscow and President Johnson in Washington. After talking with Thant, Wilson told the House of Commons again Tuesday that "only a very narrow gap" keeps the United States and North Vietnam from starting negotiations. Thant's aides were secretive about the purpose of his trip to Paris. They indicated he would confer with French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and possibly with President Charles de Gaulle. It could not be established whether Thant intended to meet personally with Hanoi's man in Paris.

A spokesman at U.N. headquarters in New York said Thant would return there some time Thursday.

Heart Fund Town Chairmen Are Listed

The 1968 Heart Fund Chairman, Franklin S. Kelder, announces the drive is well organized and will be reaching its all out concentrated effort during extended "Heart Sunday" throughout the county during the week of Feb. 19 through national designated "Heart Sunday, Feb. 25.

Township chairmen for the County of Ulster are Esopus—Mrs. Robert Berger; Gardiner—George Majestic; Hardenburgh—Mrs. Marks Buerge; Hurley—Mrs. John Spindler; Mrs. Albert Byrne; Peter Weider; Kingston—Mrs. Lynn R. Seaver; Lloyd—Mrs. Jack Mesquita; Marbletown—Mrs. Harold Kearney; Marlboro—Paul Quimby; New Paltz—Mrs. John Logan; Olive—Mrs. Milton Gilbert; Plattekill—Mrs. Muriel Ward; Mrs. Marion Jensen; Rochester—Mrs. Eral Conklin; Rosendale—Mrs. Frank Negro; Saugerties—Lawrence Cahill; Shandaken—George Kirk; Ulster—Percy Bush; Wawarsing—Kenneth Mitchell; Woodstock—no chairman; City of Kingston—Raymond Korzendorfer; Shawangunk—Mrs. Harry Pfaff; Mrs. Charles Miller.

Since the first nationwide Heart Fund Drive in 1949 more than 130 million Heart Fund dollars have been channeled into medical research.

Out of every Heart Fund dollar given to the Ulster County Heart Fund drive, 25 per cent is allocated to the American Heart Association for research.

Eventually, the local Heart Association hopes that 50 cents from each dollar given will go towards heart research. Sixty-seven per cent of the donation remains in Ulster County to carry out the Heart Association's many community programs. Some of these programs are the education, both professional and public; through the dissemination of current data through research activities to physicians, teachers, and Tyler, Republican of Chittenan-nurses, and provides free to go.

Brown Wins Election

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The election of Richard A. Brown as a member of the Assembly in the 14th District, which includes Chenango and Madison Counties, has been certified by the State Board of Canvassers.

Brown, a Republican from Bridgeport, defeated Democrat Robert D. McNeil of Norwich in a special election Jan. 15.

Gov. Rockefeller ordered the special election to fill the unexpired term of the late Harold I. physicians, teachers, and Tyler, Republican of Chittenan-nurses, and provides free to go.

POSSIBLE NEW JAIL SITE — This tract looking west from the former TB Hospital on Golden Hill has been mentioned as the possible site for a new county jail. The property including the former hospital and now infirmary annex, the nurses home, Mutual Aid Control Center and a water tank was recently found to consist of 68.18 acres. The county-owned land was originally believed to have only 40 acres. A recent land survey authorized by the old County Board of Supervisors determined the exact acreage. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

An Unusual Sight

12-Year-Old Viet Boy Takes Pictures

SAIGON (AP) — One of the most unusual sights in a city overflowing with strange sights is the slight figure of a 12-year-old Vietnamese boy darting in to the street battles, scrambling across the rubble, deliberately heading for trouble.

While other youngsters flee danger, he looks for it. He is a professional photographer and he has a thick stack of published pictures to prove it.

Not much taller than four feet and only a smidgin over 60 pounds, bright-eyed Lo Manh Hung wears his cameras like a badge.

The most commonly used antiseptic for burn cases is silver nitrate solution, which is permanently staining to most materials. The wall covering, stainless steel fixtures and treated floors of the new unit are resistant to this staining.

The nursing staff of the new unit is responsible for burn patients alone and has been chosen on the basis of experience in this area of nursing. They function as a special staff, similar to that in the hospital's intensive care unit, and can be augmented whenever the burn case load is high.

$119,420 Approved for County

Community Outreach Funds Assured Through November

Douw S. Meyers Jr., president of the Ulster County Community Action Committee, Inc., announced today that Federal funds from the Office of Economic Opportunity amounting to $119,420 has been approved to assist in financing on-going community action outreach programs through November, 1968.

Additional Federal funds in the amount of $60,297 have also been approved to continue operation of the Full Year Head Start program now being conducted at 72 Wurts Street.

Six Service Centers

The present outreach program is being carried out in six neighborhood service centers in Ulster County: Rondout, in Kingston, Ellenville, Poughkeepsie, Wallkill, Saugerties and Highland. The main emphasis in the program is to provide members of low income groups with assistance in job training, housing, legal problems, food surplus, health problems, and education.

Special effort is made to assist young people who need job counseling and information about educational opportunities. The elderly in Ulster County make up a large percentage of the citizens who are at or near the poverty level. The committee has actively encouraged the formation of Senior Citizens Clubs so that members may have an opportunity to learn about the various services and benefits to which they are entitled by law. Many senior citizens are also contributing their experience and skills for the benefit of the community at large.

In the past year Ulster County Community Action has co-operated with such agencies as the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency, the staffs of the various local Boards of Education, the Citizens Survey Committee, the three Community Chest - sponsored Councils on Health, Family Services, and Character Building, the County Department of Social Services, the Ulster County Bar Association, the Kingston Housing Authority, the Kingston Area Council of Churches, the County Department of Health, the Mid-Hudson Pattern for Progress, Inc. and the State University at New Paltz in developing new approaches to the problems which confront the poor.

The Results

As a result of these new directions three non-professionals have been employed by two of the Boards of Education; a group of young men from Downtown Kingston are being counseled for potential on-the-job training spots with local firms; two men have been placed in jobs through the Kingston Chamber of Commerce program; under the sponsorship of Community Action two youths are enrolled in the Work Study program at Ulster County Community College; a field station of the Health Department was reopened in Wallkill; a series of job interviews has been held in Ellenville; civic groups in Ellenville and Kingston are moving forward in efforts to provide additional housing under the 221

(b) program; senior citizens groups have been formed in reaction to the Summer Recreation Program have shown improvement in school; Highland, Saugerties, Wallkill, Ellenville and in Wiltwyck Gardens Public Housing, Kingston; the food surplus program have resulted in making it simpler for the aged and infirm to use this program; and wider recreational opportunities are being offered the youngsters served by the downtown Kingston Recreation Center.

The full year Head Start Program which began in September, 1967 with an enrollment of 32 children is designed primarily to help economically deprived pre-school children of working mothers. These youngsters are offered a daily program of activities designed to increase their language skills and perception of the environment. The children receive three nutritious meals a day as well as between-meal snacks. Healthful outdoor play is combined with field trips to a local business, fire station, Public School, court house, library and parks. Indoor activities consist of games, story telling, music, and creative play with finger paints, modeling clay, and puppets.

Senior Citizens to Have Yellow 'Security' Card

A bright yellow card will soon serve as a "symbol of security" for the senior citizens of Kingston.

Plans were made at the regular meeting of the Kingston Senior Citizens Advisory Council, for the incorporation of the "buddy system" into the council's program. According to Alexander Yosman, executive director of the Kingston Housing Authority and council coordinator, the "buddy system" proposed by the council in December, will hopefully be adopted by the council in December, will hopefully become effective by March 1.

At that time, cards containing emergency numbers and instructions for use of the card will be distributed by the Council in cooperation with the Kingston Area Financial Council.

In highlighting the use of the card by Kingston senior citizens, Yosman said, that much like the ice cards of yesterday, the "buddy system" cards would be placed in the windows of senior citizen dwelling each morning, indicating to neighbors that they are up and about and not in need of outside assistance. The system, currently in use in many communities, is used with a great deal of effectiveness by the Kingston Housing Authority at Wiltwyck Gardens.

In addition to the "buddy system," plans are underway for the release of a questionnaire by mid-March in an effort to better understand the needs of Kingston's senior citizens. Mr. Yosman explained that the questionnaire consisting of approximately 15 questions, will attempt to make the community aware of the problems now facing the senior citizens and will be used as a guideline for possible assistance where the council can be of help.

Members of the Council are representatives of the Ulster County Department of Health, Gateway Industries, Inc., New York State Employment Service, Ulster County Department of Social Services, Social Security Administration, Kingston Recreation Commission, Kingston Housing Authority and Ulster County Bar Association.

CP Center Is Topic for Ulster Kiwanis

Activities of the Ulster County Cerebral Palsy Center were discussed for members of Town of Ulster Kiwanis Club this week by Mrs. Helen Oberkirch.

She said the Center, located at 400 Broadway, now treats 150 children and has 50 others on the waiting list.

She also noted the center treats all physically handicapped patients and does not limit itself to Cerebral Palsy cases. The Center is the only treatment center in Ulster and Greene Counties.

In discussing the patient load, it was noted that the two city hospitals are helping to treat some of the therapy cases to ease the burden placed on the center through lack of qualified help. The center has shortages in the fields of speech and physical therapy, she said. Mrs. Oberkirch said there is also a lack of space at the present location and plans are underway to construct a new facility. It is hoped the ground breaking will take place this year.

Mrs. Oberkirch touched on the recent telethon held over Channel 10 last month. She said the total pledges amounted to $9,975 and over $6,500 has been collected. She praised the work of local youngsters who voluntarily raised $1,400 for the fund.

RICHARD IVES
Serves Near DMZ

Marine Corps Corporal Richard H. Ives, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ives of RD 1, Box 332, Ulster Park, is serving with the corps in the Northern part of South Vietnam. Cpl Ives, who has been in Vietnam since December, enlisted for a three-year hitch in 1966. He was previously stationed at Camp Garcia, Vieques, Puerto Rico with the 8th Engineer Battalion. He attended Kingston High School.

Promote Maurer

John G. Maurer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Maurer of Hampton Road, Marlboro, has been promoted to sergeant in the U.S. Air Force.

Sgt. Maurer is an electrical power specialist at Offutt AFB, Neb., as a member of the Strategic Air Command.

He previously served at Phan Rang AB, Vietnam.

The sergeant, a graduate of Marlboro Central High School, attended Dutchess Community College at Poughkeepsie.

Van Evera on Duty

Technical Sgt. Morgan H. Van Evera, son of Mrs. Gilbert Young of 6615 Jamieson Avenue, Reseda, Calif., has arrived for duty at Tyndall AFB, Fla.

The sergeant is a first sergeant with the Air Defense Command.

He was previously assigned at Onward AFB, Calif., and has completed a tour of duty in Vietnam.

He is a graduate of Sewanhaka High School, Floral Park. The sergeant's wife, Rose, is the daughter of Master Sergeant B. M. Caey of 1236 Pecan Avenue, Amarillo, Tex. His father, Morgan L. Van Evera, lives on RD 3, Wallkill.

Award for Maurer

Staff Sergeant John G. Maurer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Maurer, who reside on Hampton Road, Marlboro, is a member of the 3902nd Air Base Wing at Offutt AFB, Neb., that has earned the U.S. Air Force Outstanding Unit Award. He will wear a distinctive service ribbon to mark his affiliation with the 3902nd. The unit was honored for exceptionally meritorious performance during a one-year period.

Sergeant Maurer, a graduate of Marlboro Central High School, received an AA degree from Dutchess Community College, Poughkeepsie.

Sanford in Vietnam

Staff Sergeant George A. Sanford Jr., son of Mrs. Lucy Sanford of 374 Washington Avenue, is on duty at Tan Son Nhut AB, Vietnam.

Sergeant Sanford, a navigation equipment repairman, is a member of the Pacific Air Forces.

Before his arrival in Vietnam, he was assigned to Shaw AFB, S. C.

The sergeant is a 1960 graduate of Kingston High School. His wife, Marylou, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stratton of Star Route, Shokan.

KARL E. MOEHRKE

Receives Army Commendation

SFC Karl E. Moehrke, currently serving a tour of duty in Vietnam, has been awarded the Army Commendation Medal "for distinguishing himself by exceptionally meritorious performance of duty." The citation stated in part that, "The success he achieved in the various aspects of his job increased the effectiveness of his unit and the entire command," of which he was a member.

SFC Moehrke is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Moehrke, New Paltz. His wife, the former Kristina Reed, and two children are residing in New Paltz until his return from Vietnam in September.

RICHARD W. EFFNER

Graduates Basic

The U.S. Coast Guard Seaman Apprentice son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace J. Effner of 460 Delaware Avenue, and husband of the former Susan N. Nack of 19 Van Gaasbeek Street, was graduated from basic training at the Coast Guard Recruit Training Center, Cape May, N. J.

Under the guidance of experienced Coast Guard petty officers, Seaman Apprentice Richard W. Effner successfully completed a rigid eight week training program designed to transform him from a civilian into a trained Coast Guardsman.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

Feb. 14, 1948 — An $85,882 state aid allotment to the county was more than $5,000 higher than 1947.

Heavy ice once again clogged the Hudson River, curtailing shipping, in one of the coldest winters in recent memory.

Feb. 14, 1958 — Kingston High lost a thriller to Port Jervis, 73-70, in a DUSO basketball game at the Kate Walton Field House. Alex Osowick led the Port attack with 33 points.

A midnight fire at Hudson River State Hospital in Poughkeepsie forced the evacuation of 250 patients.

Hann Graduates

Second Lt. Stephen D. Hann, son of the Reverend and Mrs. George H. Hann of RD 1, Gardiner, has been graduated from the training course at Keesler AFB, Miss., for U.S. Air Force communications officers.

Lt. Hann, who studied maintenance of radio, teletype and cryptographic communications equipment, is being assigned to Vandenberg AFB, Calif., for duty with the Air Force Communications Service.

The lieutenant, a 1961 graduate of Grosse Pointe (Mich.) High School, received a BA degree in 1965 from Hobart College in Geneva. He has also studied at the New School for Social Science in New York and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Lt. Hann was commissioned in 1967 upon completion of Officer Training School at Lackland AFB, Tex.

Medal for Halwick

Army Specialist Four Vernon J. Halwick, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon A. Halwick, 79 Lincoln Street, received the Air Medal Jan. 31 in Vietnam. Spec. Halwick earned the award for combat aerial support of ground operations in Vietnam. Halwick is a helicopter crew chief in the 608th Transportation Company.

Quick Promoted

Donald W. Quick, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murrel R. Quick, Coxing Road, Cottekill, was promoted to Army private pay grade E-2 upon completion of basic combat training at Ft. Dix, N. J., Jan. 18.

The promotion was awarded two months earlier than is customary under an Army policy providing incentive for outstanding trainees.

In the SERVICE

MEDAL WINNER — U. S. Army Lt. Colonel Philip H. Welch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hermine A. Murray, 1 Simmons Court, Woodstock, receives the Legion of Merit with citation and certificate in recent ceremonies at Ft. Campbell, Ky. Making the presentation (L) is Col. J. J. McNeerney, commanding officer of the U. S. Army Hospital at the post. Col. Welch's wife, Georgette, is at right. Col. Welch received the award for "exceptional meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services" while assigned to the 71st Evacuation Hospital in Vietnam from July, 1966 to Nov. 1967.

Fisk Graduates

LUVISI

St. Louis Symphony Here on February 19

The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, the second oldest symphony orchestra in the United States ranking among the top 10 orchestras of the nation, will appear in Kingston, Monday, Feb. 19 at the Community Theater, for members of the Community Concert Association.

Appearing with the orchestra will be Lee Luvisi, guest pianist who has established a formidable career as a concert artist at the age of 28.

The St. Louis Symphony is now in its 87th year, having been founded in 1880 when a fund of $8,000 was raised to sponsor a series of winter concerts. From this small beginning, the orchestra has grown steadily. An important milestone in the orchestra's early history came in 1890, when it was merged with the St. Louis Choral Society. The joint organization, the St. Louis Choral-Symphony Society, presented six choral or instrumental concerts a year for nearly 20 years. In 1893, the orchestra was incorporated, continuing its joint choral-instrumental program under the direction of Joseph Otten, who had been conductor of the Choral Society. A year later, Otten was succeeded by Alfred Ernst. During the period that he was conductor, the orchestra numbered about 55 musicians and was augmented by a chorus of 200 voices. The orchestral music assumed more importance, and the "pops" concerts were introduced. After Ernst resigned, the orchestra was conducted by Max Zach, Rudolph Ganz, Vladimir Golschmann, Edouard Van Remoortel and at the present time is under the directorship of Maestro Eleasar De Carvalho, brilliant Brazilian and internationally known composer.

This renowned conductor was until four years ago, the conductor of the Brazilian National Symphony in Rio de Janeiro. He has increased the orchestra to 90 musicians, and has focused national attention on the St. Louis Symphony through many fine performances of important new works.

Mr. De Carvalho came to the United States for the first time in 1946. It was at this time that he met the late Dr. Serge Koussevitzky, conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra at the Berkshire Music Festival in Massachusetts. Mr. Koussevitzky was so impressed with Mr. De Carvalho's conducting that he later invited him to conduct the Boston Symphony for two weeks of the 1947-48 season and to be his assistant in the training class for conductors. He remained at Tanglewood for several summers as head of the orchestral division of the Berkshire Festival. Mr. De Carvalho has frequently been on the podium with leading orchestras of Europe, including the Berlin Philharmonic, London Philharmonic, Belgian National and orchestras in Austria, France as well as Italy. He is recognized as one of the foremost interpreters of modern music, as well as classic symphonic literature. As a composer, the St. Louis conductor is best known for his operas, "The Discovery of Brazil" and "Tiradentes" which won a $4,000 prize in 1941.

The orchestra has performed in every section of the United States, having made its first highly successful tour of the West coast last season.

Lee Luvisi, guest pianist, fulfills a busy schedule of prime recital and orchestral engagements each year. He has been a frequent performer on music series in Cleveland, Washington, New York, Philadelphia, Ohio, and Chicago. Last year, his impressive list included the New York Philharmonic, New Orleans, Milwaukee, Baltimore and Indianapolis. Until recently, Luvisi was the youngest member in the history of the famed Curtis Institute in Philadelphia which boasts on its staff the renowned Rudolf Serkin. On leaving Curtis, Luvisi assumed the post of "Artist-in-Residence" at the University of Louisville where he studied during his early adolescence.

A Laureate of the 1960 Queen Elizabeth of Belgium International Piano Competition, Luvisi stands among the best keyboard artists on the American scene today. The New York Times has said of him: "Mr. Luvisi has arrived at the point where his playing has near infallibility."

DeCARVALHO

CONFERENCE DELEGATES — Attending the annual conference of the Federation of Women's Republican Clubs of New York State, Inc., last at the Hotel Pierre, New York, were (L-R) Mrs. Lee Roy Crosswell; Mrs. Frederick Stang, president of the Ulster County Republican Women's Club; Mrs. Bernhardt S. Kramer; Mrs. Maria Dunham; and Mrs. Raymond LeFever, GOP vice chairman in Ulster County. With the ladies is Lt. Gov. Malcolm A. Wilson.

Dessert Parties Set by Hadassah

Kingston Chapter of Hadassah members will enjoy a series of dessert card parties to be held in members' homes throughout the city at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 20.

The event will benefit Hadassah supplies, which fills the linen closets of Hadassah's medical facilities in Israel. Those who wish to participate in this "afternoon out" may contact Mrs. Joseph Horowitz or Mrs. Ephraim Propp, reservations co-chairmen, who will arrange groupings in various hostess' homes.

Hadassah has embarked on its annual projects on behalf of Hadassah Medical Organization, with Mrs. Arthur London, vice president in charge of fund-raising, in charge. A special HMO benefit is headed by Mrs. Herbert Kleitke, aided by Mrs. Sidney Halpern; U.S. Savings Bonds will be awarded.

Also planned is the HMO page published in the Kingston Daily Freeman and "Eye Bank Day" solicitation; those interested in participating should contact Mrs. London. Mrs. George Starkman is donor treasurer.

Mrs. Arthur Landesman, chapter president, has extended Hadassah's thanks to local medical personnel who generously answered Hadassah's recent request for drug samples and medical supplies for the Hadassah hospital. The emergency requests resulted from the severe drain caused by the 1967 war, which overtaxed all medical facilities in Israel.

Mr. Koussevitzky was so impressed with Mr. De Carvalho's conducting that he later invited him to conduct the Boston Symphony for two weeks of the 1947-48 season and to be his assistant in the training class for conductors. He remained at Tanglewood for several summers as head of the orchestral division of the Berkshire Festival. Mr. De Carvalho has frequently been on the podium with leading orchestras of Europe, including the Berlin Philharmonic, London Philharmonic, Belgian National and orchestras in Austria, France as well as Italy. He is recognized as one of the foremost interpreters of modern music, as well as classic symphonic literature. As a composer, the St. Louis conductor is best known for his operas, "The Discovery of Brazil" and "Tiradentes" which won a $4,000 prize in 1941.

The orchestra has performed in every section of the United States, having made its first highly successful tour of the West coast last season.

Lee Luvisi, guest pianist, fulfills a busy schedule of prime recital and orchestral engagements each year. He has been a frequent performer on music series in Cleveland, Washington, New York, Philadelphia, Ohio, and Chicago. Last year, his impressive list included the New York Philharmonic, New Orleans, Milwaukee, Baltimore and Indianapolis. Until recently, Luvisi was the youngest member in the history of the famed Curtis Institute in Philadelphia which boasts on its staff the renowned Rudolf Serkin. On leaving Curtis, Luvisi assumed the post of "Artist-in-Residence" at the University of Louisville where he studied during his early adolescence.

A Laureate of the 1960 Queen Elizabeth of Belgium International Piano Competition, Luvisi stands among the best keyboard artists on the American scene today. The New York Times has said of him: "Mr. Luvisi has arrived at the point where his playing has near infallibility."

UCCC Receives Bid To Region 15 Tournament

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Sports Editor

Ulster County Community College's high scoring Senators have accepted an invitation to participate in the annual NJCAA Region XV basketball tournament at Trenton N. J., starting Feb. 29.

Three top-seeded teams already invited. Five others, one a seeded team, will be named later.

Host Mercer Junior College is seeded No. 1, ahead of Robert Morris College of Pittsburgh, one of two teams to beat Coach Mike Perry's squad this season.

Ulster has been seeded third and will play in the second game of the doubleheader on Thursday, Feb. 29, at approximately 5 p. m., Mercer officials said today.

Semi-finals will be played the next night, with the consolation and championship games on Saturday, March 1.

Winner of the Region XV tournament at Trenton will go

Perry Pleased

Coach Mike Perry, who had been more or less expecting the Region XV bid, was nevertheless highly enthusiastic about the upcoming competition.

"We've been pointing for this since the start of the season," said the aggressive young coach. "It will spur us in our remaining games and I'm confident we'll come up to the Trenton tournament in top form."

Mercer, the host team, is fifth ranked in the NJCAA ratings and of Feb. 8 boasted a perfect 14-0 record. Their 103.0 game average placed them 10th in national team offense.

UCCC, of course, led the national NJCAA offense ratings with a game mark of 118.2 as of the same date. And Joe Uhl's individual 32.2 was 8th in the nation. The leader was Ron Riordan of Becker College, Worcester, Mass. with a fabulous 45.9 average.

Ulster is undefeated in the Mid-Hudson at 6-0 and seeks its 7th straight tonight at Dutchess Community College.

(Freeman Sports Staff)

Kingston High School's basketball team fell victim to a third-quarter spurge by Beacon High, watching a 13-point lead disappear like ashes blown by the wind. The Maroons, however, rallied in their distinctive fashion to take a 61-58 overtime road Tuesday night.

It was the Maroons' 14th win in 15 outings, but must have been rather disappointing for coach Jack Gilligan as his team ran into trouble, falling behind in the fourth quarter and then fighting for its life before finally taking it in the extra session.

The win came on the foul line. Kingston and the Bulldogs held the same amount of field goals, 20, but it was making 21 of 30 (70%) foul shots for KHS compared to Beacon's 67% (18 of 28) that made the difference.

Kingston opened with a 13-8 quarter jump as just two players scored. The Maroon scoring was accounted for by A. J. (Andy) Murphy, who hit four shots from the floor and one foul, and Bruce Gilligan, who threw in two field goals.

Beacon's Nate Milligan, who had 1,019 career points to his credit going into the game, was held to just three in the opening period. His teammate, Charlie Harris, also had three.

Kingston upped the margin to eight by halftime, 30-22, running off seven points in a stretch while Beacon had none. The Maroon went from 15-12 to 22-12 in a two-minute span.

The Maroons' best individual effort in the quarter was shown by Bruce Gilligan, who hit a field goal and four fouls. Murphy picked up five on two field goals and a foul.

Harris Scores Six

Harris, meantime, kept the Bulldogs alive with six, all early in the period. Milligan registered the 'Dogs' last four. Kingston put in the first five points leading off the half, giving KHS its biggest margin, 13, with a score of 35-22. Only one minute had gone by, but trouble began to set in.

In a span covering the rest of the third and the first minute of the final stanza, Beacon tossed in 23 points while Kingston could only garner 10.

Milligan had seven in the third quarter, hitting two court-side shots and three fouls, as the 'Dogs' cut the lead in half and were down by four, 43-39. Beacon then proceeded to run off the first six points opening the final period. Milligan's jumper at 7:01 put Beacon on top, 45-43.

Byman's score knotted it at 45-45, but 15 seconds later, Milligan converted both ends of a one-and-one to put the 'Dogs' ahead, 47-45 for the last time.

The Maroon tied it again as Murphy, clobbered on a drive, sank two fouls, Ken Gilligan put Kingston back on top for good with a score 40 seconds later, making it 49-47 — 4:30 showing on the clock.

Phil Jackson added one for Beacon at 3:50. Ray Lindhorst canned a bucket to bring it to 51-48. Milligan scored on a tap to cut it again, but Murphy came through, hitting both attempts on a one-and-one to push the margin back to three, 53-51 with 2:55 left.

Milligan put in the next three, all on fouls, deadlocking it again at 53-51 with 2:21 showing.

Kingston had the opportunity to win it once, getting a pair of one-and-ones within 30 seconds of each other, but missed both times.

The final Maroon tally came on a two-pointer at 1:21 as Bruce Gilligan connected, but 23 seconds later, Milligan tied it.

Kingston held the ball, working for a good shot. Jerry Corrado's try with four seconds was off and Beacon controlled the carom.

Gilligan Connects

In overtime, a Beacon shot went astray. Kingston grabbed the ball, went down court and jumped ahead as Ken Gilligan struck for two. Only 41 seconds had elapsed, thus Beacon still had 2:19 in which to operate.

The Bulldogs played slow-down ball throughout. Behind so late in the game, most clubs would open up offensively and try to knot the score as quickly as possible.

Rondout Wins Over Saugerties, 66-50

Gordy Taylor is Rondout Valley's and the UCAL's top scorer, averaging over 22 points per game.

He let the Sawyers of Saugerties know that he could score against non-league opponents as well, canning 26 Tuesday night in leading the host Ganders to a 66-50 win over Saugerties of the DCSL.

Taylor popped for 15 in the first half (seven in the first, eight in the second periods) and helped Rondout accumulate an 11-point margin, 31-20.

He saw little playing time in the third and got only two points, but poured in nine more in four minutes of the final stanza to wind up with his total.

Rondout, which pressed throughout, had another double figure scorer, Frank Samms, the 6-foot-3 leaping center, dumped in 18, 10 of them coming on foul shots.

The Ganders, who never led by less than eight reaching that margin midway through the second quarter, picked up their ninth win in the last 10 starts. It was also their ninth home win without a defeat this season and boosts their 1967-68 record to 12-4.

For Saugerties, it was Roger Praetorius racking up 22 and John Carnright 13. Saugerties, however, had trouble keeping up with the high-flying Ganders.

In quarter scores, Rondout took a 12-7 first period edge and added to the advantage, 19-13, in the second. The teams

Saugerties Frosh End

With Pair of Wins

Bill Ohno asserted himself over the Saugerties freshman basketball team's two final games, clicking for 29 points combined as the Sawyers posted wins over Cardinal Farley and Ontario.

Ohno tossed in 14 against Farley, sitting out most of the game in favor of the substitutes as Saugerties built up a 26-5 first period edge en route to a 56-49 win Thursday.

Tuesday, the Sawyers broke it open in the third period and downed the Indians, 49-39.

Ohno had 15 for the game, but Dave Smith stole the spotlight, plunking in 15 of his total of 17 in the second half.

The two wins upped the Sawyers' final record to 8-6.

Rangers to School

NEW HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP) — Four members of the New York Rangers will become instructors this summer when the National Hockey League club holds a hockey school here at Skateland. The two week session will begin on July 15.

The clock moved steadily, but Beacon refused to change tactics, letting the time tick away while continuing to look for a KHS defensive lapse.

Milligan was fouled. With the pressure mounting, he stepped to the line. He notched 11 in the fourth period, but missed a pair of free throws as Beacon's hopes dimmed.

Kingston handled the rebound, put on its disastrous fast break and Murphy hit on a layup, putting KHS ahead 59-55 with 52 seconds remaining.

Harris was fouled with 39 seconds left. He missed the shot, but made the second. The solo point cut the lead down to three, keeping the Bulldogs' hopes alive.

Kingston, taking the ball in, moved quickly downcourt. Bruce Gilligan was hacked trying to shoot and he coolly sank the pair, storing things away for the Maroon, who were leading 61-56 and only 32 ticks left on the clock.

Milligan scored his 20th and 21st points on a jumper with 23 seconds left, but Kingston had it sewed up and ran out the clock.

Murphy High Scorer

Murphy wound up high for the night with 23. Bruce Gilligan rang up 20. Ken Gilligan and Byman had four apiece, Bruno five, Kohn three and Lindhorst, hampered by three fouls in the first nine minutes, also had three. Jerry Corrado did not score.

Harris hit a total of 14. Jerry Tucker seven and Woody Douglas and Phil Jackson five each.

Instead of trying to run and shoot with the Maroon (the Bulldogs couldn't keep up in the teams previous meeting), Beacon started-and-stayed with a slow-down, deliberate offense, constantly working for the better shots.

The control-the-ball type game, plus a rash of walking violations, limited KHS to only 55 shots. The Maroon made 20 of 70%, 39 r. 4 a.

Port Jervis Wrestlers Capture DUSO Pennant

"I'm tickled pink at the effort, the hard work, the dedication and the training the kids put in to give us our third DUSO League wrestling title in the six years we've competed. I'm just sorry the clincher had to come at the expense of Kingston," said Al Wilgard, Port Jervis wrestling coach, after his Red Raiders dumped the Maroon grapplers, 38-6 Tuesday afternoon.

Wilgard, whose Raiders piled up a 6-1 record, was obviously happy, but the reverse could be said for KHS mentor Ed Pfeifer, whose squad wound up at 0-8 in the league and had only one non-league win all season.

Port had an easy time with the Maroon, compared to the difficulty it had in winning the crown. The Porters had to win their last four league outings after losing to second-place Middletown and gaining a tie with Newburgh.

Against the Maroon, Port swept the first nine matches, piling up an utterly fantastic 33-0 lead. The Raiders actually had the match wrapped up after the seventh, when the score was 27-0. Only five matches remained.

Open With Pair

Port opened with a pair of decisions, followed that with two forfeits, took two more decisions and wrapped the match and title up with its first pin. Reginald Gardiner, 141 pounds, scored in 3:35 over Tom Coddington.

Port added two more decisions before Kingston got on the scoreboard. The Maroon's Russ Wilbur, in trouble early, got himself straightened out and posted a one-sided 12-4 win over T. A. Kalvenbach.

Kingston lost the next match on a pin, but closed out the scoring when Pete Stoll upped his league mark to 5-0, flattening Saul Singer in 3:58. Stoll's impressive skien marks him as the favorite for this Saturday league tournament at Newburgh.

"My kids were sitting around after the match, thinking of the upcoming tourney and they tried to figure out how they'd do, and who were to be the top seeds. They all agree, as I do, that all of Kingston's grapplers, especially Wilbur and Stoll, will have a big say in deciding the team title, Kingston should play the spoiler role," Wilgard said.

"The league was extremely balanced looking at the final standings, and it's anybody's tournament. You can throw out the dual meet records," Wilgard added.

Wilgard's team tallied 13 team points on its record, picking up two points for each win, plus one for a draw.

Middletown, which downed Liberty, 23-21, jumped over Newburgh into second with 12 points on a 6-2-0 mark. The Goldbacks ended with a 5-2-1 charting for a total of 11. Liberty wound up at 2-6 and took fourth.

Wilgard, who will have 10 of those wrestlers back next year, closed with, "I'm not looking to next year, I just want to win the tournament, and maybe the Section Nine."

Highland, who built up a 40-22 halftime lead, had quite a scare thrown into it by home-standing Millbrook Tuesday night, but survived, pulling out a 65-60 non-league win.

In other non-league action, New Paltz fell behind early to host Burke Catholic of Goshen, and second half rally fell short as Burke took a 64-56 victory.

Poughkeepsie lost to Peeks, kill, at Peekskill 64-60. Middletown, on the road, took a 76-53 win over Valley Central.

With Gary Elia showing the way for the Highlanders of the UCAL, Highland built up a huge 18-point lead by the half. Then it saw Millbrook's two three zone cut it down to 61-60 with less than a minute left.

Elia wound up with 23, but had to share scoring honors more, Mike Eades. It was Eades 10 in the third that helped Millbrook to outscore the Highlanders, 21-14. He also triggered a 17-7 run in the fourth period, but Elia tallied the final four points to ice the win.

Burke used its balanced scoring attack and solid ball handling to down the Huguenots. Burke had four players in double figures.

New Paltz was 10 back after the opening stanza, 18-8, and fell two more behind, 35-23 at half. A third period rally cut the lead by five, but the determined Eagles would not let New Paltz draw any closer.

The Huguenots' third period rally was built around Larry Kenney's 10 points.

UCCCC Receives Bid To Region 15 Tournament

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Sports Editor

Ulster County Community College's high scoring Senators have accepted an invitation to participate in the annual NJCAA Region XV basketball tournament at Trenton N. J., starting Feb. 29. The 20-2 UCCCC is one of three top-seeded teams already invited. Five others, one a seeded team, will be named later.

Host Mercer Junior College is seeded No. 1, ahead of Robert Morris College of Pittsburgh, one of two teams to beat Coach Mike Perry's squad this season.

Ulster has been seeded

third and will play in the second game of the doubleheader on Thursday, Feb. 29, at approximately 5 p. m., Mercer officials said today.

Semi-finals will be played the next night, with the consolation and championship games on Saturday, March 1. Winner of the Region XV tournament at Trenton will go to the National Junior College Athletic Association championships starting March 18 at Hutchinson, Kansas to compete in a 16-team flight.

Perry Pleased

Coach Mike Perry, who had been more or less expecting the Region XV bid, was nevertheless highly enthusiastic about the upcoming competition.

"We've been pointing for this since the start of the season," said the aggressive young coach. "It will spur us in our remaining games and I'm confident we'll come up to the Trenton tournament in top form."

Mercer, the host team, is fifth ranked in the NJCAA ratings and of Feb. 8 boasted a perfect 14-0 record. Their 103.0 game average placed them 10th in national team offense.

UCCCC, of course, led the national NJCAA offense ratings with a game mark of 118.2 as of the same date. And Joe Uhl's individual 32.2 was 8th in the nation. The leader was Ron Riordan of Becker College, Worcester, Mass. with a fabulous 45.9 average.

Ulster is undefeated in the Mid-Hudson at 6-0 and seeks its 7th straight tonight at Dutchess Community College.

Port Jervis Wrestlers Capture DUSO Pennant

"I'm tickled pink at the effort, the hard work, the dedication and the training the kids put in to give us our third DUSO League wrestling title in the six years we've competed. I'm just sorry the clincher had to come at the expense of Kingston," said Al Wilgard, Port Jervis wrestling coach, after his Red Raiders dumped the Maroon grapplers, 38-8 Tuesday afternoon.

Wilgard, whose Raiders piled up a 6-1-1 record, was obviously happy, but the reverse could be said for KHS mentor Ed Pfeiffer, whose squad wound up at 0-8 in the league and had only one non-league win all season.

Port had an easy time with the Maroon, compared to the difficulty it had in winning the crown. The Porters had to win their last four league outings after losing to second-place Middletown and gaining a tie with Newburgh.

Against the Maroon, Port swept the first nine matches, piling up an utterly fantastic 33-0 lead. The Raiders actually had the match wrapped up after the seventh, when the score was 27-0. Only five matches remained.

Open Weight Pair
Port opened with a pair of decisions, followed that with two forfeits, took two more decisions and wrapped the match and title up with its first pin, Reginald Gardiner, 141 pounds, scored in 3:35 over Tom Coddington.

Port added two more decisions before Kingston got on the scoreboard. The Maroon's Russ Wilbur, in trouble quite early, got himself straightened out and posted a one-sided 12-4 win over T. A. Kalvenbach.

Kingston lost the next match on a pin, but closed out the scoring when Pete Stoll upped his league mark to 5-0, flattening Saul Singer in 3:58. Stoll's impressive skien marks him as the favorite for this Saturday league tournament at Newburgh.

"My kids were sitting around after the match, thinking of the upcoming tourney and they tried to figure out how they'd do, and who were to be the top seeds. They all agree, as I do, that all of Kingston's grapplers, especially Wilbur and Stoll, will have a big say in deciding the team title. Kingston should play the spoiler role," Wilgard added.

"The league was extremely balanced looking at the final standings, and it's anybody's tournament. You can throw out the dual meet records," Wilgard added.

Wilgard's team tallied 13 team points on its record, picking up two points for each win, plus one for a draw.

Middletown, which downed Liberty, 23-21, jumped over Newburgh into second with 12 points on a 6-2-0 mark. The Goldbacks ended with a 5-2-1 charting for a total of 11. Liberty wound up at 2-6 and took fourth.

Highland High Wins; New Paltz Toppled

In other non-league action, New Paltz fell behind early to host Burke Catholic of Goshen, and second half rally fell short as Burke took a 64-56 victory.

Poughkeepsie lost to Peekskill, 64-60, Middletown, on the road, took a 76-53 win over Valley Central.

With Gary Elia showing the way for the Highlanders of the UCCAL, Highland built up a huge 18-point lead by the half. Then it saw Millbrook's two-three zone cut it down to 61-60 with less than a minute left.

Elia wound up with 23, but had to share scoring honors with Millbrook's super-sophomore, Mike Eades. It was Eades 10 in the third that helped Millbrook to outscore the Highlanders, 21-14. He also triggered a 17-7 run in the fourth period, but Elia tallied the final four points to ice the win.

Burke used its balanced scoring attack and solid ball handling to down the Huguenots. Burke had four players in double figures.

New Paltz was 10 back after the opening stanza, 18-8, and took two more behind, 35-23 at half. A third period rally cut the lead by five, but the determined Eagles would not let New Paltz draw any closer. The Huguenots' third period rally was built around Larry Kenney's 10 points.

Kingston High School's basketball team fell victim to a third-quarter spurge by Beacon High, watching a 13-point lead disappear like ashes blown by the wind. The Maroons, however, rallied in their distinctive fashion to take a 61-58 overtime road Tuesday night.

It was the Maroons' 14th win in 15 outings, but must have been rather disappointing for coach Jack Gilligan as his team ran into trouble, falling behind in the fourth quarter and then fighting for its life before finally taking it in the extra session.

The win came on the foul line. Kingston and the Bulldogs hit the same amount of field goals, 20, but it was making 21 of 30 (70%) foul shots for KHS compared to Beacon's 67% (18 of 28) that made the difference.

Kingston opened with a 13-8 quarter jump as just two players scored. The Maroon scoring was accounted for by A. J. (Andy) Murphy, who hit four shots from the floor and one foul, and Bruce Gilligan, who threw in two field goals.

Beacon's Nate Milligan, who had 1,019 career points to his credit going into the game, was held to just three in the opening period. His teammate, Charlie Harris, also had three.

Kingston upped the margin to eight by halftime, 30-22, running off seven points in a stretch while Beacon had none. The Maroon went from 15-12 to 22-12 in a two-minute span.

The Maroons' best individual effort in the quarter was shown by Bruce Gilligan, who hit a field goal and four fouls. Murphy picked up five on two field goals and a foul.

Harris Scores Six
Harris, meantime, kept the Bulldogs alive with six, all early in the period. Milligan registered the "Dogs" last four.

Kingston put in the first five points leading off the half, giving KHS its biggest margin, 13, with a score of 35-22. Only one minute had gone by, but trouble began to set in.

In a span covering the rest of the third and the first minute of the final stanza, Beacon tossed in 23 points while Kingston could only garner 10. Milligan had seven in the third quarter, hitting two court-side shots and three fouls, as the "Dogs" cut the lead in half and were down by four, 43-39. Beacon then proceeded to run off the first six points opening the final period. Milligan's jumper at 7:01 put Beacon on top, 45-43.

Byman Ties It
Byman's score knocked it at 45-45, but 15 seconds later, Milligan converted both ends of a one-and-one to put the "Dogs" ahead, 47-45 for the last time.

The Maroon tied it again as Murphy, clobbered on a drive, sank two fouls. Ken Gilligan put Kingston back on top for good with a score 40 seconds later, making it 49-47 — 4:30 showing on the clock.

Phil Jackson added one for Beacon at 3:50. Ray Lindhorst canned a bucket to bring it to 51-48. Milligan scored on a tap to cut it again, but Murphy came through, hitting both attempts on a one-and-one to push the margin back to three, 53-50 with 2:53 left.

Milligan put in the next three, all on fouls, deadlocking it again at 53-48 with 2:21 showing.

Kingston had the opportunity to win it twice, getting a pair of one-and-ones within 30 seconds of each other, but missed both times.

The final Maroon tally came on a two-pointer at 1:21 as Bruce Gilligan connected, but 23 seconds later, Milligan tied it.

Kingston held the ball, working for a good shot. Jerry Corrado's try with four seconds was off and Beacon controlled the carom.

Without calling timeout, Beacon ran downcourt and tried a desperation shot that missed at the buzzer.

Gilligan Connects
In overtime, a Beacon shot went astray. Kingston grabbed the ball, went down court and jumped ahead as Ken Gilligan struck for two. Only 41 seconds had elapsed, thus Beacon still had 2:19 in which to operate.

The Bulldogs played slow down ball throughout. Behind so late in the game, most clubs would open up offensively and try to knot the score as quickly as possible.

Rondout Wins Over Saugerties, 66-50

Gordy Taylor is Rondout Valley's and the UCCAL's top scorer, averaging over 22 points per game.

He let the Sawyers of Saugerties know that he could score against non-league opponents as well, canning 26 Tuesday night in leading the host Ganders to a 66-50 win over Saugerties of the DCSL.

Taylor popped for 15 in the first half (seven in the first, eight in the second periods) and helped Rondout accumulate an 11-point margin, 31-20.

He saw little playing time in the third and got only two points, but poured in nine more in four minutes of the final stanza to wind up with his total.

Rondout, which pressed throughout, had another double figure scorer, Frank Samms, the 6-foot-3 leaping center, dumped in 18, 10 of them coming on foul shots.

The Ganders, who never led by less than eight reaching that margin midway through the second quarter, picked up their ninth win in the last 10 starts. It was also their ninth home win without a defeat this season and boosts their 1967-68 record to 12-4.

For Saugerties, it was Roger Praetorius racking up 22 and John Carnright 13. Saugerties, however, had trouble keeping up with the high-flying Ganders.

In quarter scores, Rondout took a 12-7 first period edge and added to the advantage, 19-13, in the second. The teams

Saugerties Frosh End With Pair of Wins
Bill Ohno asserted himself over the Saugerties freshman basketball team's two final games, clicking for 29 points combined as the Sawyers posted wins over Cardinal Farley and Ontario.

Ohno tossed in 14 against Farley, sitting out most of the game in favor of the substitutes as Saugerties built up a 26-5 first period edge en route to a 56-49 win Thursday.

Tuesday, the Sawyers broke it open in the third period and downed the Indians, 49-39. Ohno had 15 for the game, but Dave Smith stole the spotlight, plunking in 15 of his total of 17 in the second half.

The two wins upped the Sawyers' final record to 8-6.

Rangers to School
NEW HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP) — Four members of the New York Rangers will become instructors this summer when the National Hockey League club holds a hockey school here at Skateland. The two-week session will begin on July 15.

The clock moved steadily, but Beacon refused to change tactics, letting the time tick away while continuing to look for a KHS defensive lapse.

Milligan was fouled. With the pressure mounting, he stepped to the line. He notched 11 in the fourth period, but missed a pair of free throws as Beacon's hopes dimmed.

Kingston handled the rebound, put on its disastrous fast break and Murphy hit on a layup, putting KHS ahead 59-55 with 52 seconds remaining.

Harris was fouled with 39 seconds left. He missed the first, but made the second. The solo point cut the lead down to three, keeping the Bulldogs' hopes alive.

Kingston, taking the ball in, moved quickly downcourt. Bruce Gilligan was hacked trying to shoot and he coolly sank the pair, storing things away for the Maroon, who were leading 61-56 and only 32 ticks left on the clock.

Milligan scored his 20th and 21st points on a jumper with 23 seconds left, but Kingston had it sewed up and ran out the clock.

Murphy High Scorer
Murphy wound up high for the night with 23. Bruce Gilligan rang up 20, Ken Gilligan and Byman had four apiece, Bruno five, Kolln three and Lindhorst, hampered by three fouls in the first nine minutes, also had three. Jerry Corrado did not score.

Harris hit a total of 14, Jerry Tucker seven and Woody Douglas and Phil Jackson five each. Instead of trying to run and shoot with the Maroon (the Bulldogs couldn't keep up in the teams previous meeting), Beacon started-and-stayed with a slow-down, deliberate offense, constantly working for the better shots.

Maroon Swimmers Edge NFA, 50-45

Kingston High School swimmers didn't break a record Tuesday for the first time in more than a year.

But, most importantly, they scored a come from behind 50-45 victory over Newburgh Academy, winning the last seven on the program—the 400 yard free style relay, to pull off the win, the fourth of the season for Coach Ron Gabriele's squad.

The times were the slowest of the season for Kingston but the victory sent the Maroons to the top of the DUSO heap with a 4-1 record.

Gene Gruner and Craig Murray scored double wins for Kingston and the only other win came in the 100 yard freestyle where Charles Plunket edged Newburgh ace Charles Hunt by less than two seconds.

Mike O'Hara, a freshman swimming in only his second varsity meet, grabbed an unexpected third place in the 100 yard backstroke for Kingston. Murray and Jack Brinner then finished 1-2 in the 400 yard free style to keep Kingston "alive" for the clutch win in the relay.

Killy Tres Magnifique But Schwaiger Beat Him

By CHRIS GEHMAN
(Freeman Sports Staff)

When ski racing is mentioned nowadays, the name of Jean-Claude Killy of France is almost sure to dominate the conversation. The French ace has already won two gold medals in Alpine skiing at the 10th Winter Olympics in Grenoble, France, in the down hill and giant slalom classes, and is a favorite to win the slalom as well.

Killy has been beaten, though, and one of the men to do the job was Mike Schwaiger, now a professional skier at the world renowned Hunter Mountain Ski Bowl. Mike topped Killy three years ago at Morzine, France, taking first place. Killy was second, and Guy Perillat of France was third.

Mike, 23, hails from Kitzbuehel, Austria, and did well as an amateur before turning professional. He won the Austrian Championships three times, as well as representing Austria at the World Championships at Portillo, Chile, in 1966.

Calls Killy Lucky

Commenting on Killy after a Lion's Club lunch meeting at which he was the guest of honor, Mike said, "He's very good, there's no doubt about that. He's also very lucky. The difference between the top ten skiers is so minute that most of it must be due to luck."

Mike is currently ranked fifth in the Professional Ski Racers Association. The PSRA was incorporated early in October of last year, with famous Olympic Champions Karl Pfeiffer and Egon Zimmermann as the guiding lights. P. Ballantine and Sons, Inc., sponsors the races.

Frenchmen Leads

Five races out of a total of seven have been held so far. On the basis of these, 32-year-old

Andre Duvillard of France is ranked first, closely followed by Hias Leitner and Egon Zimmermann of Austria.

There are 30 skiers in the PSRA. The winner of each of the seven races makes off with $1,500 and 20 ranking points, while the second finisher collects $1,000 and 19 points. A total of $5,000 is awarded in each race.

At the end of the year, the best times of seven races are averaged to compute the winner of the combined standings. The champion nets $3,500, second place skier $2,500, with $10,050 awarded at the end of the season.

Mike's best showing to date was at Killington, Vt., where he placed second overall. He's finished eighth overall at Waterville, N. H., and seventh at Loon Mountain, N. H. Mike also had the best time in several heats, at Brodie, Mass., and

Mount Snow, Vt., but fell in the other heat and so failed to qualify.

Confident of Win

He thinks he has a good chance to win at Hunter's race on Feb. 29. The last race of the season is at Great Gorge, N. J., on March 10.

Asked how the Olympic skiers compared to the pros, Mike replied, "They are good skiers, but to race well as a professional takes much more concentration, much more finesse." In amateur races, only one skier races at a time, while in the pro league, two skiers flash down the slopes simultaneously.

Mike, who has been in America, only 29 days, will return to Austria some time in March, but he says he'll be back next year. He was accompanied at Kador, from Innsbruck, Austria, who is an instructor at Hunter Mountain.

KHS Skiers End It On Note of Triumph

Kingston High's ski team of destiny concluded a high successful first "official" season Tuesday with a decisive victory over Goshen Central in a dual meet at Holiday Mountain Ski Center.

The final score, based on the five best times of each team, was Kingston, 129.25 seconds; Goshen, 136 seconds.

The victory gave Coach Richard Schaefer's Maroons an impressive record of 9 wins and only 2 losses.

Jamie Monat of Goshen whizzed to the best individual time with a 23.5 second clocking. The next three places were grabbed by Kingston skiers Steve Broskie, Frank Barnes and Craig Frost in that order.

Kingston's two top racers, Bruce Reynolds and Bob Joyet both took falls on the extremely icy slalom course seriously affecting their time.

"The girls squad routed Goshen by a whopping 150.6 to 193.8 margin. The Goffredi sisters, Terry and Sally, led the local team with times of 24.3 and 25.5 respectively.

The order of finish:

1. Jamie Monat, G. 23.5; 2. Steve Broskie, K. 24.5; 3. Frank Barnes, K. 24.9; 4. Craig Forst, K. 25.1; 5. Ron Grippe, G. 26.4.

6. Rick Cogswell, K. 26.5; 7. Mark Vail, G. 27.0; 8. Dick Baltz, K. 28.2; 9. Dave Harrigan, G. 29.0; 10. Fred Kennett, G. 30.0.

11. Steve Ryan, K. 31.1; 12. Brad Bartow, G. and Frank George, G. tied, 33.0; 14. Bob Joyet, K. 33.1; 15. Steve Temple, K. 33.3; 16. Bruce Reynolds, K. 34.4; 17. Joe Duncan, K. 38.8; 18. Jeff Stewart, G. 96.7.

The Pearl Bombs 56

BALTIMORE (AP) — Earl "The Pearl" Monroe, taking charge in the manner of Oscar Robertson, scored 56 points and rallied the Baltimore Bullets repeatedly Tuesday night before running out of miracles.

With 27 seconds remaining in overtime, the Baltimore rookie missed a penalty free throw which would have tied the score and the Los Angeles Lakers won the National Basketball Association game 119-116.

The muffed foul shot didn't take the lustre off Monroe's performance.

The 6-foot-3 guard, bidding for NBA Rookie of the Year honors, broke Wilt Chamberlain's Civic Center record of 51 points and topped by eight the Baltimore team record of 48 set by Walt Bellamy. He sank 20 of 33 shots from the floor.

Monroe poured in 37 points after intermission, rallying the Bullets from 11, eight and five-point deficits.

In the clutch, however, it was the Lakers' one-two scoring punch of Jerry West and Elgin Baylor which paid off.

Baylor, who moved into third place among the NBA's all-time scorers with 32 points, tied the regulation game at 107-107 on two free throws with 22 seconds remaining.

West, who scored 47 while playing seven minutes less than Monroe, made five points in the five-minute overtime. Two foul shots by Darrall Imhoff with 35 seconds left provided the victory margin.

In other NBA contests Tuesday, Boston beat Detroit 119-116 in overtime. Chicago topped San Diego 114-102. St. Louis beat Cincinnati 123-111 and Philadelphia turned back San Francisco 112-105.

In the ABA, Pittsburgh beat New Jersey 118-114. Indiana took Oakland 120-109 and Kentucky overhauled Anaheim 104-100.

McDermott--Silver Medal

SPEED KING — West Germany's Erhard Keller flashes to a triumphant victory in the men's 500-meter speed skating event of the 10th Winter Olympics at Grenoble, France today. Keller, a 23-year-old medical student, was clocked at 40.3 seconds in the event. The youth also holds the world's record of 39.5 seconds and has a pending mark of 39.2 seconds. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Ellenville Matmen Cop Village Title

Ellenville High, leading only 10-8 after the fourth match Tuesday afternoon breezed through the final eight weight classes enroute to a 44-8 DUSO Village League wrestling win over visiting Liberty's "B" or Jayvee team.

The win wrapped up the league crown for the Ellies, giving them a perfect 5-0 mark, and helping to set the Ellies up for Saturday's Area Tournament.

The area winners advanced to the Section Nine Tourney the following week.

Ellenville went up, 10-0 on a pin and a forfeit, but Liberty brought it back to 10-8 gaining a forfeit and a decision.

The Ellies then took the action away, running through the final eight matches with relative ease.

Pat LeMaestra, 130-pounds, set the Blue Devils mood, slapping a 7-5 decision on Tom Planishek, who had competed on the varsity level and came into the match with a 9-0 Jayvee mark.

Jayvees Lose to Beacon, 64 to 50

Jerry Barber canned 22 points for the Kingston Jayvees Tuesday night, but he wasn't enough as Beacon used three big scorers in routing the Maroons 64-50.

Barber and Bill Brady (16 points) were Kingston's only threats, but Beacon had Mike Williamson hit 24, John Williamson 16 and Dick Getter 13. Beacon outscored Kingston in all but the second period, when KHS managed 18 to Beacon's 17.

Kingston fell behind, 13-10 in the first, but were really knocked out of it in the third, getting only 15 to Beacon's 26.

The score:

Team	Period 1	Period 2	Period 3	Total
Kingston JV (50)	10	13	15	38
Beacon JV (64)	13	17	26	56

Sox-Senators In Six-Man Deal

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox' veteran of six seasons, shortstop Ron Hansen, and the Washington Senators' second baseman, Tim Cullen, were key men in an even-up six-player trade between the two American League clubs.

In addition to Hansen, who will be 30 in April, the Sox gave up pitchers Dennis Higgins and Steve Jones and received pitchers Bob Priddy and Buster Narum Tuesday.

Cullen, 25, batted .236 in his first full season with the Senators last year and drove in 31 runs.

By MORRIS ROSENBERG

Associated Press Writer

GRENOBLE, France (AP) — Terry McDermott, given no chance to repeat as gold medalist in the men's 500-meter speed skating race, whizzed over a sun-softened rink today and grabbed the United States' fourth silver medal in the Winter Olympic Games.

In tying Magne Thomassen of Norway for second place, twentieth of a second behind winner Erhard Keller of West Germany, McDermott needed a greater effort than in 1964 when he won the Americans' only gold medal in the Innsbruck, Austria, Games.

Shortly before the 27-year-old sprint skater from Birmingham, Mich., joined three female speed skaters as silver medalists, Tim Wood of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., moved into second place after four of the five compulsory figures in men's figure skating competition.

The combination brightened U.S. Olympic spirits that had been dampened Tuesday by the hard luck four girl skiers had experienced in the special slalom.

All four had high placings after the first run, but three were quickly disqualified for missing gates and the fourth fell early in the second run.

Drew Last Start

Given little chance to defend his title successfully, McDermott was considered even odds of the running for a medal when he drew the last starting position among the 48 skaters.

By the time his turn came, the hot sun had created pools of water over many sections of the rink, and everyone expected the final finish to have Keller first with 40.3 seconds, Thomassen second with 40.5 and Russia's Eugene Grishin third at 40.6.

But McDermott steamrolled away from the starting gun, accelerated down the back straightaway, rounded the final bend perfectly and with head and arms flaying, crossed the finish line in 40.3 seconds for a share of second place and the silver medal.

"I didn't come back to the Olympics just to skate," McDermott said afterward. "I wanted to win a medal. I didn't really know if I could do it. I was coming along slowly but surely and knew I had to put everything into one race."

"I didn't really have the kick I had in 1964. I guess myself and the desire to win were the big things."

Asked if he thought he could have won the gold medal again with an earlier start, before the sun had softened the rink, he replied only, "The early ones did have better ice."

Lost Stride Once

He said he lost his stride once in the first stretch and almost stumbled on the home stretch. Either of these errors could have cost him the two-tenths of a second that were the difference.

SEATTLE (AP) — The National Stock Outdoor Racing Championship Regatta will be held this year on Seattle's Green Lake July 27-28, it was announced Tuesday.

ence between the gold and silver medals.

"McDermott's performance was out of this world. He was just terrific," said U.S. Coach Ken Henry.

That the sun had a vital effect on the outcome could be seen from Keller's performance. The 23-year-old Munich dental student has an unrattified world record of 39.2 seconds, but he couldn't even get down to the 40.1 Olympic record that McDermott set four years ago.

Neil Blatchford of Northbrook, Ill., who had been expected to do much better than McDermott, lost his stride and stumbled rounding the final bend. He finished in 40.7, good only for a three-way tie for fifth with John Wurster of Ballston Spa, N.Y., and Agne Herjwun of Norway.

Tom Gray of Milwaukee tied for 21st in 41.6.

Of his mishap, Blatchford said, "It was just one of those things, but I was sure mad."

On the skiing segment of the day's schedule, Norway gained its second gold medal in Nordic events by winning the men's 4 x 10-kilometer cross country relay race.

The Norwegian quartet of Odd Martinsen, Pål Tyldum, Harald Groenningen and Ole Ellefsaeter completed the race in two hours, eight minutes, 33.5 seconds to 2:10:13.2 for the Swedish team.

Finland got the bronze medal, finishing a half second ahead of Russia.

U.S. Team Traded 12th

The U.S. team trudged in 12th in the field of 15 after Mike Gallagher of Killington, Vt., had raced the Americans into sixth place on the first lap.

The other U.S. skiers were Mike Elliott of Durango, Colo., Bob Gray of Putney, Vt., and John Bower of Middlebury, Vt.

"I'll be satisfied if we get three teams behind us," U.S. Coach John Caldwell said before the race, and that's exactly what happened.

In Alpine skiing, France's Jean-Claude Killy easily passed the first test in his quest for a third gold medal.

Killy, who already has won the downhill and the giant slalom, was timed in 49.80 seconds in the qualifying run for the special slalom, whose two runs will be held Friday and Saturday.

After sweeping down the 520-meter, 53-gate course, Killy said, "This is a stupid expenditure of energy."

Jim Heuga of Squaw Valley, Calif., was the first American to qualify, hurtling down the Chamrousse slopes in 52.34 seconds.

The French ace has already won two gold medals in Alpine skiing at the 10th Winter Olympics in Grenoble, France, in the down hill and giant slalom classes, and is a favorite to win the slalom as well.

Killy has been beaten, though, and one of the men to do the job was Mike Schwaiger, now a professional skier at the world renowned Hunter Mountain Ski Bowl. Mike topped Killy three years ago at Morzine, France, taking first place. Killy was second and Guy Perillat of France was third.

Mike, 23, hails from Kitzbuehl, Austria, and did well as an amateur before turning professional. He won the Austrian Championships three times, as well as representing Austria at the World Championships at Portillo, Chile, in 1966.

Calls Killy Lucky

Commenting on Killy after a Lion's Club lunch meeting at which he was the guest of honor, Mike said, "He's very good, there's no doubt about that. He's also very lucky. The difference between the top ten skiers is so minute that most of it must be due to luck."

Mike is currently ranked fifth in the Professional Ski Racers Association. The PSRA was incorporated early in October of last year, with famous Olympic Champions Karl Pfeiffer and Egon Zimmermann as the guiding lights. P. Ballantine and Sons, Inc., sponsors the races.

Frenchmen Leads

Five races out of a total of seven have been held so far. On the basis of these, 32-year-old

Andre Duvillard of France is ranked first, closely followed by Hias Leitner and Egon Zimmermann of Austria.

There are 30 skiers in the PSRA. The winner of each of the seven races makes off with $1,500 and 20 ranking points, while the second finisher collects $1,000 and 19 points. A total of $5,000 is awarded in each race.

At the end of the year, the best times of seven races are averaged to compute the winner of the combined standings. The champion nets $3,500, second place skier $2,500, with $10,050 awarded at the end of the season.

Mike's best showing to date was at Killington, Vt., where he placed second overall. He's finished eighth overall at Waterville, N. H., and seventh at Loon Mountain, N. H. Mike also had the best time in several heats, at Brodie, Mass., and

Mount Snow, Vt., but fell in the other heat and so failed to qualify.

Confident of Win

He thinks he has a good chance to win at Hunter's race on Feb. 29. The last race of the season is at Great Gorge, N. J., on March 10.

Asked how the Olympic skiers compared to the pros, Mike replied, "They are good skiers, but to race well as a professional takes much more concentration, much more finesse." In amateur races, only one skier races at a time, while in the pro league, two skiers flash down the slopes simultaneously.

Mike, who has been in America, only 29 days, will return to Austria some time in March, but he says he'll be back next year. He was accompanied at the Lion's lunch by lovely Inka Kador, from Innsbruck, Austria, who is an instructor at Hunter Mountain.

KHS Skiers End It On Note of Triumph

Kingston High's ski team of destiny concluded a high successful first "official" season Tuesday with a decisive victory over Goshen Central in a dual meet at Holiday Mountain Ski Center.

The final score, based on the five best times of each team, was Kingston, 129.25 seconds; Goshen, 136 seconds.

The victory gave Coach Richard Schaefer's Maroons an impressive record of 9 wins and only 2 losses.

Jamie Monat of Goshen whizzed to the best individual time with a 23.5 second clocking. The next three places were grabbed by Kingston skiers Steve Broskie, Frank Barnes and Craig Frost in that order.

Kingston's two top racers—Bruce Reynolds and Bob Joyet both took falls on the extremely icy slalom course seriously affecting their time.

The girls squad routed Goshen by a whopping 150.6 to 193.8 margin. The Goffredi sisters, Terry and Sally, led the locals with times of 24.3 and 25.5 respectively.

The order of finish:

1. Jamie Monat, G. 23.5; 2. Steve Broskie, K. 24.5; 3. Frank Barnes, K. 24.9; 4. Craig Frost, K. 25.1; 5. Ron Grippe, G. 26.4.
6. Rick Cogswell, K. 26.5; 7. Mark Vail, G. 27.0; 8. Dick Balto, K. 28.2; 9. Dave Harrison, G. 29.0; 10. Fred Kennett, G. 30.6.
11. Steve Ryan, K. 31.1; 12. Brad Bartow, G. and Frank George, G. tied, 33.0; 14. Bob Joyet, K. 33.1; 15. Steve Temple, K. 33.3; 16. Bruce Reynolds, K. 34.4; 17. Joe Duncan, K. 38.8; 18. Jeff Stewart, G. 96.7.

St. Mary's Tops St. Catherine

St. Mary's led all the way and clobbered St. Catherine's 45-28 in the CYO Intermediate division.

Mark Toney chipped in 18 to lead the winner's scoring attack, and Chris Zell had 12.

K. Crosby sparked the losing effort with 13 points.

The Pearl Bombs 56

BALTIMORE (AP) — Earl "The Pearl" Monroe, taking charge in the manner of Oscar Robertson, scored 56 points and rallied the Baltimore Bullets repeatedly Tuesday night before running out of miracles.

With 27 seconds remaining in overtime, the Baltimore rookie missed a penalty free throw which would have tied the score and the Los Angeles Lakers won the National Basketball Association game 119-116.

The muffed foul shot didn't take the lustre off Monroe's performance.

The 6-foot-3 guard, bidding for NBA Rookie of the Year honors, broke Wilt Chamberlin's Civic Center record of 51 points and topped by eight the Baltimore team record of 48 set by Walt Bellamy. He sank 20 of 33 shots from the floor.

Monroe poured in 37 points after intermission, rallying the Bullets from 11, eight and five-point deficits.

In the clutch, however, it was the Lakers' one-two scoring punch of Jerry West and Elgin Baylor which paid off.

Baylor, who moved into third place among the NBA's all-time scorers with 32 points, tied the regulation game at 107-107 on two free throws with 22 seconds remaining.

West, who scored 47 while playing seven minutes less than Monroe, made five points in the five-minute overtime. Two foul shots by Darrall Imhoff with 35 seconds left provided the victory margin.

In other NBA contests Tuesday, Boston beat Detroit 119-116 in overtime. Chicago topped San Diego 114-102. St. Louis beat Cincinnati 123-111 and Philadelphia turned back San Francisco 112-105.

In the ABA, Pittsburgh beat New Jersey 118-114. Indiana took Oakland 120-109 and Kentucky overhauled Anaheim 104-100.

Roosevelt Tops Coleman, 68-51

Roosevelt High School's jayvee basketball team put on a strong second half display of shooting Tuesday night, netting 43 points while holding Coleman to 26, and the Presidents dumped Coleman 68-51.

The score was knotted at halftime, 25-25, but Roosevelt's hustle and the shooting of Kilmer and Spadaro meant the difference.

Hastings added 10 in the losing cause.

By MORRIS ROSENBERG
Associated Press Writer

GRENOBLE, France (AP) — Terry McDermott, given no chance to repeat as gold medalist in the men's 500-meter speed skating race, whizzed over a sun-softened rink today and grabbed the United States' fourth silver medal in the Winter Olympic Games.

In tying Magne Thomassen of Norway for second place, two-tenths of a second behind winner Erhard Keller of West Germany, McDermott needed a greater effort than in 1964 when he won the Americans' only gold medal in the Innsbruck, Austria, Games.

Shortly before the 27-year-old sprint skater from Birmingham, Mich., joined three female speed skaters as silver medalists, Tim Wood of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., moved into second place after four of the five compulsory figures in men's figure skating competition.

The combination brightened U.S. Olympic spirits that had been dampened Tuesday by the hard luck four girl skiers had experienced in the special slalom.

All four had high placings after the first run, but three were quickly disqualified for missing gates and the fourth fell early in the second run.

Drew Last Start

Given little chance to defend his title successfully, McDermott was considered even out of the running for a medal when he drew the last starting position among the 48 skaters.

By the time his turn came, the hot sun had created pools of water over many sections of the rink, and everyone expected the final finish to have Keller first with 40.3 seconds, Thomassen second with 40.5 and Russia's Eugeny Grishin third at 40.6.

But McDermott steamrolled away from the starting gun, accelerated down the back straightaway, rounded the final bend perfectly and with head and arms flaying, crossed the finish line in 40.5 seconds for a share of second place and the silver medal.

"I didn't come back to the Olympics just to skate," McDermott said afterward. "I wanted to win a medal. I didn't really know if I could do it. I was coming along slowly but surely and knew I had to put everything into one race."

"I didn't really have the kick I had in 1964. I guess myself and the desire to win were the big things."

Asked if he thought he could have won the gold medal again with an earlier start, before the sun had softened the rink, he replied only, "The early ones did have better ice."

Lost Stride Once

He said he lost his stride once in the first stretch and almost stumbled on the home stretch. Either of these errors could have cost him the two-tenths of a second that were the difference.

SEATTLE (AP) — The National Stock Outboard Racing Championship Regatta will be held this year on Seattle's Green Lake July 27-28, it was announced Tuesday.

SPEED KING — West Germany's Erhard Keller flashes to a triumphant victory in the men's 500-meter speed skating event of the 10th Winter Olympics at Grenoble, France today. Keller, a 23-year-old medical student, was clocked at 40.3 seconds in the event. The youth also holds the world's record of 39.5 seconds and has a pending mark of 39.2 seconds. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Ellenville Matmen Cop Village Title

Ellenville High, leading only 10-8 after the fourth match Tuesday afternoon breezed through the final eight weight classes enroute to a 4-4 DUSO Village League wrestling win over visiting Liberty's "B" or Jayvee team.

The win wrapped up the league crown for the Ellies, giving them a perfect 5-0 mark, and helping to set the Ellies up for Saturday's Area Tournament.

The area winners advanced to the Section Nine Tourney the following week.

Ellenville went up, 10-0 on a pin and a forfeit, but Liberty brought it back to 10-8 gaining a forfeit and a decision.

The Ellies then took the action away, running through the final eight matches with relative ease.

Pat LeMaestra, 130-pounds, set the Blue Devils mood, slapping a 7-5 decision on Tom Planishek, who had competed on the varsity level and came into the match with a 9-0 Jayvee mark.

Jayvees Lose to Beacon, 64 to 50

Jerry Barber canned 22 points for the Kingston Jayvees Tuesday night, but he wasn't enough as Beacon used three big scorers in routing the Maroons 64-50.

Barber and Bill Brady (16 points) were Kingston's only threats, but Beacon had Mike Williamson hit 24, John Williamson 16 and Dick Getter 13.

Beacon outscored Kingston in all but the second period, when KHS managed 18 to Beacon's 17.

Kingston fell behind, 13-10 in the first, but were really knocked out of it in the third, getting only 15 to Beacon's 26.

Lourdes Hobbles Farley, 48-42

Our Lady of Lourdes High School basketball team may have evened its DCSL record at 6-6 Tuesday night, but despite winning, it was a disappointing night performance-wise for the Lourdes hoopsters.

The Lourdes team was flat and sloppy, failing to score with any semblance of consistency and committing costly turnovers. As it turned out, Lourdes had to come from behind 42-35, to take a 48-42 road win over winless Cardinal Farley in the DCSL's only game.

The rest of the league either had the night off or scheduled a non-league game. Lourdes, trailing by seven with only four minutes to go, ran off the final 13 points. It used a semi-half-court press forcing Farley to commit the same costly turnovers that had put Lourdes in the hole.

Bill O'Neil, Mike Gorman and Dave Janson, who was not scheduled to play because of illness, led the final minutes surge. O'Neil wound up with 14, Gorman 12 and Janson 11.

Leo Halleran topped the scoring parade with 16, all on floor shots and Jim McCarthy got 12 in the losing cause.

New Paltz High school cheerleaders have been accorded the first A-plus rating in the history of Ulster County Athletic League (UCAL) cheerleaders competition.

The order of rating at the annual competition held at Wallkill were: New Paltz, A-plus; Rondout, A; Pine Bush, A; Onteora, A; Marlboro, B-plus; Wallkill, B; Highland, B. Judges for the competition were: Pam Rusceni, Martha Stauning, Margaret C. Leuze, and Mrs. Wesley Gill.

Perfect Season For RVC Matmen

Rondout Valley's wrestling team served notice on all expected opposition Tuesday, that it was one of the teams to beat in this weekend's Area Tournament, as it closed out its season with an impressive 39-11 win over Onteora.

Rondout will undoubtedly be the favorite, having beaten Ellenville (the other team felt to be in the running), in a dual meet against OCS, it ran off three opening victories, then swept the final seven matches enroute to the road victory.

The third win for the Ganders, the 115-pound match, saw Tim Shea wind up a perfect 11-0 season, as he pinned Terry Tougas in 3:13. It was Shea's 24th career win and gives him a three-year total of 24-2-1.

Rondout's 106-pounder, Tom Coddington, wound up the season with a 10-1 record. The Gander freshman stopped Larry Quick in 1:07.

Rondout picked up 24 points in the last seven matches, winning two via falls, four on points and one on a forfeit.

Fred Wagner gained at least a tie for Rondout with a 7-2, 157-pound win over Reg Gale. The Rondout win was locked up by Tom Frazier at 168, giving the Ganders a final mark of 9-2.

Frazier, who dropped his first two matches, came on strong, finishing with nine straight victories. He made All-

Lourdes Hobbles Farley, 48-42

Our Lady of Lourdes High School basketball team may have evened its DCSL record at 6-6 Tuesday night, but despite winning, it was a disappointing night performance-wise for the Lourdes hoopssters.

The Lourdes team was flat and sloppy, failing to score with any semblance of consistency and committing costly turnovers. As it turned out, Lourdes had to come from behind 42-35, to take a 48-42 road win over wireless Cardinal Farley in the DCSL's only game.

The rest of the league either had the night off or scheduled a non-league game.

Lourdes trailing by seven with only four minutes to go, ran off the final 13 points. It used a semi-half-court press forcing Farley to commit the same costly turnovers that had put Lourdes in the hole.

Bill O'Neil, Mike Gorman and Dave Janson, who was not scheduled to play because of illness, led the final minutes surge. O'Neil wound up with 14, Gorman 12 and Janson 11.

Leo Halleran topped the scoring parade with 16, all on floor shots and Jim McCarthy got 12 in the losing cause.

The score:

Lourdes (48)	Farley (42)
Janson 16	Halleran 16
O'Neil 14	McCarthy 12
Gorman 12	Janson 11
Barry 10	DeMatas 10
White 8	McCarthy 10
Totals 48	Totals 42
Scoring by quarters: 11 12 17 18	Scoring by quarters: 10 11 17 14

Gander Jayvees Lose on Mats

Rondout Valley's jayvee wrestlers ended its season on a sour note Tuesday afternoon, dropping at 27-17 decision to Cornwall's jayvees, keeping the Ganders from completing a perfect season.

The Ganders wound up 6-1 with two grapplers undefeated. Robert Lewis, the heavyweight, and Ray Burkard, 115-pounder, both finished at 7-0.

Allen Elston wrestled his best match, taking a lop-sided 12-3 win at 148 and John LeMay, after being down 4-3, won two points on riding time to take a narrow 4-3 triumph.

Cornwall JV 27, Rondout Val. JV 17.

98—Scott (C) won by forfeit. 106—Berrien (C) dec. Gary Bartle, 6-0.

115—Ray Burkard (RV) dec. Byrnes, 3-0.

123—Blaine (C) pinned Robert Taylor, 2-30.

130—John LeMay (RV) dec. Lyle, 4-3.

136—Shields (C) dec. Dennis Bandy, 4-2.

146—Stockdale (C) dec. Dave Roddy, 8-0.

148—Allen Elston (RV) dec. Tonelli, 12-3.

156—Cimiriello (C) pinned Jay Feinberg, 1-34.

168—Childress (C) dec. Robert Mancuso, 7-2.

183—Rich Tervilliger (RV) pinned Alexander, 3-01.

Heavyweight—Robert Lewis (RV) dec. Shauvern, 6-0.

The order of rating at the annual competition held at Walkill were: New Paltz, A-plus; Rondout, A; Pine Bush, A; Ontario, A; Marlboro, B-plus; Walkill, B; Highland, B.

Judges for the competition were: Pam Busceni, Martha Stauning, Margaret C. Leuze, and Mrs. Wesley Gull.

Perfect Season For RVC Matmen

Rondout Valley's wrestling team served notice on all expected opposition Tuesday, that it was one of the teams to beat in this weekend's Area Tournament, as it closed out its season with an impressive 39-11 win over Ontario.

Rondout will undoubtedly be the favorite, having beaten Ellenville (the other team felt to be in the running), in a dual meet against OCS, it ran off three opening victories, dropped the next two, then swept the final seven matches enroute to the road victory.

The third win for the Ganders, the 115-pound match, saw Tim Shea wind up a perfect 11-0 season, as he pinned Terry Tougas in 3:13. It was Shea's 24th career win and gives him a three-year total of 24-21.

Rondout's 106-pounder, Tom Coddington, wound up the season with a 10-1 record. The Gander freshman stopped Larry Quick in 1:07.

Rondout picked up 24 points in the last seven matches, winning two via falls, four on points and one on a forfeit.

Fred Wagner gained at least a tie for Rondout with a 7-2, 157-pound win over Reg Gale. The Rondout win was locked up by Tom Frazier at 168, giving the Ganders a final mark of 9-2.

Frazier, who dropped his first two matches, came on strong, finishing with nine straight victories. He made All-State.

$5,000 Prize Melon For KBA Tournament

A combined cash and awards ton Bowling Association tournament prize list exceeding $5,000, has been announced by the Kingston manager Harold Stewart, for the 31st annual championships starting Saturday at Sangi Bowlero.

According to Tournament Secretary Joseph Mannello, 164 teams, only six short of last year's record 170, filed entries in the five-man event, while 121 pair of doubles and 242 singles along with 214 all-events entries, were filed in the minor events to be bowled the following weekend at Ferraro Bowlerama.

In announcing this year's prize list, Stewart stated 15 places will be in the five-man event, topped by the guaranteed $1000 top tournament prize in the gross division, while three places will receive net money with first place paying $150.

In the doubles event, the gross division will pay the top 12 spots, while the net division will pay three with top money being $200 and $50 respectively. The singles event is paying 25 gross and five net positions with first place paying $150 and $50.

In the all-events derby, ten gross and three net money positions will offer first prize money of $100 and $50 respectively.

There also will be numerous individual and team cash awards for high game and series scores bringing the total cash outlay to $4,500. Trophies and merchandise awards will amount to an additional $500.

High Adventure On Tap for Scouts

Herbert K. Greenwald, chairman of the Philmont Committee of the Rip Van Winkle Council, BSA, announced today that 10 boys and one leader are already signed up for a 17-day expedition to the Philmont Scout Ranch in Cimarron, New Mexico.

Philmont is a 137,000-acre tract of rugged country on the slopes of the Sangre de Cristo range of the Rocky Mountain Chain. Highlights of the program will include such activities as horseback riding, burro packing, panning for gold, mountain climbing, geological trips, archeological expeditions, western style campfire, survival, and wilderness camping skills.

The expedition will be under the leadership of John Gade, Scoutmaster of Troop 130, Saugerties. Signed up to go on the expedition as of this date are George Smith of Troop 22, Kerhonkson; Brian Kaley, Edward Mackey Jr., David Lyons, James Dirago and James Eckerson of Troop 73, Milton; David Tipple of Troop 70, Highland; Douglas Whitaker of Troop 20, Hurley; Anthony Appa Jr. of Troop 45, Cossack; and Thomas Briggs of Post 28, Ellenville.

"Only a few more reservations are available and boys who are interested will have to act fast to make it in 1968."

Four Adjudgments

Arrested by Fishkill State Police on Jan. 30 on charges of possessing dangerous drugs—marijuana—three New Paltz residents and a New Hampshire man received adjournments for hearing Tuesday night until Feb. 20. Fishkill Town Justice Francis T. Williams deferred the preliminary examination. The case is still under investigation by Dutchess County authorities. The defendants were arrested by Sgt. K. V. Spiro and Trooper D. B. Smith of the Fishkill barracks, after a car in which the four were riding was searched and a quantity of narcotics was uncovered. The defendants are Willie James London, 19, of Johnson Road; Gail Jacobs, 21, of 59 North Chestnut Street, and Jeffrey James Otis, 19, of 130 Huguenot Street, all of New Paltz and Robert Joseph Connelly, 26, of Berlin, N. H.

RVCS Holiday

All students in the Rondout Valley Central School District will have a half-day of school Thursday. In the afternoon, members of the faculty and staff will hold meetings on curriculum planning and development, another in this year's continuing series of in-service programs.

LEGAL NOTICES

INVITATION TO BIDDERS
Contract 21
DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM IMPROVEMENTS
Sealed bids will be received by the Board of Water Commissioners of the City of Kingston, New York, at the office in the City Hall, Kingston, New York, on Thursday, March 7, 1968 at 8:00 P. M. for Contract 21 "Washington Ave. and Hurley Ave. Improvements" and it is said time and place be publicly opened and read aloud.
Contract 21 consists principally of the following items of work:
a) Removing, replacing, valves and fittings and installing 2400 feet of 12-inch cast iron pipe.
b) Cleaning and lining with cement mortar, in place approximately 1930 feet of 8-inch cast iron pipe, and
c) 825 feet of 6-inch cast iron pipe.
d) Wet connection to existing cast iron water main.
e) Hydrant assemblies, gate valves, insert valves, and tapping sleeves and valves.
f) All other necessary appurtenances and work.
Drawings and specifications may be examined at the office of the Kingston Water Department, City Hall, Kingston, N. Y., or at the office of the consulting engineers, Mangano, Mangano & Lincoln, 51 Madison Avenue, New York, N. Y. 10010. Contract documents may be obtained from said offices at a cost of twenty dollars ($20.00), made payable to the Kingston Water Department. No refunds of these payments will be made.
All bids must be submitted on the proposal forms supplied in the Contract Documents. Each bid must be accompanied by cash, cashier's check, certified check of the bidder, or a bid bond (prepared on the form in the Contract Documents).

(Documents), in an amount not less than five percent of the bid. The bid must also be accompanied by a bid letter from an acceptable surety company, as described in the Contract Documents.
No bidder may withdraw a bid within 60 days after the actual date of the opening thereof.
The awarding of this contract shall be subject to the provisions of Section 103 of the General Municipal Law of the State of New York.
The board reserves the right to reject any or all bids, or to accept any bid, should it deem it to be for its best interest so to do.

Four Adjournments

Arrested by Fishkill State Police on Jan. 30 on charges of possessing dangerous drugs—marijuana—a New Hampshire man received adjournments for hearing Tuesday night until Feb. 20. Fishkill Town Justice Francis T. Williams deferred the preliminary examination. The case is still under investigation by Dutchess County authorities. The defendants were arrested by Sgt. K. V. Spiro and Trooper D. B. Smith of the Fishkill barracks, after a car in which the four were riding was searched and a quantity of narcotics was uncovered. The defendants are: William James London, 19, of 49 Johnson Road; Gail Jacobs, 21, of 59 North Chestnut Street; and Jeffrey James Oltis, 19, of 130 Huguenot Street, all of New Paltz and Robert Joseph Connelly, 26, of Berlin, N. H.

RVCS Holiday

All students in the Rondout Valley Central School District will have a half-day of school Thursday, March 7, 1968. In the afternoon, members of the faculty and staff will hold meetings on curriculum planning and development, another in this year's continuing series of in-service programs.

DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM IMPROVEMENTS
Sealed bids will be received by the Board of Water Commissioners of the City of Kingston, New York, at their offices, 100 N. 2nd St., Kingston, N. Y., on Thursday, March 7, 1968 at 9:00 P. M. for Contract 21 "Washington Ave. and Hurley Ave. Improvements" and said bids will be publicly opened and read aloud. Contract 21 consists principally of the following items of work:
a) Removing existing pipes, valves and fittings and installing:
2400 feet of 12-inch cast iron pipe
420 feet of 8-inch cast iron pipe
b) Cleaning and lining with cement mortar, in place approximately:
1530 feet of 8-inch cast iron pipe and 925 feet of 6-inch cast iron pipe
c) V-cut connection to existing cast iron water main.
d) Hydrant assemblies, gate valves, insert valves, and tapping sleeves and valves. Hal
e) All other necessary appurtenances and work.
Drawings and specifications may be examined either at the office of the Kingston Water Department, City Hall, Kingston, N. Y., or at the office of the consulting engineers, Mangano, Martin and Johnson, 51 Madison Avenue, New York, N. Y. 10017. Bids must be obtained from said office at a cost of twenty dollars ($20.00), made payable to the Kingston Water Department. No refunds of these payments will be made.
All bids must be submitted in the proper form as specified in the Contract Documents. Each bid must be accompanied by cash, cashier's check, certified check, or a bid bond (prepared on the form in the Contract Documents).

LEGAL NOTICES

(Documents), in an amount not less than five percent (5%) of the amount of the bid, must also be accompanied by a bid letter from an acceptable surety company, as described in the Contract Documents.
No bidder may withdraw a bid within 60 days after the actual date of the opening thereof. The awarding of this Contract shall be subject to the provisions of Section 103 of the General Municipal Law of the State of New York.
The board reserves the right to reject any or all bids, or to accept any bid, should it deem it to be for its best interest so to do.

Dear Abby

Need Sense of Adventure?

By Abigail Van Buren
DEAR ABBY: I am a teenage girl with the same kind of problem every other girl has. BOYS! First, let me explain that I am not "boy crazy." I'm just tired of going out with my girl friends.

In our social setup, the boys reserve the right to ask the girls to go out with them, marry them, etc. This is stupid.

All the boys I know are shy and have no initiative. It is very frustrating!

Could you do me a favor and tell the boys of the world to open up their eyes and notice that there are girls around, and to please pay some attention to them, to call them up and show some interest?

And, Abby if you know of a planet where it is acceptable for a girl to ask a boy for a date, please let me know. I am packed and ready.

A PROTESTER

DEAR PROTESTER: I agree. The system is all wrong. Not only do the girls outnumber the boys, but they mature earlier and are ready, willing and eager to commingle while the boys stand around with their hands in their pockets blushing it up.

No wonder the women are becoming the more aggressive breed. And even more frightening is the undeniable increase of men who don't care whether they lead or follow.

DEAR ABBY: This is for the girl who wants to change her fiancé's name to something shorter and easier to pronounce. Don't do it.

My name has 14 letters in it, too, but I've known how to spell it since I was three. (I'm 10 now.)

Nobody can spell it, and very few people pronounce it right, but I do care? No, Sir!

I am proud of my name, and your fiancé is probably proud of his, too. Just think of someone with a name like "Eleuthere Irene de Pont de Nemours." How would you like to sign a check with a name like that?

You would be doing your fiancé a great favor by keeping his name like it is. You may even learn to like it yourself.

A "BRETTSCHEIDER"

DEAR ABBY: To the girl who was engaged to a man whose last name had 14 letters in it: No name is unpronounceable. Some just require a little more practice.

I wouldn't recommend changing one's name, but it might simplify matters if one were to change the spelling. For instance, Hyszczyński can become Hisschinsky. And Ardziejewski can become Arjeffsky. There isn't much you can do with Baccigaluppi, but as it stands, it isn't ridiculous to one who has used it all his life.

There are 39 William Johnsons in the Seattle telephone directory. Why not enjoy an unusual name?

HAVE ONE, IN SEATTLE
Confidential to Marie in Amarrillo: Anyone can "get used to" a wart on the end of his nose if he lives with it long enough, but that doesn't mean he'll learn to LOVE it.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

OFFICE CAT

By Junius
Trade Mark Reg.

The next time you measure the worth of a man, try putting the measure around his heart instead of his title, money, or intellect.

Said the blacksmith to his new helper:
Mike (the blacksmith)—Now, Pat, I'm going to take the horseshoe out of the fire and lay it on the anvil. When I nod my head, you hit it hard with the hammer.

Pat did—and was fired when the blacksmith recovered.

An inconvenience is only an adventure wrongly considered.

The average person will fight far harder for special privileges than for equal rights.

As a party progressed into the early morning hours, one man said to another,
Jack—What does your wife say to you when you stay out as late as this?

Jerry—Nothing—you see I'm not married.

The married man raised his eyebrows.

Jack—Then why do you stay out as late as this?

When you live in a community you are under moral obligation to that community to keep your dogs off the lawns, your skunk out of their beds and your owl out of their hair.

Will Rogers, acting as toastmaster at a dinner one evening, was annoyed by the lengthy talk of the man he had just introduced. The long-winded bore finally ended his oratory and Rogers arose and said,
Will Rogers—You have just listened to that famous Chinese statesman, On Too Long.

I hold in my hand here a bright and shining silver dollar, announced the candidate to a group of your Americans. That dollar goes to the lad who is level-headed enough to belong to the same party as I do.

Then turning to a bright-eyed urchin at his left, he asked:
Mr. Jones—What's your politics, son?

Billy—What's yours?

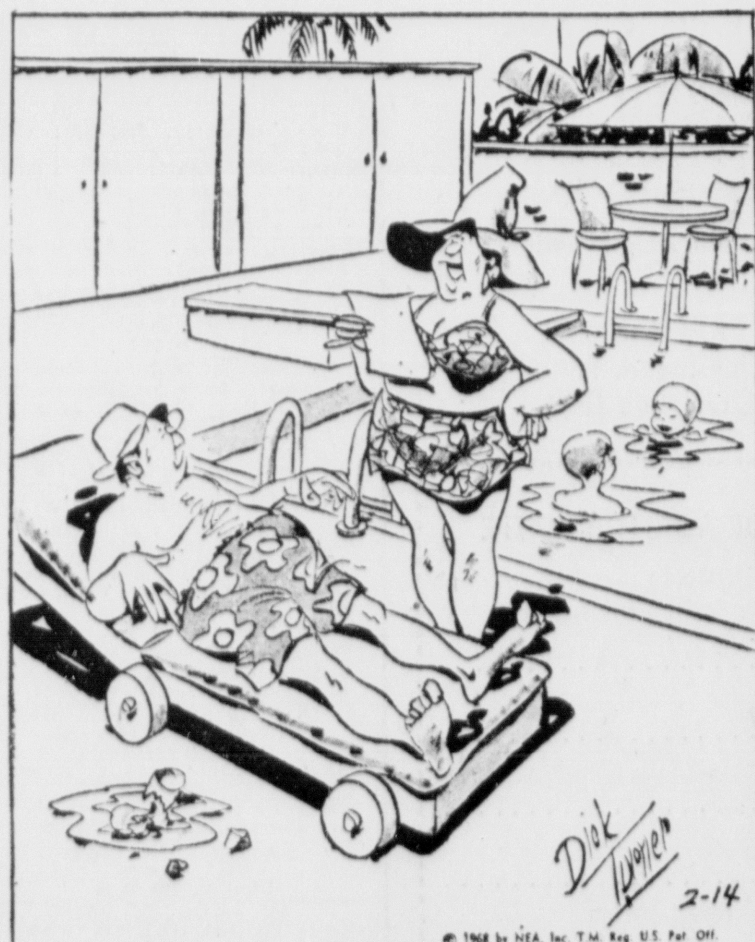

Too often when a man can't support himself he marries a woman with money so she can be his crutch.

Irvin Cobb was aboard a river steamer that was stopped en route by an impenetrable fog. An anxious passenger inquired, Leisure is a beautiful garment, but it will not do for constant wear.

Horoscope

By SYDNEY OMARR

It's In The Stars —

("The wise man controls his destiny... astrology points the way.")

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY

FEBRUARY 15, 1968
"The wise man controls his destiny... Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): You get news affecting job, special project. If you have a pet, fulfill obligations possibly neglected. Get affairs in order. Improve relations with co-workers.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Day features excitement of discovery. Could involve children, creative endeavors. You come alive. There is activity, change, variety. Tonight element of romance is pronounced.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Home repairs, mending of fences both literally and symbolically are stressed. Put shoulder to the wheel. Get results by insisting, pushing, going after the facts.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): You could find message which involves close relative. Key is not to become involved in situation which is costly. Be sympathetic without being foolish. Message clear tonight.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Emphasis on money, income potential. Keep eye on personal sessions. Avoid carelessness in connection with valuables. Original approach today pays dividends.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Cycle high. Take initiative. Meet people. Encourage new contacts. Judgement apt to be correct. Take advantage of favorable circumstances. Give consideration to personal appearance.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Behind-the-scenes action are accentuated. You gain most today by going beyond the obvious. Detect subtle trends. Find true meanings by using power of analysis. Dig for information.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Separate the real from the imaginary. Applies especially to desires and friends. Those who make promises should be called upon to back them. If realistic you avoid loss.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You get accolade from individual in authority. This should give confidence for you to follow up on ideas. Seek opening for opportunity—then move ahead. Get out of rut today.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Instead of speculating about conditions afar, correct situation closer to home. Means be practical about domestic affairs. You will get a chance to express yourself tonight.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Information concerning legacy could highlight day. Check details. Be thorough. Leave nothing to chance. Your great ally is patience. Money transaction is featured.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Nothing halfway; all the way or nothing today. Stress on outside influences. Actions seem to be controlled by circumstances. Be alert—move with the tide. Co-operate with associate.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY upcoming months feature change and travel plus romance. You are inventive and a natural pioneer.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Day is good for fishing. Cycle is high for VIRGO, LIBRA. Special word to ARIES: get busy with home repairs.

Dear Abby

Need Sense of Adventure?

By Abigail Van Buren
DEAR ABBY: I am a teenage girl with the same kind of problem every other girl has. BOYS! First, let me explain that I am not "go crazy." I'm just tired of going out with my girl friends.

In our social setup, the boys reserve the right to ask the girls to go out with them, marry them, etc. This is stupid.

All the boys I know are shy and have no initiative. It is very frustrating! Could you do me a favor and tell the boys of the world to open up their eyes and notice that there are girls around, and to please pay some attention to them, to call them up and show some interest?

And, Abby if you know of a planet where it is acceptable for a girl to ask a boy for a date, please let me know. I am packed and ready.

A PROTESTER
DEAR PROTESTER: I agree. The system is all wrong. Not only do the girls outnumber the boys, but they mature earlier and are ready, willing and eager to commingle while the boys stand around with their hands in their pockets blushing it up.

No wonder the women are becoming the more aggressive breed. And even more frightening is the undeniable increase of men who don't care whether they lead or follow.

DEAR ABBY: This is for the girl who wants to change her fiancé's name to something shorter and easier to pronounce. Don't do it.

My name has 14 letters in it, too, but I've known how to spell it since I was three. (I'm 10 now.) Nobody can spell it, and very few people pronounce it right, but do I care? No, Sir!

I am proud of my name, and your fiancé is probably proud of his, too. Just think of someone with a name like "Eleuthere Irene du Pont de Nemours." How would you like to sign a check with a name like that?

You would be doing your fiancé a great favor by keeping his name like it is. You may even learn to like it yourself.

A "BRETTCHNEIDER"
DEAR ABBY: To the girl who was engaged to a man whose last name had 14 letters in it: No name is unpronounceable. Some just require a little more practice.

I wouldn't recommend changing one's name, but it might simplify matters if one were to change the spelling. For instance, Hyszczyński can become Hyszczy. And Ardziejewski can become Ardejewski. There isn't much you can do with Baccigaluppi, but as it stands, it isn't ridiculous to one who has used it all his life.

There are 39 William Johnsons in the Seattle telephone directory. Why not enjoy an unusual name?

HAVE ONE, IN SEATTLE
Confidential to Marie in Amarrillo: Anyone can "get used to" a wart on the end of his nose if he lives with it long enough, but that doesn't mean he'll learn to LOVE it.

FORCAST FOR THURSDAY FEBRUARY 15, 1968
"The wise man controls his destiny... Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): You get news affecting job, special project. If you have a pet, fulfill obligations possibly neglected. Get affairs in order. Improve relations with co-workers.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Day features excitement of discovery. Could involve children, creative endeavors. You come alive. There is activity, change, variety. Tonight element of romance is pronounced.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Home repairs, mending of fences both literally and symbolically are stressed. Put shoulder to the wheel. Get results by insisting, pushing, going after the facts.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): You could find message which involves close relative. Key is not to become involved in situation which is costly. Be sympathetic without being foolish. Message clear tonight.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Emphasis on money, income potential. Keep eye on personal possessions. Avoid carelessness in connection with valuables. Original approach today pays dividends.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Cycle high. Take initiative. Meet people. Encourage new contacts. Judgement apt to be correct. Take advantage of favorable circumstances. Give consideration to personal appearance.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Behind the scenes actions are accentuated. You gain most today by going beyond the obvious. Detect subtle trends. Find true meanings by using power of analysis. Dig for information.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Separate the real from the imaginary. Applies especially to desires and friends. Those who make promises should be called upon to back them. If realistic you avoid loss.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You get accolade from individual in authority. This should give confidence for you to follow up on ideas. Seek opening for opportunity—then move ahead. Get out of rut today.

OFFICE CAT

By Junius Trade Mark Reg.

The next time you measure the worth of a man, try putting the measure around his heart instead of his title, money, or intellect.

Said the blacksmith to his new helper: "Mike (the blacksmith)—Now, Pat, I'm going to take the horseshoe out of the fire and lay it on the anvil. When I nod my head, you hit it hard with the hammer."

Pat did—and was fired when the blacksmith recovered.

An inconvenience is only an adventure wrongly considered.

The average person will fight far harder for special privileges than for equal rights.

As a party progressed into the early morning hours, one man said to another: "Jack—What does your wife say to you when you stay out as late as this?"

Jerry—Nothing—you see I'm not married. The married man raised his eyebrows.

Jack—Then why do you stay out as late as this?

When you live in a community you are under moral obligation to that community to keep your dogs off the lawns, your skunk out of their beds and your owl out of their hair.

Will Rogers, acting as toastmaster at a dinner one evening, was annoyed by the lengthy talk of the man he had just introduced. The long-winded bore finally ended his oratory and Rogers arose and said:

Will Rogers—You have just listened to that famous Chinese statesman, On Too Long. I hold in my hand here a bright and shining silver dollar, announced the candidate to a group of your Americans. That dollar goes to the lad who is level-headed enough to belong to the same party as I do.

Then turning to a bright-eyed urchin at his left, he asked: Mr. Jones—What's your politics, son?

Billy—What's yours?

Too often when a man can't support himself he marries a woman with money so she can be his crutch.

Irvin Cobb was aboard a river steamer that was stopped en route by an impenetrable fog. An anxious passenger inquired:

Mr. Cash—What's wrong? Irvin Cobb—Can't see up the river.

Mr. Cash—That's funny. I can see the stars overhead perfectly plain.

Irvin Cobb—Interesting but irrelevant. Unless our boiler bursts we're not going that way.

John—How about a real old-fashioned kiss? Mary—O.K., I'll call my grandmother.

A Hopi Indian had received his call-up instructions and was being questioned by a draft board.

Mr. Lane—Do you speak any foreign language? The Hopi—Yes, English.

Mrs. Long (an admirer asked Alexander Dumas)—How do you grow old so gracefully? Alexander Dumas—Madam, I give all my time to it.

No man has been thoroughly decent to more than one woman.

Some folks don't want friends because every one they ever had cost them more than they were worth.

Johnny was gazing at his baby brother who lay squealing and wailing in his cot.

Johnny—Has he come from heaven? Mrs. Lane (his mother)—Yes, dear.

Johnny—No wonder they put him out.

Operations are so common these days that you can hardly work yours into the conversation unless it is fatal.

Mary—It's nice to be back from my vacation. It rained most of the time I was gone.

Sally—It couldn't have been too bad. That's a nice tan you have there.

Mary—That's not really a tan. It's rusi.

A rural road sign reads: "Drive carefully if you'd rather be than was."

Customer—Have you a book entitled "Man the Master"? Saleslady—You'll find that in the fiction department.

Leisure is a beautiful garment, but it will not do for constant wear.

CBS Drama Powerful...But

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — "My Father and My Mother," the third original drama of this season's "CBS Playhouse" series Tuesday night was a powerful, absorbing but not altogether successful effort to drive home playwright Robert Crea's thesis. His message was that we must accept others for what they are, not what we wish them to be.

Slow, Confusing Start The 90-minute drama took off to a slow and confusing start, but as one became accustomed to Crea's rather curious method of moving into and out of flashbacks, the material gathered momentum, and the meaning built up strong emotional impact.

It was the story of Ned Piper, a successful editor with a pretty, devoted wife and two bright young daughters. It opened at a moment when he reluctantly turned over his mentally ill five-year-old son to an institution for care.

With the departure of the little boy who could not communicate, Piper's life seemed to be disintegrating. His wife and daughters turned away from him in despair, and he found himself returning, as if in a dream, to his boyhood in a placid town and to the happy, uneventful home of his parents.

Although the old life at first seemed halcyon, in the course of the flashbacks his father began to be revealed as something less than a hero. He even was finally able to remember some bitter quarrels between his parents.

The drama really told the story of a man maturing quickly and painfully as he faced, helplessly, a situation he could not change.

Gene Hackman, playing the part of the man caught up in a personal tragedy, was sensitive and persuasive in the part. Ralph Bellamy played the intransigent father beautifully while Jane Wyatt and Inga Swenson were most effective as the two patient, loving wives.

The constant backing and filling between past and present, the real and the unreal, failed to come off as effectively as one could wish.

Now that "CBS Playhouse" has repeatedly shown that it can find these meaty and terribly serious original dramas, it would be nice for a change of pace to drop in a bright, amusing original script. After all, it has often been alleged that comedy, too, can be meaningful and carry a point of view.

ABC has officially announced the pending demise of "Bat Your Eye." The series will depart in the mid-March. It will be replaced adventures of the little people in its time period on Thursday Charles Schulz's cartoon world.

And Moist: Scientist

The Moon May Be Warm

BY RALPH DIGHTON

LOS ANGELES (AP) — New studies indicate the moon may have moist, warm areas—possibly conducive to microbial life—a lunar scientist reports.

Dr. Jack Green told a seminar of the University of California at Los Angeles chapter of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics Tuesday that evidence of moisture was found in specially filtered telescope pictures of an area near the crater Aristarchus.

Aristarchus, in the upper left portion of the lunar disk, is the site of red flares—possibly indicating volcanic activity—reported by several astronomers.

Detect Sulfur Filter
Green said his belief that there may be warm, moist areas near the crater is based on apparent detection of sulfur with a filter, producing photographs in which that mineral shows up black. Large black areas several miles square were found in photographs recently made to investigate earlier indications, Green said.

"On earth sulfur, the most abundant volcanic mineral, is always found in the presence of hydrous or water-bearing rock," he said. "If this holds true on the moon, then there must be large areas near volcanic craters which are warm and moist and conceivably could support small organisms."

"Bacterial life has been found in boiling water in numerous hot springs on our planet."

Green, research scientist for McDonnell Douglas Corp. and a consultant on the space agency's Surveyor program, said his study covered only an area near Aristarchus but he hopes to survey other craters later.

Green said a soil-testing device taken to the moon by recent Surveyors was not equipped to detect sulfur.

Water-bearing rocks near sulfur deposits on earth, he said, can be made to yield up to a gallon of water per cubic foot of rock by heating them to 500 to 800 degrees Fahrenheit. On the moon, where surface temperatures rise to 250 degrees at noon, such temperatures could be achieved by focusing solar rays on hydrous rock, Green said.

Best Near Craters

He suggested that if his interpretation of the "black" areas is correct, manned bases on the moon should be established near volcanic craters to take advantage of water and warmth.

"The possibility of finding water seems to me to be far greater near volcanic craters than in the plains areas tentatively selected—because they are smoother—for astronaut landings," Green said.

For Period Ending 7 a. m. EST Thursday

Tonight, snow and snow flurries are forecast for the Plateau region, the Great Lakes, the Ohio Valley, and northern New England. Rain and showers will occur along the central and southern Pacific coast and in southern Texas. Fair to partly cloudy skies will prevail elsewhere in the nation. Freezing and cold temperatures will dominate most of the country, except for somewhat milder readings along the Pacific and southern coast areas. Maximum temperature forecasts include: Atlanta 50; Boston 32; Chicago 24; Cleveland 24; Denver 30; Duluth 13; Ft. Worth 40; Jacksonville 60; Little Rock 38; Los Angeles 60; Miami 72; New York 34; Phoenix 65; San Francisco 53; Seattle 50; St. Louis 33 and Washington 35.

Morton Questions Khe Sanh Stand

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Sen. Thruston B. Morton questions the necessity of an American stand at Khe Sanh in northwest South Vietnam, where an expected Communist attack may ignite the biggest battle of the war.

Predicts Changes

Morton, often a spokesman for Senate Republicans critical of President Johnson's war policies, predicted in an interview there will be sharp challenges forthcoming in Congress to the strategy of inviting battle at an outpost difficult to supply.

"I think there is a lot of feeling around the country that we had no business getting into Khe Sanh, that we may be asking for it there," the Kentuckian said. "I don't see what advantage Khe Sanh is to us except for what effect it has on cutting off supply lines from the North to the South. There aren't any people around there to amount to anything," said Morton, adding:

"We ought to give up these search and destroy missions and concentrate on the business of protecting and securing the 80 per cent of the people who live in the more populous areas."

Morton said he thinks the initial U.S. public reaction to the Viet Cong attacks on South Vietnam cities will support President Johnson fighting an even tougher war.

"That's the natural reaction of Americans when they see our fighting men threatened," he said.

"But I think more and more senators are coming to feel that we ought to revise our strategy in Vietnam," said Morton.

"A lot of Democrats who feel that way are not going to say so because they don't want to attack their President in an election year. Some Republicans don't want to attack a President in the middle of a war even though they are uneasy about what's going on," he said.

Morton, a former GOP national chairman, said Republicans seem to be getting their best response by attacking the credibility of the Johnson administration in reporting war developments.

"Everywhere I go, people ask me 'what's really going on out there?'" he said. "Of course, I can't tell them because the administration doesn't tell senators any more than anybody else."

Other Developments

In other war-related developments:

—The Military Airlift Command, charged with ferrying men and supplies to Vietnam, will have increased help from many U.S. commercial airlines.

Among the lines reporting an increased commitment of planes are Pan American, United, Continental and Trans World.

—Officials in Washington said there doesn't appear to be a new flow of Viet Cong entering South Vietnam's population centers, where bloody raids occurred earlier this month. But the officials added there is still a manpower pool of Viet Cong that can be tapped in such major centers as Saigon and Hue.

Biafrans Plan, And Talk Peace

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The hard-pressed Biafrans are talking peace but making daring attempts to counterattack in the seven-month-old Nigerian civil war.

The Nigerian federal military regime claims it has beaten back Biafran efforts to regain Nsukka, a university town which fell to federal soldiers 10 days after the civil war erupted last July.

High federal officials also discount a Biafran bid for peace talks which brought British Commonwealth Secretary-General Arnold Smith to Lagos for intensive talks with the federal regime over the weekend.

Authoritative sources in the federal regime said Tuesday that before peace talks can begin, they must see more concrete signs that Biafra, the former eastern region of Nigeria, is willing to return to the federation.

In the talks with Smith, they said, there was no consideration of using Commonwealth or other foreign troops to guarantee security of the predominantly Ibo Biafrans during a ceasefire.

But there was some sentiment for using "observers" as "moral pressure on federal soldiers and to enable the Ibo psychology to change to permit a new frame of mind," they added.

About 8 million of Biafra's 13 million people are Ibo tribesmen and they claim the federals are waging a war of genocide against them.

Smith arrived in Lagos Friday with what sources said he considered strong evidence the Biafrans were ready to renounce secession and return to the Nigerian federation. The highest government circles, however, still consider the Biafran stand basically unchanged and unacceptable for peace talks.

Reinforced units started mortar shelling of the southwest corner of Nsukka Thursday, according to eyewitness reports arriving in Lagos.

The Biafrans claimed the capture of Nsukka Sunday. Red Cross workers in Nsukka have withdrawn to Makurdi, 100 miles to the north, and the situation remained confused today.

Reports said more Ibo inhabitants are being seen in the Nsukka area but most live in villages off the main roads and have dug deep elephant traps to discourage federal patrols.

Biafrans Plan, And Talk Peace

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The hard-pressed Biafrans are talking peace but making daring attempts to counterattack in the seven-month-old Nigerian civil war.

The Nigerian federal military regime claims it has beaten back Biafran efforts to regain Nsukka, a university town which fell to federal soldiers 10 days after the civil war erupted last July.

High federal officials also discount a Biafran bid for peace talks which brought British Commonwealth Secretary-General Arnold Smith to Lagos for intensive talks with the federal regime over the weekend.

Authoritative sources in the federal regime said Tuesday that before peace talks can begin, they must see more concrete signs that Biafra, the former eastern region of Nigeria, is willing to return to the federation.

In the talks with Smith, they said, there was no consideration of using Commonwealth or other foreign troops to guarantee security of the predominantly Ibo Biafrans during a ceasefire.

But there was some sentiment for using "observers," as "moral pressure on federal soldiers and to enable the Ibo psychologists to change to permit a new frame of mind," they added. About 8 million of Biafra's 13 million people are Ibo tribesmen and they claim the federals are waging a war of genocide against them.

Smith arrived in Lagos Friday with what sources said he considered strong evidence the Biafrans were ready to renounce secession and return to the Nigerian federation. The highest government circles, however, still consider the Biafran stand basically unchanged and unacceptable for peace talks.

Two days before Smith arrived, a small Biafran force launched attacks on the main supply artery south of Nsukka to Enugu, an area long held by the federals.

Reinforced units started mortar shelling of the southwest corner of Nsukka Thursday, according to eyewitness reports arriving in Lagos.

The Biafrans claimed the capture of Nsukka Sunday. Red Cross workers in Nsukka have withdrawn to Makurdi, 100 miles to the north, and the situation remained confused today. Reports said more Ibo inhabitants are being seen in the Nsukka area, but most live in villages off the main roads and have dug deep elephant traps to discourage federal patrols.
